

UNVEIL MONUMENT TO HONOR HEROES OF KLICKITAT CO.

Replica of Altar Stone of Stonehenge, of Salisbury Plains, Dedicated to Boys.

ERECTED ON SAM'L HILL FARM

Stirring Exercises at Maryhill, Wash., Attended by Many People From Northwest.

Maryhill, Wash., July 4.—The people of Klickitat county observed the national holiday by dedicating a memorial to the soldiers and sailors of the county who have given their lives in the struggle against Hun barbarism.

The names of those thus honored were: Dewey V. Bromley, John W. Chesler, James B. Duncan, Robert F. Graham, Carl A. Lester and Robert F. Venable.

The memorial, which has been erected on the farm of Samuel Hill on a point overlooking the Columbia river, consists of a large altar stone copied after the one found among the curious stones of Stonehenge on the plains of Salisbury, England.

According to tradition this altar stone was used for the sacrifice of victims to the heathen god of war, sometimes captives, sometimes exhortatory offerings of home warriors.

The central thought, as explained by Mr. Hill who designed the memorial, being that the nature of humanity never changes and that though many centuries have passed since the days of Stonehenge the world is still making its sacrifices to the god of war.

On the altar stone was affixed a brass plate with this inscription: Has Six Names "In memory of the soldiers and sailors of Klickitat county who gave their lives in defense of their country. This monument is erected in the hope that others inspired by the example of their valor and their heroism may share in that love of liberty and burn with that fire of patriotism which death alone can quench.

KLICKITAT COUNTY UNVEILS MEMORIAL

IN MEMORY OF THE SOLDIERS AND SAILORS OF KLICKITAT COUNTY WHO GAVE THEIR LIVES IN DEFENSE OF THEIR COUNTRY THIS MONUMENT IS ERECTED IN THE HOPE THAT OTHERS INSPIRED BY THE EXAMPLE OF THEIR VALOR AND THEIR HEROISM MAY SHARE IN THAT LOVE OF LIBERTY AND BURN WITH THAT FIRE OF PATRIOTISM WHICH DEATH ALONE CAN QUENCH

Besides bearing the names of the six who have already lost their lives in the war, space has been left on the memorial for the addition of other names as they fall.

The dedicatory ceremony lasted two hours, from 1:30 to 3:30 o'clock, and was in charge of the following committee: C. F. Camplan, Mrs. H. W. Donner, Robert F. Graham, Carl A. Lester and Robert F. Venable.

In addition to residents from all parts of Klickitat county there were a score of prominent people from Seattle and Portland as guests of Samuel Hill.

The ceremony was opened by an invocation by R. H. Thomson of Seattle. The principal dedicatory address was by Nelson B. Brooks of Goldendale, chairman of the Klickitat county war council. Professor Edmond S. Meany of the University of Washington made the response of acceptance in behalf of the Washington University State Historical society.

The part sailors play in the war was covered in an address by Frank Terrace of Orilla, Wash., and the response on behalf of the soldiers was by Colonel David M. Dunne of Portland.

First Memorial Dedicated Incidental to the exercises was a basket picnic on the grounds. Following out the Stonehenge model the spot on which the altar stone was erected faces the sunrise at the summer solstice. The location was made by Professor W. W. Campbell of Lick observatory who was in charge of the party which observed the recent eclipse of the sun at Goldendale.

The erection and carrying out of the purposes of the memorial was the work of the following committee: Samuel Hill, E. N. Hill, W. G. Collins, J. C. Potter and Charles H. Babcock.

This is the first memorial to be erected in the Northwest to commemorate the services of American soldiers and sailors in the present war and so far as known the first in the United States.

INGENIOUS BOOZE SWINDLE NIPPED

Two Women Cause Arrest of Harry Baker; Colored Water in Guise of Whiskey.

A clever bunco scheme was brought to the surface yesterday when Harry Baker, who had apartments in upper Washington street, was arrested and held for investigation. The queer part of the case is that no legal charge seems to be available on which the man can be tried. He is accused of almost violating the prohibition ordinance and almost securing money under false pretenses, by selling "Old Crow" water in quart whiskey bottles for large sums. An attractive label was on each bottle. It bore the words "Old Crow" in large, attractive type on a white background, with "Aged in the Woods" printed below in a bright red background. Below this, in a gold frame, are the words "Eight Years," to lead the prospective buyer to believe that he was getting some ideal old whiskey. But in small neat type, at the very bottom of the label the following statement is made: "This bottle contains 99 per cent water and 1 per cent artificial coloring."

The contents truly contained no alcohol, but it is said that many citizens of Portland and Seattle have been "stung" by the neat swindle.

The capture of Baker was brought about when two young women, whom he is said to have brought to Portland from Seattle to help him sell the goods, found themselves stranded in a strange city with no money and since they were unable to secure a little money from Baker, they decided to ask for assistance from the Portland police.

The police are now looking for Owen Baker, brother of Harry.
