Benton county has been asked to raise $500 for the French and Belgium baby relief fund during the present year as its share in the $50,000 state assessment, $25,000 of which will be raised by Multnomah county. This is a new branch of special effort put forth all over the United States by the National Council of Defense for the purpose of sustaining life and furthering the education of the French and Belgium children who are not properly fed, clothed and otherwise cared for. The parents of many of these children have either been killed or made destitute by the German forces. Many of the fathers are still fighting in the trenches, and cannot properly care for their families who have been driven back from their homes.

Kanning Kitchen Has Busy Day

More Than 900 Quarts of Fruit Bottled Monday, Bringing Total for the Season to 7000.

More than 900 quarts of fruit were canned Monday at Uncle Sam's Kanning Kitchen, which is operated in the Sargent hotel, corner Hawthorne and Grand avenues, by the National League for Women's Service, thus bringing the total to more than 7000 quarts. Monday was by far the biggest day the kitchen has ever had, 430 boxes of fruit being brought in during the day and 115 boxes having been brought in Saturday, which was also canned Monday.

The S. O. S. call was sent out to several meetings of women being held throughout the city in the afternoon and as a result the kitchen was overwhelmed by offers of volunteer help, more than 100 having to be sent away, not because of lack of work, but because of lack of transportation. R. H. Sawyer was lieutenant for the day, going on duty at 9 a. m. and remaining until 10 p. m. Mrs. Bruce and Miss Bodkin were captains. Other leaders in the work were Mrs. Zimmerman, Mrs. A. N. Nibble, Mrs. E. J. Leighy and Mrs. J. C. Costello.

The kitchen is operated by the following efficient organization: Manager, Miss Ruth Guppy; secretaries, Mrs. Elizabeth Tomlinson, Mrs. William Winslow and Miss Amy Rothchild; chairman of sergeants, which includes all club women, Mrs. Antone Gieblisch; lieutenant in charge of motorcade, Miss Edna Groves; chairman of women in charge of moving of jam and jelly, Mrs. Lee Davenport; chairman of captains, including home economics teachers, Mrs. Edna Groves; assistant chairman, Mrs. Bay Peterson; Miss Lillian Tingle, Miss A. B. Milam; chairman of pickers, Mrs. Lee Davenport; chairman of motor squad, Miss Bertha Masters.

City Districted For Salvage Bureau

Problem of Collection of Materials to Be Solved by Children; Rules Are Made.

The entire city has been systematically districted for the collection of all sorts of articles to be salvaged for the benefit of the Red Cross. Mrs. Josephine R. Sharp is manager of the northeast district and she is urging in her work the greatest conservation of human energy, time and gasoline and in this connection says:

- 1. Object is to get the salvage from the homes to the salvage bureau at Third and Oak streets with least possible expenditure of time and money. To send men and women with machines to collect from house to house is a tremendous waste of human energy, of gasoline and valuable vehicles. The machinery necessary to move the salvage is at hand and can be used for the suggestion. It consists largely of the children. They will, with little encouragement from their elders, be glad to both collect and deliver the salvage. We have already tried this plan in the northeast district with various satisfactory results. Four school districts comprise this district, Woodlawn, Highland, Vernon and Kennedy. The following rules for children collectors have been compiled: 1. Reliability: The child must give recommendations from at least two women as to honesty, energy and promptness. 2. Cleanliness: Child must be clean and neat in appearance. 3. Age and ability: Child must be not less than 10 years of age, healthy and strong. 4. Equipment: Child must have wagon or wheelbarrow. 5. Demeanor: Child must be polite and business like in his behavior and can take one companion only without special permit from the lieutenant in charge of the street. 6. Condition of salvage: Child must see that papers and magazines are folded and securely tied, bottles and cans packed in boxes before taking them to the station. 7. Records: Names and addresses of donations and dates of collections must be kept. 8. Credits will be given on compliance with above rules.

The Lents W. C. T. U. met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. M. Schuerman, 6017 Eighty-ninth street southeast. An interesting discussion was held on the patriotic work being done by the state and national unions. Special attention was called to the W. C. T. U. patriotic home, which is situated near the cantonment at Camp Lewis, Wash. Those who will receive care in this home are soldiers' wives who are soon to become mothers, and who have to depend upon the scant allowance from the husbands' salaries, supplemented by the government allotment of $15. For similar reasons, the month the home will afford them room, board and sympathetic, Christian care and surroundings.

All Irvington people are asked to meet Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at the Irvington clubhouse to consider a general cleanup of the clubhouse in the preparation of sphagnum moss for making surgical dressings. There is need that there be a great increase in the output of the state and national unions. Discussed for doubling the corps of workers and of putting on a force to work at night as well as during the day. This is work that men, women and children can do and a large attendance is urged for Wednesday night.

Bed Time Tales

By Clara Ingram Judson
Jimmy Coon Feels an Eagle
I THINK I can hear my readers saying that neither Jimmy Coon, nor any other Coon, could fool such a big bird as an Eagle. But please let me explain. It was this way: Of course you know that the Fish-Hawk is a splendid fisherman. Why, he is one of the most successful fishermen in the world. He could beat your father fishing—and probably your father has caught some awful big fish in his life.

But Mr. Fish-Hawk can go him one better, when it comes to the number and size of the fish actually caught. Of course, I don't include men's stories about catching big fish! Well, one day in June, when the sky was as blue as a sapphire and the white, fleecy clouds were reflected in the looking glass of Mirror Pond, Jimmy Coon was hiding in a clump of wild roses on the bank. And the lovely pink roses saw the blazes of their pretty cheeks in the water mirror.

And Jimmy Coon saw a shadow circling over the waters of Mirror Pond. It was the shadow of that great fisherman, Mr. Fish-Hawk. You know that Mr. Fish-Hawk has remarkable eyes, like a telescope, so that he can soar on fleet wings in the sky, and look down upon the great pond and see the big fish under water. And when Mr. Fish-Hawk sees a big fish swim up near the surface of the water, then Mr. Fish-Hawk swoops down with a speed of a submarine.

Pathos Put Into War Scene By Doll
Simple Love of Little French Girl Impressed Griffith Most.
D. W. GRIFFITH'S most characteristic quality of mind and spirit discloses itself not only in his film achievements, the themes of which are always like Shakespeare's reducible to the terms of a simple epigram or a single word. A typical expression of that big quality is found in a recent statement made by Griffith concerning the production of "Hearts of the World," which is coming Monday to the Heilig, and its fabrication in the fields of battle-scarred Flanders and the studios of Los Angeles. He was asked of his return from France what particular phase of the world war had made the greatest impression upon him.

OAKS MUSEUM PARK
CHAT NO. 54
Roses are red and violets are blue;
The Oaks has a flower for each of you.

Thought we were going to say sugar, didn't you? Merely broke into print with verse so we could lead up to the subject of flowers. Are you among those individuals who spend their days looking for the good things of life with their heads held so high that they can't see that they are trampling them under feet? The question is old, but calls to mind that many patrons of the park hurry through it, pleasure-bound, without noting its immense collection of rare blooms.

If you made a tour of the park with Gardener Lowitz, who has mothered the shrubbery and flowers for eight years, summer and winter, you would learn that there are more than 20,000 different varieties of plants in the 18 acres. Some of them have unpronounceable names, but are just as sweet if referred to merely as flowers.
