Holly Shades Ban Lesson in Baseball

Two of the greatest shortstops in the world in action against each other at Chicago Saturday and both were Portland graduates - Dave Bancroft, who helped Philadelphia win its first National League pennant in years the first season he joined the club, 1915. Charley Hollocher joined the Chicago club this spring and the Cubs have the National League pennant virtually clinched.

Therefore it was with interest that the fans watched their performance Saturday, to wit:

First game—A. B. E. H. P. A. E. Bancroft, ss..... 4 0 1 8 2 0 Hollocher, ss..... 2 0 1 8 4 0

Second game—A. B. E. H. P. A. E. Bancroft, ss..... 4 0 1 2 5 0 Hollocher, ss..... 4 1 4 2 2 1

In the first game Bancroft hit against Hendrix, Hollocher against Jacoby in the "clash" of the season, but the greatest young player that has come into the big league in years, which, of course, includes the year of Bancroft's advent. Close students of the game will tell you that Hollocher not only is a better ball player than Bancroft but likewise the superior of that great galaxy of short pitchers, Walter McCree, sent to the majors—Jacky Atz, Bill Sweany, Ivan Olson and Roger Sweeney.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 19.—U. P.—Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Sun Brier, champion 2-year-old last year, came closer to the 3-year-old championship here Saturday afternoon, when in a field of classic starters he poked his nose first under the wire after a grueling battle over a 1 1/2-mile course. His time, while fast, was considerably short of the track record.

Harry Payne Whitney's John finished second, with A. K. Macomber's War Cloud third. Exterminator, winner of the Kentucky Derby last spring, brought up in the rear.

Camp Lewis Team Here Tonight The base school baseball team of Camp Lewis will play the Vaughn shipyard team at the Vaughn street park at 6 o'clock this evening.

The army team has been on tour but met with rain at Astoria and St. Helens and the game today was hurriedly arranged to provide money for the boys to get back to Camp Lewis.

Bith Smith is manager of the team and it is composed of such players as Jake Messner, of Tacoma; Kraft, former St. Louis and San Francisco pitcher; Oliver Harstad, from the American association; Walker and Jewett, from the California State league; Red Coffman, of Tacoma. Al Zweifel will pitch for the soldiers.

Jim Coffroth is giving me what help he can in lining up the material that we may call on from down here. I think all of the boxers should volunteer their services, and not wait to have me ask them, as it all takes time, which is very short.

Portland is the only prominent city on the coast that has not staged a monster benefit for the war camp community service, which is the sailors' pride and joy. Therefore Evans believes that Portland will show its colors in the same manner that San Francisco and Seattle did, and he wants a big enough place to let all of the fans get comfortable.

THE TRUTH ABOUT CANDY Candy Taking the Place of Alcohol There was a time when the army and navy supplied their men with rum and whiskey. But today, while recognizing the need of supplying heat for the system, it is known that alcohol is not the thing—that, on the contrary, sugar supplies the system with carbohydrates. So candy is supplied liberally to soldiers. Leading American officers endorse chocolate candy as an essential food for soldiers. The various quartermasters' departments draw large supplies of candy for the soldiers to eat. These requirements run into the hundreds of thousands of pounds. On a recent cruise, for example, the Atlantic squadron, carrying LIQUOR aboard, had on its various ships 40,000 pounds of candy—because it recognized candy as a nutritious food for the sailors. The acid test of war is putting candy down as a FOOD—a food which supplies the body with fuel. Many physicians and scientists claim that candy will supplant the taste for alcoholic beverages. This is probably one reason why, as candy is becoming more and more firmly established and recognized, alcoholic drinks are declining. Right along with the decrease in whiskey drinking, one notes the tremendous increase in the recognition of candy as a food. Men who once thought that whiskey would bolster them up, now find that in candy they get a real source of bodily fuel and energy. Many people used to wonder what would be the substitute for drinking to supply heat for the system. People have found that sugar is the real source of bodily fuel, supplying carbohydrates—sugar is most enjoyed by many people when made up into a food product, mixed with fruit, nuts, etc.—all high in food value. We recognize sugar as a food product—and milk as a food product—and cocoa as a food product—and fruits and raisins as food products—those are the chief ingredients of candy—then, logically, is not the combination of all these products bound to be a wholesome, nutritious food? —In normal times the candy industry uses only 8% of the sugar used per capita in this country. Right now this amount has been used sparingly in two. The Candy Manufacturers of Oregon
