Bride-Elect Is To Be Much Feted

Many Events to Be Crowded Into Week in Honor of Miss Wortman.

By Nona Lawler

IN THE wedding of Miss Helen Wortman and Lieutenant Allen Russell, planned for Saturday evening, interest is centered in the bride-elect, who returned home from Bryn Mawr but a little more than a week ago. It has not been possible for her host of Portland friends to entertain for her as much as they had wished. This week will be filled with affairs as a consequence. She and her house guest, Miss Margaret Kent, who came from her home in Pennsylvania to be maid of honor, went to Underwood, Wash., last week to visit on a ranch and enjoy a fishing trip to Lost creek.

Today Misses Lorraine V. Ona Guthrie entertained at luncheon for Miss Wortman and Miss Kent at the Waverly Country club. Tuesday Miss Katherine Hoyt will give a tea in their honor, and, for the latter part of the week, Miss Genevieve Thompson has planned a luncheon, as has also Mrs. Charles Edwin Sears.

Miss Thompson has but recently returned from the south, where she passed the winter months.

Mrs. Malpas Home Mrs. Frederic C. Malpas has returned home from a week's visit in Tacoma with her son-in-law and daughter, Captain and Mrs. Alexander Riddell (Ethel Malpas).

Mr. Christensen East Mose Christensen, prominent musician and dancing teacher, left last week for New York, where he spends his summers each year. He will attend the celebrated Mascagni ballet school and the normal school of the American National Association of Masters of Dancing.

Son, New Arrival Mr. and Mrs. Oliver M. Moore of 280 Park street, are being showered with messages of congratulations over the arrival of a son June 21.

Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. John Linegar was hostess at a kitchen shower for Miss Laura W. Brophy, a popular bride-elect. The house was decorated with roses and mock orange blossoms. The bride-elect was the center of the banquet wherein she found many useful gifts for her future home.

The afternoon was spent in playing 500, after which dainty refreshments were served and the evening given over to Mrs. Helen Banghart presiding. There was a large attendance and the principal address was given by Mrs. Millie R. Trumbull, who spoke on "Child Labor and the work of the industrial committee." The evening answered many questions from the interested listeners. Mrs. Charles H. Castner, president of the State Federation, also spoke briefly. Music was given by Misses Laura and Mrs. Stenick. The club will resume its meetings in September.

The June dancing party of the O-W-R. & N. Employees club will be held in the pavilion at Council Bluffs Tuesday evening, June 25. This open-air dancing pavilion is commodious and its capacities, it is expected, will be taxed to accommodate the railroad folk and their friends on the date announced. Dancing will begin promptly at 8:30 and the music will be up to the standard of the club. A large committee has been named to make all needed arrangements and to act as floor managers. The committee is composed of: George P. Koch, chairman; Edith Atinow, Mrs. Helena Cameron, Mrs. Theresa C. DePue, Audrae Gentry, Irene Harmon, Edna Hepp, Frances Howard, Florence Jones, Mrs. W. Kinard, Miss Amy Klum, O. M. Landry, Bertha L. Morris, Bessie Ritchie, Bertha Rowland, Ruth Smith, Clara Zaik, R. W. Birgfeld, M. H. Bottler, B. B. Currgan, L. W. Hobbs, Charles Hofeld, George L. Jones, J. J. Keenan, C. B. Knight, John Magers, E. F. Smith Jr., Roy S. Swint.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Wilson of 287 Oregon street was the scene of a very pretty military wedding Friday, June 14, when their daughter, Miss La Verna Luella Wilson, was married to Sergeant Joe Edgar Johnson of Lake City, Fla., now in the spruce division, stationed at Vancouver. Rev. Du Bois of the United Presbyterian church read the impressive ring service. The bride was attired in a lovely gown of soft crepe de chine and wore a tulle veil with orange blossoms forming a coronet. Her bouquet was of Bride roses. Mrs. Sylvan Williams, sister of the bride, attended Miss Wilson and wore a pretty gown of white and carried a shower bouquet of pink and white sweet peas. The best man, J. W. Bennett of Kentucky, is from the spruce division in Vancouver.

The house was decorated with roses and ferns. After congratulations, lunch was served. As most of the army weddings of the day are very informal, this was no exception, only a few intimate friends being present.

