JAIL TERM WITH NO CHANCE FOR FINE IS PROPOSED LAW'S AIM

Council Will Gather More Information Before Acting on Jitney Complaint.

Joy riders convicted of the theft of automobiles will serve terms in the county jail, ranging from 30 days to six months, and they will not be let off with a fine, according to the amendment to a city ordinance passed by the city council today at the request of Commissioner Bigelow. Commissioner Bigelow added that it would be a good thing if the offenders were shackled with ball and chain and compelled to work on the streets during their period of incarceration.

Commissioner Kellaher injected a bit of humor into the discussion by the suggestion that "emergency theater" should be permitted, that is, he would make an exception in case an automobile was "commandeered for the purpose of making a dash to a fire."

More Time Off for Police. Policemen will have one day off, in seven from now on, instead of two days each month as formerly. The amended ordinance was passed.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the city attorney to make application to the federal capital issues committee for permission to sell city water bonds to the amount of $75,000.

Complaints which had been made against the operators of hire cars on the Portland-Vancouver run, were answered before the council by C. S. King, one of the drivers. The soldiers quar-tered at Vancouver had claimed that the passenger rates had been advanced to 50 cents after 10:30 p. m., whereas the former night time limit for the 25 cent fare was 12 o'clock. In case the present ordinance is passed, the buses do not deliver them to the barracks.

King said that so far as he knows the soldiers are taken direct to their barracks and that all efforts were being made to reach land. The name of the victim or her exact position were not revealed, nor was the fact whether she was being shelled or had been torpedoed.
