Bed Time Tales

Jimmy Coon Plays a Prank on the Farmer Boy
LITTLE WILLIAM, the Farmer Boy, and his cousin, Little Fred, from Georgia, planned to go trout fishing. It was early in the spring and the two boys wanted to be the first fishermen on Murrumbidgee brook that spring; so that they could catch lots of nice trout. And Little William, the farmer boy, said, "Cousin Fred, we will not take any bait for the trout with us; for I always have the best luck with Dobsons, which I find under the little stones at the bottom of Murrumbidgee brook." Now, you have caught "Dobsons" under the little stones in a brook, in the shallow ripples for bait when you went fishing. You remember how ugly they look and some fishermen, you remember, call these grubs or worms "Crawlers." You know they look something like a tiny lobster, and that their color is a dark slate-gray. You remember what fine bait they make for trout; for the skin is so thick and strong, that the fishhook will hold the bait for a long time. And the farmer boy and his cousin Fred started in high glee, as they whistled a lively jig; for they were so happy and could hardly wait to wade in Murrumbidgee brook, and turn over the little stones in the rapid and catch lots of the fine "Dobsons" or "Crawlers" for bait! Now, Jimmy Coon was an awfully clever chap and he knew it was about the time in spring for the farmer boy to go trout fishing. So Jimmy Coon decided to spring his big prank that very night before the boys went fishing. Jimmy Coon invited lots of his friends to go along, and I wish you could have seen Benny Mink, Joe Otter, Teddy Possom, Sammy Muskrat and lots of other rascals going along with Jimmy Coon for that fun and mischief. And you would have laughed to see these little people in Murrumbidgee brook that night! Why, those scamps jumped right into Murrumbidgee brook, where the water was shallow and swift and where it sang its jolly trip over the little smooth stones on its way to the big river! And those fun-loving chaps turned over hundreds and hundreds of little smooth stones, and they found lots and lots of lovely "Dobsons" or "Crawlers." Now what in the world did Jimmy Coon, Benny Mink, Sammy Muskrat and the others do but put all these nice "Crawlers" or "Dobsons" in their mouths and hold them there until they swallowed them all! Oh, it was lots of fun. They just loved those "Crawlers." And they had such fun wondering what the boys would do—now that their bait was all gone!

Effective Pooling Of Resources, Is Aim

Washington, Aug. 8.—A more effective pooling of the resources of the allied nations is expected to result from the visit to Europe of L. L. Summers, member of the war industries board, and its technical adviser, and 10 other representatives of the board. Summers' arrival in London was announced Wednesday. Conferences will be held with representatives of the allied nations. Better methods of distribution of materials will be discussed as well as ways to prevent price inflation.

Grain Crops Exceed High Expectations

Washington, Aug. 8.—Substantiating the assertion that grain production this year has been larger than this government and her allies in the war had hoped for, figures revealed Wednesday show that in the 10 day period between July 15 and 25, grain shipments exceeded those of the same period in 1917 by 15.11 cars. The total movement for the period this year was 40,044 cars against 24,533 cars for the corresponding 10 days in 1917.

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 8.—(U. P.)—Gerald C. He was examined and found to be in excellent physical condition. Young Cudahy was arrested in a local hotel by city police and turned over to the military as a slacker. He registered for the draft at Calexico, Cal.

Boy Shoots Himself Accidentally; Dies

Hoquiam, Wash., Aug. 8.—Richard, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Foster, was killed Wednesday when a .22-caliber revolver he was playing with was discharged. He threw the weapon upward to draw aim on a nearby post. The gun went off during the movement, the bullet entering the right temple. Death resulted 10 minutes later. He was the only son of the well known timber cruiser.

One of these is at company quarters nightly except Sunday, to explain the requirements of the service.

No Limit Yet Placed On Gasoline and Oil

Fuel Administrator Holmes has been notified from Washington to give wide publicity to the fact that no limitation has been placed by the government on sale of gasoline or lubricating oils. For some time the impression has widely prevailed that some order limiting the sale of these commodities was being prepared by the war industries board and the fuel administration. No such order has been issued. The fuel administration thus far has simply urged people to stop wasteful practices.

Careless Use of Soap Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use. One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it with an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage. You can get mulsified coconut oil at any pharmacy; it's very cheap and a few cunses will supply every member of the family for months. (Adv.)

WAR TIME COOKERY

Gingerbread—One cup New Orleans molasses, 2 scant tablespoons cotolone (melted), 1 cup boiling water, 1 level teaspoon soda, 1 1/2 cups flour, 1 1/2 cups barley meal, 1 tablespoon ginger. Dissolve soda in tablespoon boiling water and add it to the molasses. Sift together the barley meal, flour and ginger. All the melted cotolone and boiling water to first mixture. Beat well, then add the flour, sifted with ginger. Beat until smooth. Bake in moderate oven about 30 minutes. It is well to remember that mixtures made with molasses are likely to scorch and burn quickly. Spiced currants—3/4 quart currants, 1 pint vinegar, 1 1/2 pounds sugar, 1 1/2 pounds corn syrup, 1 teaspoon cloves, 1 cinnamon, 1 teaspoon allspice. Combine ingredients and cook one hour. Seal in jars.
