

MEXICAN EDITORS FORGET RESTRAINT AT DINNER PARTY

Lid of Conventionalities Lifted at Crown Point Affair, Following Trip Over Columbia Highway.

SENOR CARPIO ENTERTAINS

Proves Ability as Singer and Dancer as Well as Speaker; Good Will of U. S. Pledged.

Off went the lid of conventionalities at Crown Point Wednesday night. Out bubbled the true spirit and soul of the Mexican people, the bubbles joined with other bubbles, singularly similar, representing the soul and spirit of the United States.

After seeing the Columbia river highway, the Mexicans, accompanied by 20, or more Portlanders, representing the Chamber of Commerce, the local press, dined at the Chalet.

The ice was broken after the cigars had topped off a five-course dinner. Word was passed around that Manuel Carpio, editor of La Voz de la Revolucion de Yucatan, could sing as well as he could make a speech.

Senior Carpio is Entertainer. Senior Carpio's magnificent tenor voice broke the spell of restraint that had hung over the party.

Senior Carpio was not the only singer in the Mexican delegation. They were all singers. Their spirit had been fired by the magnificent scenery of the highway and their enthusiasm found natural outlet in their Spanish songs, something new to the local men, which had a dash and feeling that the other songs, although the Spanish words were too much for the Portlanders.

But music was not sufficient. Some one whispered that Senior Carpio could also dance. Mayor Baker and Charley Berg ushered him to the center of the floor and Carpio delivered a Spanish dance so excellent that the absence of a gaudy costume was forgotten.

MEXICANS ARE REASSURED

"Three cheers for the 'Charley Berg of Mexico,'" cried the mayor, and late tourists at the Vista House far below knew that the party in the chalet was all having a good time.

MRS. WAITE SAYS SHE THINKS IT IS WONDERFUL

Was Nearly Helpless With Rheumatism—Tanlac Brings Relief.

"Since Tanlac has done so much for me I must think it is a wonderful medicine," said Mrs. Ellen Waite, who resides at 1409 Powers street, St. Johns district, recently.

"I have always enjoyed the best of health until two years ago," explained Mrs. Waite, "when some how or other I contracted a very bad case of rheumatism, which seemed to affect me all over. One day I would feel a little better but the next day I would suffer even worse than ever, and during the past year I got to where I was almost helpless. I had one or two attacks of lumbago and when those awful pains struck me in my back, and as long as they lasted, I could hardly move myself. I never knew what it was to get a night's rest on account of my misery and would just roll from one side of the bed to the other trying to find a comfortable position. At last I was told of Tanlac and I was almost blinded but got only a little temporary relief. I lost my appetite, was tired all the time and felt that the system was clogged up. As I just had to drag myself around, I would get up in the mornings feeling even more tired than when I retired at night."

"I had just about decided to go to St. Martin Springs for treatment, as the water and baths there are so highly recommended for rheumatism, but when I read in the papers about Tanlac being so good I decided to first give it a trial. Well, it certainly seems remarkable, but by the time I finished the second bottle every sign of the rheumatism was gone and I was feeling just as well as I ever felt in my life. I never have an ache or a pain now and I sleep just fine. And as to my walking, why, I'm simply merry all the time and have never eaten so much before. I am going to take two more bottles of Tanlac to make sure the work is well done and I have already told several of my friends what it has done for me."

Rheumatism is not only one of the most prevalent but also one of the most painful and difficult to treat of all present day diseases. When the digestive organs and bowels are not working properly and the system is clogged up, the whole system becomes deranged and saturated with uric acid poisons and other impurities, which accumulate in the joints and produce the condition known as rheumatism.

Tanlac is a powerful reconstructive tonic and quickly overcomes this condition by acting directly on the vital organs, toning them up and enabling them to perform their proper functions, so that the impurities are soon eliminated from the system in the form of Urine and external applications, as a general thing afford only temporary relief. Tanlac is a constitutional treatment and gets right at the root of the trouble by removing the cause.

Tanlac is sold in Portland at the Crown Point Hotel.

significance to this one that the others did not have. The Mexican editors were on the last lap of a comprehensive tour of a neighboring nation at war. Overshadowing the works of peace, they had seen tremendous works of war. They came from a sister republic that has harbored suspicion regarding its powerful northern neighbor. But the Mexican editors have found, along with the war work, a motive that has reassured them. They have learned that the United States in fighting Germany is fighting for all the Americas as well as for herself.

