Preachers Asked by Committee to Urge People Provide Quarters for Aged Veterans Next Week.

IBERS of the Grand Army of the Republic and their wives are to play a promient part in this Sunday's church services in Portland. Churches in nearly every denomination have planned special programs in honor of the "grand old .nen" who are visitors in our city. Nearly every place of worship will be decked with the Stars and Stripes and patriotic tunes and old fashioned church hymns will make up the musical programs. Richard W. Childs of the G. A. R.

committee has appealed to all Portland's pastors to urge their members to open their homes to the "boys in blue" who have been invited to Portland for their annual encampment. He "An S. O. HOME AND CAMP IN WAR EFFORTS Extending Assistance to All Men in Ways Not Otherwise Available, One of Missions.

HRISTIAN SCIENCE camp welfare work is being carried on in 45 camps in the United States under direction of the Christian Science war relief and camp welfare committee of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. There are about 70 men and 15 women engaged in this work, the women serving mainly as welfare room attendants.

Conducted at first independently, the camp work has been merged with the dent of Multnomah county C. E. war relief work which the Christian Scientists were doing in foreign coun-Union, to fill vacancy left by J. tries before the United States entered Evert Dotson, engaged in war the war. For both these purposes about one million dollars have been raised.

Christian Science camp workers aim to be helpful to all the men in the camps, and particularly to give assistance which may not be available through any of the other camp welfare agencies. A feature of this phase of the work is an arrangement for keeping soldiers and sailors in close touch with their relatives.

Cooperating with the committee in Boston, there is a camp welfare committee in each state. The committee in the home state of a soldier or sailor cooperates with the committee of the state n which he is camped to form a link between the soldier or sailor and his relatives. This linking of home and camp, combined with the personal attention of the Christian Science workers, has frequently been the means of changing a soldier's outlook from gloom to joy, and not infrequently it has proved to be the means of relieving relatives of financial embarrassment, the committee in the home state making loans for use by the relatives until their boy in camp should preached in England. be prepared to forward money to them. In numerous camps, the committees have erected buildings, with quiet places Service Will Shift for reading and writing; an automobile is inculded in the equipment of the workers at each camp.
