Pictures of Boys "Over There Are Great

Crowded House Witnesses First Screening of Official War Pictures at Heilig.

PACKED house of patriotic Amer-A icans whose cheers for the best of America's manhood, which is "over there" fighting to preserve the freedom of the world, greeted the first screening Pershing's Crusaders Monday night n the Heilig theatre. Many were turned away long before the scheduled starting time. The film, which shows how the money loaned to the government through the purchase of War Savings Stamps and Liberty bonds is being expended will be shown all week, the last performance being scheduled for Sunday night

The pictures are the first official American war pictures, and are being shown for the United States government under the supervision of the committee on public information. They were taken by the photographers of the United States signal corps and navy.

Details of important happenings since April 6, 1917, when President Wilson appeared before congress and said: "The day has come when America is privileged to spend her blood and her might for the principles that gave her birth and happiness and the peace which she has treasured. God helping her, she can do no other," are shown on the screen and there is no end to the interesting

The first half of the picture is devoted to what is going on in this country toward winning the war. The making of clothing for the soldiers, the building of ships that will complete the bridge across the Atlantic, the harvesting of the wheat, which is made into bread for the boys in khaki, the drawing of the first draft numbers, which was one of the most dramatic incidents in connection with America's entrance in the world war, the arrival of the first contingent of draftees at one of the huge cantonments, which sprang up over night in all parts of the country, the finished soldier, the "barrage queens," the navy and many other interesting scenes are

General Pershing's arrival in France, the greeting extended him by the commanders of the allied armies and the thrill loyal Americans. The reception tendered the first of "our boys" who set foot on French soil, and many things in connection with their activities and training from the time they landed until they reached the front line trenches are pictured. The visit of Secretary of War Baker to France and his inspection of the troops and the guns is shown.

No war picture shown here has been so complete. It gives the story of the life of the boys from beginning to end. The money derived from the showing of this film, which every patriotic citizen in

Yesterday the Lyric theatre cleaned up with "The Odassa." equal to perform-ances often offered by companies that ask three times the admission charged at the popular Fourth street theatre. Principals and chorus in the Lyric's musical comedy for the week appeared in fresh new costumes and the Rosebuds might have gone to school at an Egyptian dancing academy whence old judgment passed on their wriggly entrances

The Hebrew delineator, Al Franks, impersonated the Odassa, an Egyptian spiritualist, until the genuine article arrived, and about that time it appeared that Franks was having so much the best of everybody else that all the company procured Odassa suits and beards and thereby added to the mixup. The musical comedy was full of laughs from curtain

Blue Overalls Serve Bride for Wedding Frocks

Vancouver, Wash., July 23.—Clad in neat, blue and white striped coveralls, and hatless, Mrs. Charlotte Mathilda Pugh Monday became the bride of Albert William Richardson, who wore instead of "the conventional black" a suit of khaki coveralls. The two had started on a camping trip from Winnemucca, Nev., and intended to be married just across the state line in Oregon. When they made application for a license there they learned that they must have been residents of the state for six months before a license could be issued. So they motored on to Washington and were met here with the information that they must have a witness who was acquainted with

In less than half an hour they were back at the auditor's office, accompanied by a soldier with whom both nad been well acquainted in their home town.

Today's Aid to Beauty

ment. If we are very careful in hair washing, we will have virtually no hair troubles. An especially fine shampoo for this weather, one that brings out all the natural beauty of the halr; that dissolves and entirely removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt; can easily be used at trifling expense by simply dissolving teaspoonful of Canthrox (which you can get at any druggist's) in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid-enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. This chemically dissolves all impurities and creates a soothing, cooling lather. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on the glossy richness of natural color, also a fluffiness it is. After Canthrox shampoo, arranging the hair is a pleasure.