Good Will Is Expressed. Because they had that assurance, the editors cast off all restraint last night. Portland was accorded the honor of seeing through to deepest hearts of the moulders of Mexican public opinion.

Expressions of friendship by speakers at the dinner left nothing to be desired. The Mexicans, speaking in both Spanish and English, pledged the friendship of Mexico, and Portland men assured the Mexicans of the motives of the United States. Proving the effectiveness of their instruction in the Americanism of the United States and convinced of the future of the relations of Mexico and the United States, the Mexican editors reviewed their trip about the country and expressed their hearty good will to Portland and Oregon at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon Wednesday. More than 200 business men and a few women filled the chamber and a few women heard the masterly address of Manuel Carpio, whose paper, La Voz de la Revolucion, published in Yucatan, is a staunch statesman of the Americanism and progress for Mexico.

Mexico's Experience Bitter. Yucatan has made many radical changes in her government and social life since the overthrow of Porfirio Diaz for more than 30 years ago. An autocratic dictator. The state has even gone ahead, in some respects, of the most progressive governments in the United States, and its departures have been heralded to the world as progress. Speaking in perfect English, Senior Carpio Wednesday said:

"Mexico's experience has been very bitter. We have been fighting out our lives for the past 30 years. We have been hidden from us through beautiful but perilous appearances of what the world really is. Our history is full of lies and so has been our life. We had no man to tell us since the beginning of our lives that the best thing for a man in the world is to get to work and gain his own way through all kinds of difficulty and trouble."

"We are not going to boast. President Carranza has been having trouble behind him and it seems difficult to understand. But the national feeling in Mexico is the feeling of concentrating on one idea—the idea of the welfare of the masses. The masses have not dared meddle in international politics."

High Praise for President. "Gentlemen, we are going back to our country deep with gratitude for this president of yours, Woodrow Wilson, who is pure and strong minded, fighting for the most noble and just cause, a high position the true ideals of America. He gave us a message which does not ring with the epic sound of power. He does not want to impress us with the idea that we are to come walking silently and in a manner of humility to worship you. He did not say to us to accept of his canon and the other destroyers and millions and billions in munitions. He said to come and hear the laugh of the happy American. Come and listen to the noise that is made by the people of this country."

"He said to us: 'Say to Mexico that our intentions are pure; that if we have not done the right thing in trying to help you, we had that idea.'"

Mexico Now Organizing. "The moment President Carranza would lessen the efforts of our people, our institutions that have been transformed, after seven years of strife, into some shape of national organization. That is the work Mexico is doing now. We are organizing ourselves. We are helping the children of the poor. We are making the poor understand that laziness is not the thing; that the school that makes you king before an employer and says to the worker, 'These every day is not the thing that is going to give you the ability to consider yourself a man or a woman.'"

Details of Tour Are Told. Lieutenant O'Reilly, U. S. N. R. F., told of the tour the party has made under his direction. The navy officer went into Mexico to meet the writers and has escorted them to the chief industrial centers of the United States. He declared that his instructions from the government outlined as primary objectives the settlement of Mexico's internal problems and her good-will.

Speaking of "Mexican Relations," William D. Wheelwright said to the editors:

"This visit ministers to a better understanding between the two countries, and that of itself is a basis for eternal friendship. Surely these gentlemen have learned that this country has no designs on Mexico. Such a thought is incredible. She will work out her own destiny in her own way. What the United States did for Cuba, Mexico is doing for her."

"I suggest the United States might aid in the form of a national loan to help Mexico, impoverished, to regain her feet. We are approaching a new era in the history of the world when all nations will be bound in friendship in a general brotherhood of man."

Prohibition Party Convention Called

District and county conventions of the Prohibition party have been called by the secretary, Adah Wallace Urnuth, to meet on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in room "A," of the Central Library. The convention will review the state and national legislative tickets for the general election with a view to endorsing candidates.

Mrs. Urnuth has called attention to the importance of the meeting from a party standpoint and urges members to attend.

