

U-O. WOMEN TO ASK STATE FOR $100,000

Fund for $200,000 Women's Building Totals $20,000; E. W. Smith Gives $500.

Eugene, Or., Aug. 7.—Announcement of the gift of $100 to the University of Oregon women's building fund by Edgar W. Smith of Portland, a former student of the university, who is now in training at the summer camp of the university, and will enter the service at an early date, was made Tuesday by Mrs. George T. Gerlinger of Portland, member of the board of regents in charge of the fund.

Of the total proposed cost of the women's building—$200,000—approximately $20,000 has been subscribed. During September a statewide campaign, under the auspices of the Oregon federation of women's clubs, is to be launched in an effort to bring the fund up to $100,000. With that amount in hand the women in charge of the campaign for building will be before the legislature and ask an additional $100,000.

No work on the proposed building is planned until the close of the war and until that time all of the money raised will be invested in Liberty bonds and War Savings Stamps.

YANKEE UNIT TO STOP HUNS DEFIES ORDER

PARIS, Aug. 7.—(I. N. S.)—One of the American detachments that won glory in stopping the last German rush did so in direct violation of orders.

The story was told here today by a man from the detachment, which they relieved.

"When the 'so-and-so' company came up," he said, "our old man told them we were to fall back and coordinate a new ground to the rear. As we pulled out the French on their flank sent word over to come on back.

"You parlez that officer and tell him that we like this place and we're going to stay here," was what their commanding officer replied.

"And he did not move. And the Germans could not move him and his stand marked the real end of the German rush—in violation of orders."

New Rules Affect Bond Applications

Recent changes in the organization of the federal capital issues committee affect the manner of handling applications. Instead of separate state subcommittees a district committee in each of the 12 federal reserve districts now conducts local investigations. These committees are designated "district committees on capital issues."

Oregon members of the district committee are A. L. Mills, president of the First National bank, and J. C. Alsworth, president of the United States National bank. Three members have been appointed from Washington. The capital issues committee must pass upon all proposed issues of bonds or stock of $100,000 or more. Applications should be sent in triplicate, to headquarters of the committee in Washington, D. C., one to the headquarters of the twelfth district committee in San Francisco, and one to either of the local committees.

The company disputed the commission's jurisdiction in this case.

The Deutsche Zeitung mentions "another defeat for the enemy." The Mittag Zeitung describes further arrests at Kiev, resulting from the unrest in Ukraine. Additional reports concerning the submarine revolt at Wilhelmshaven state the sailors mutinied because of the increasing danger of submarine work. It is estimated that more than 50 submarines have disappeared, the sailors either attacking their officers at sea and surrendering or sinking the submarine or seizing the first opportunity to get themselves interned in a neutral harbor.

IRELAND PUT ON SIDE OF ALLIES

Enthusiasm for Freedom's Cause Is Reflected in Message by Colonel Lynch, Nationalist.

London, Aug. 7.—The enthusiasm for the allied cause which is rising in Ireland, even among some of those who have been the most energetic champions of Irish nationalism, is indicated in a stirring message from Colonel Arthur Lynch, a Nationalist member of parliament.

"The western front," he says, "is the crucible in which the future of the world is being shaped. How can a young man keep himself away from that land of adventure—that land that day by day storms the hearts with stirring stories of heroic deeds! Who so slow as not to feel the fascination of all this! What has become of the boasted ardor of our Irish young men?"

"Irishmen know in their hearts that their way lies with the allies." This utterance is all the more notable since Colonel Lynch has always been a home ruler of the most advanced type. During the South African war he was in command of an Irish brigade fighting on the side of the Boers.
