Right Now It Is Hard to Tell Whether There Will Be Any Teams of Class at Colleges This Fall; Four Local High Schools Will Be Missing Coaches.

THE great inroads that are being made on the student bodies of the colleges of the Northwest by the voluntary enlistment of a great number of students and by the workings of the draft are going to hamper the coaches in developing their football squads this coming season.

By the time the fall semester opens, it is safe to say that only a few of the regulars of last season will answer the first call. Captain-elect Dick Hanley of the Washington State college team, Captain-elect Carl Lodell of the Oregon Aggies and Bill Steers, the cogwheel in Oregon's football machine last fall, have enlisted in the marines, and many others have joined the service.

The task that will confront the coaches is going to be a hard one. Practically every mentor will be forced to build anew his football machine and judging from the small number of men who will be in the student bodies it is going to be a tough job

May Lose Their Coaches Two colleges - Washington State and the Oregon Agricultural college -may be without the services of their coaches of last season. "Lonestar" Dietz, who has won fame at the Washington State college, it is said, will not return to Pullman and the report that Coach Pipal will not be back at O. A. C. is a matter that Journal readers have long known. The University of Washington may lose Coach Hunt, who may accept a position as athletic director of the

Y. M. C. A. at Camp Lewis. The failure of organized baseball on the Pacific coast was due to the lack of patronage and it may be that football will suffer the same fate.

Will Have New Coaches Four members of the Portland Interscholastic league - Franklin, Columbia, Benson and Jeffersonwill have new football coaches next fall, but at the present time nothing has been done toward securing men to replace those who have left. Coach Dewey, who piloted Franklin to the league championship last fall, may be located with the Lincoln high school in Seattle. "Tick" Malarkey, coach of the Columbia team, and Bob Earl of the Lincoln team are both in service. Doc Wells at Benson is in Y. M. C. A. service at Se-

Would Change Date

Coach Schreiber, coach of the University of Montana football team, is seeking a change in the date of the game scheduled with the University of Idaho. The game is billed to be played October 12 and Schreiber wants to play it November 2.

Professional football, which has been successful in the Middle West in the past several seasons, is doomed. Jim Thorpe, the famous Carlisle football player, will not have his accustomed team at Canton, Ohio, this fall and it is doubtful whether any other teams will be organized.

Denny Williams Is Going to Cornfoot

Manager Pearl Casey of the Cornfoot team has signed outfielder Denny Williams of the Supple & Ballin team, which dropped out of the Columbia-Willamette league Sunday. Williams is regarded as one of the best outfielders in the league and his all round ability is going to be a big aid to the Cornfoot team, which has been woefully weak in the outfield since the leaving of John Sullivan.

Williams will make his first appearance in a Cornfoot uniform next Sunday against the Grant Suith-Porter team.

GIRL FROM NORWAY IS 4THVICTOR

Molla Bjurstedt Most Consistent Player to Hold Singles Championship.

NEW YORK, July 25.-Miss Molla Bjurstedt is the most spectacular and withal the most consistent woman player who has ever held the national singles championship

The "Wonder Girl of Norway" is apparently inexhaustible on the courts and her dashing style of play continues brilliant from year to year, so consistently brilliant that she reigns supreme in a field of many women stars and future stars.

When Miss Bjurstedt defeated Miss Eleanor Goss of New York, in the final round of the women's national singles at Philadelphia recently, she entered her fourth year as the American champion. She won the title for the first time in 1915 and repeated the following year, Last year she was the victor over Miss Browne and other players in special matches, winning first honors in patri-Fighter Expects to Satisfy Those otic events, but, nevertheless, she was still the champion, regardless of the fact that no titles were at stake, and she proved her superiority by winning a handsome majority of the matches in which she took part. In her victory this year over Miss Goss her superiority was generally concourts, but the fact that she won in straight sets was a surprise and the manner of her victory proved once more how great she is on the courts.

Officially three-time woman champion. Miss Bjurstedt takes rank in the records with Mrs. G. W. Wightman, formerly Miss Hazel Hotchkiss, and Miss Mary K. Browne, the only women players to win the national title three straight times.