At the wedding, Mrs. Williams, formerly engaged in the lumber business in Lake City, Fla., and has a beautiful colonial home there, where he will take his bride when the spruce division has orders to leave Vancouver. In the meantime the young people will be at home to meet many friends in apartments in Vancouver.

LOCAL WAR WORK Comprehensive plans for caring and providing for American war nurses in France have been adopted by the American Red Cross, and word has just been received that headquarters showing that Major James H. Perkins, Red Cross commissioner to France, has initiated a reorganization of his staff of workers in accordance with them.

A bureau of hospital services, with Miss Ruth Morgan in charge, has been created by Major Perkins. It will concern itself only with nurses and nurses' aids who are attached to the American expeditionary force in France, or doing work among the French civilian population. The bureau will provide for nurses' holidays, their recreation, convalescent care, hotel and club accommodations, equipment, etc. The need of such organized work has been apparent for several months. The bureau has been granted a separate budget and has power to requisition supplies.

Miss Julia C. Stimson is the newly appointed chief nurse of the American Red Cross in France, being assigned to this position by the surgeon general of the American expeditionary force. She will be the Red Cross connection with the army nurse corps of the American forces abroad, and will be in charge of enrollment, assignment, and direction of Red Cross nurses. She will report directly to the bureau of nursing at nation headquarters.

Because of their easy accessibility to New York city and the consequent crowds of visitors to the soldiers, two hostess houses now building at embarkation camps near the city, are to be the largest yet authorized by the Y. W. C. A. Both houses nearly cover 200 foot plots and both are to be in X shape. The living room, dining room, rest room and kitchen occupy the four arms, all opening from the big 50 by 50 foot hall in the center. The living and dining rooms are 50 by 60 feet. Work on these houses is being rushed and it is expected that both will be ready for early occupancy.

Miss Lena Madison Phillips, secretary of the new business and professional women's department of the War Work council, was secretary and treasurer of Kentucky state war work fund during the recent financial campaign of the Y. W. C. A. in New York city, and she was graduated from the law school of the University of Kentucky and practiced law in Lexington. She was at one time financial manager of a large piano house.

Bed Time Tales

Jimmy Coon Does Laundry Work for Mr. Fox

NOW it sounds passing strange to say that Jimmy Coon does Laundry work for the Fox family. For you know Mr. Fox is an enemy of Jimmy Coon; for he is so much bigger than Jimmy that he tries his best to catch Jimmy for his Supper, Dinner, and Breakfast; and also for Lunch.

But, strange as it sounds, Jimmy Coon actually did Laundry for Mr. Fox. Now as this puzzles you, I will explain. Jimmy Coon had his lovely Laundry, on the bank of Mirror Pond, under the big Willow tree. And after Jimmy washed the clothes of the Little Folk, he spread their garments out to dry on the nice tender grass on the bank of the Pond.

It was a lovely sight to see Jimmy do his washing! Why, Jimmy would roll up his sleeves and set to work washing, as if he had the best Laundry in the world. My! how Jimmy would scrub and scrub those clothes; and he would put on lots of the famous Coon Elbow Grease.

Why, big and little Wood Folk came for miles around to see Jimmy Coon's nice Laundry. Jimmy would take suit of Mr. Fox's clothes, and scrub and rinse them in several waters; and then he would spread Mr. Fox's nice suit on the green grass on the bank to dry.

Then Jimmy would take Mr. Green Snake's suit; and he would wash and scrub that, until every bit of dirt was washed out. And after Mr. Green Snake's suit was washed, he would rinse that in several waters, and then spread that pretty suit on the grass to dry.

Then Jimmy would take Mr. Lizard's elegant suit; and he would wash that thoroughly, and rinse it in several waters; and then he would spread Mr. Lizard's lovely suit on the green grass to dry. It was a beautiful sight to see Jimmy's wash out! Why, little people came for miles around just to watch Jimmy Coon doing his washing. It was expeditionary force in France, or doing work among the French civilian population. The bureau will provide for nurses' holidays, their recreation, convalescent care, hotel and club accommodations, equipment, etc. The need of such organized work has been apparent for several months. Then Jimmy would take Mr. Green Snake's suit; and he would wash and scrub that.

a wonderful sight to see those lovely colored suits of the little People at the Woodland spread out on the green grass to dry!