Bonfires Barred Within City Limits

Bonfires within the city limits are forbidden by an order issued by Fire Marshal Greenleaf. The police have been asked to enforce this order. Several bad brush and grass fires have been started in the residence districts recently by parties who were celebrating the Fourth of July. The fire department prompted the chief to take every possible precaution. The chief stated that every offender of this order would be arrested as soon as the matter was reported to his office.

French Officials To Visit Portland

Maurice Casenave, financial adviser to the French high commission in the United States, and Lieutenant Verrier of the French army are due in Portland Friday morning, say advices received by the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday. The chamber is planning a luncheon in honor of the visitors. It is considered probable that the visit is occasioned by the construction at the Portland Foundation plant of ships for the French government. Business men point to the report that new business was coming to the plant as responsible for the visit of the Frenchmen.

PORTLAND WILL GIVE SEND-OFF DINNER TO DRAFT MEN SUNDAY

Banquet Will be Served in Evening at Auditorium by Caterers of City.

The fourth farewell entertainment given by Portland to her selective service men will be held Sunday evening at the Auditorium for 450 inductees who leave at that time for Fort McDowell, as announced by Mayor Baker.

A banquet, music, speeches and a parade are the features of the "send-off" which are being planned. The dinner will be served at 6:30 in the banquet hall of the Auditorium and will be in charge of Mrs. R. D. Inman, chairman of a committee appointed by Mayor Baker, comprising Mrs. C. B. Simmons, Mrs. Sol Blumauer, A. G. Clark, H. W. Kent, Charles Berg and Julius Meier.

Mayor Baker will preside at the dinner and Frank Branch Riley will be the chief speaker. Food for the dinner will be donated by dealers of the city, and prepared by members of the Caterers' association.

As in the last "send-off" relatives and friends of the boys will be admitted to the banquet at the Auditorium during the dinner. Professor Goodrich will play the pipe organ during the dinner. The park bureau will attend to the decorations.

The Aloha Girls, a new organization under the direction of Miss Beth Ludlum, will assist in the farewell exercises. Following the dinner the band, headed by a platoon of police and a band, will march to the station for entrainment.

Solicitor for W. S. S. Attacked by Enemy

Salem, Or., July 4.—As the result of an encounter between E. Todd and S. S. Howard, when Todd went to solicit Howard to buy War Savings Stamps, a warrant has been issued by Justice of the Peace Webster for the arrest of Howard on an assault and battery charge.

It appears that the two have not been on friendly terms for some time, and when Todd went to Howard's place near Sidney a fight ensued in which Howard beat Todd with a chair, according to Todd's report of the affair.

HUN MUST BE WIPED OUT OF CONTROL OF THE CENTRAL EMPIRES

Dr. H. Hinkovic, Hungarian, Tells Ad Club Imperial Dynasties Must Be Crushed.

Dr. H. Hinkovic, under sentence of death in Austria, accused of complicity in the murder of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, his property confiscated by the government, a member of the Hungarian parliament and an outstanding figure in the movement for the unification of the southern Slavs in Austria-Hungary, Serbia and Montenegro, was the speaker of the day before the Portland Ad club at its meeting in the Benson hotel Wednesday afternoon. He was introduced by Frank Hilton, secretary of the club.

"Will the war be won when our American boys have swept across Germany and planted the Stars and Stripes over the Kaiser's palace in Berlin?" asked Dr. Hinkovic.

"No," he answered his own question. "There must follow the dismemberment of Austria and such measures as will prevent Germany ever again appearing as a military power. We look forward to the day when all the Slavs, speaking one tongue and actuated by common aspirations will be united in one nation. It gave us joy when we read the recent message of your president saying that he is in sympathy with the desires of the Slavs. We are fighting against the Hapsburgs and the Hohenzollerns, and against the power that crushes and brutalizes all whom it controls."

The club decided not to limit its active membership to those actively in the advertising business, but to admit to membership women who are advertising writers and agents and not to change the name to Portland Advertising club. These changes were proposed in a minority report of the committee on revision of the constitution and bylaws. The majority report offered by David N. Mossoshoff, chairman of the committee, was adopted. Miss Eunice May of Pantagon sang. President Frank McCullis of the club was given three cheers in tribute to his leadership as city manager of the War Savings Stamp drive. A large delegation of the club will leave this week for San Francisco, where the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World will be held.