Jimmy Coon also did Laundry work for Mr. Fox. The Fox family are famous dressers; and they wear lots of clothes. And Mr. Fox came very often to visit Jimmy Coon's Laundry. And Mr. Fox did business with Jimmy Coon at his nice Laundry.

Now do you think Mr. Fox would stand still and let Jimmy Coon wash him in his nice Laundry? And do you believe Mr. Fox would allow Jimmy Coon to scrub his lovely red suit with Coon Elbow Grease, and wash and rinse his lovely suit in Jimmy's fine Laundry? How could Jimmy Coon do washing for Mr. Fox in his Laundry, under the big Willow tree on the bank of Mirror Pond?

Tomorrow—Mr. Fox Comes to Jimmy Coon's Laundry.

Miss Hazel MacKaye, sister of Percy

MacKaye, the artist and dramatist, has been appointed by the War Work council, director of pageantry and dramatics. It will be Miss MacKaye's work to advise associations and girls' clubs throughout the country on plays and community productions.

Miss MacKaye has had eight years of experience in community dramatics. She wrote and produced "Portals of Light," the jubilee pageant which celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of the Y. W. C. A. in New York city, and she brought out the Vassar pageant for the fiftieth anniversary of the college. Four suffrage pageants also are hers, including the memorable "Aletory," given on the steps of the United States treasury, at Washington, D. C. in "Chilban," the Shakespeare masque given in New York city and a year later in Harvard Stadium, she was community director.

Equal pay for equal work by women filling the places of men in war industries is announced as the policy of the army ordnance department.

This is in line with the national labor program formulated by the national war labor board, composed of five representatives of employers, five representatives of employees, and William Howard Taft, and Frank P. Walsh, formerly chairman of the industrial relations commission, as representatives of the public.

School of Art Awards Prizes

Miss Marion Butterworth Wins Honorary Scholarship; Wylock Fong Given First Prize.

PRIZES and scholarships have been awarded by the Art School of the Portland Art Association for 1917-1918, as follows:

Honorary scholarship—Marion Butterworth. First prize of $25, for life drawing—Wylock Fong. Second prize of $15, for life drawing—Leita Kennedy.

Third prize of $10, for life drawing—Marie Louise Feldenhelm.

The Art school committee recognizes the need in the United States of trained artists and craftsmen, therefore, while not desiring to make the liberal award of this year a precedent for future action, they awarded a scholarship to each of the competing students whose work reached the Art Museum in time for action by the Judges. The following is the list of students receiving the scholarships in Lincoln high school, Emma Calder; Jefferson high school, L. Pernot and Bonnie De Vaul; Washington high school, Opal Doris, Dorothy Moser and Frances Ashla.

drill presses, the making and marking of fuses, the loading of shells, the gauging machinery and shells, the assembling of artillery, to inspection, to drafting, electrical and carpentry work. It has been found, according to manufacturers, that women are proving more accurate than men in the timing of fuses, and in inspection where particularly keen eyesight is required. They are proving better than men in assembling, because of the nimbleness of their fingers.

Steps will be taken to enforce the policy of equal pay for equal work by women. Studies are being made by the industrial service section of the army ordnance department, in district plants, of conditions under which women are employed. Suggestions as to employment, management and health conditions are being sent to manufacturers.

Art Museum Is Rearranged For Summer

THE galleries of the Art Museum have been rebung for the summer, the more modern paintings with brilliant color being placed in the smaller gallery and the paintings of the older schools in the large gallery together with some of the fine old pieces of furniture lent to the association by A. Berg.

The regular hours of the museum are week days, 9 to 5 o'clock; Sunday, 2 to 5; free the afternoons of Sunday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. During the months of July and August, the galleries will be closed on Sundays, on account of the general difficulties of service at this time.

Miss Helen Putnam, instructor in design and the crafts in the art school is now in New York, where she is taking the special course, under the approval of the surgeon general of the United States army, for training reconstruction aides in occupational therapy in military hospitals. A class for training aides in the handicrafts approved by the surgeon general's office will be added to the other general courses of the art school this fall.
