Foch's Smash Between Oise and Aisne Nets Big Bunch of Prisoners; Vantage Points Occupied and Fall of Whole of German Salient Is Threatened Daily

"There were reciprocal bombardments in the region of Lassigny and Dreslincourt. "Between the Oise and the Aisne our troops occupied the village of Vassens. "An attack of the enemy west of Maisons De Champagne was without result. "Enemy aeroplanes bombed Nancy at 6 o'clock this morning. Twenty were wounded."

Germans Had Big Guns Ready to Shell Paris

Paris, Aug. 20.—(U. P.)—The Germans, when they started their last offensive operations, were prepared for a siege of Paris from a range of 25 miles, the Petit Parisien declared today. A number of 60 foot guns, firing shells weighing three quarters of a ton each, were ready on railroad trucks, to be pushed forward behind the advancing armies, the newspaper said.

Shells Are Falling on Noyon From Two Sides

By Webb Miller

Paris, Aug. 20.—(U. P.)—The French continue to extend and consolidate their gains on both sides of Noyon. They have penetrated farther toward Roye and Lassigny, and the latter town virtually has been occupied. The Germans are furiously bombarding the entire region, while the French are shelling Noyon from two directions.

French troops are now firmly in possession of the Lassigny and Carlepont plateaus, the two gateposts of the Oise, and are threatening Noyon. They are within 9000 yards (about five miles) of that town from the south.

General Mangin's artillery is sweeping all of this territory except a narrow outlet toward Guiscard (five miles north of Noyon).

Huns Gain North of Chaumes

London, Aug. 20.—(U. P.)—The double threat against the Roye-Lassigny line by direct pressure from the west, together with the flanking movement by the French between the Oise and the Aisne, is making the Germans' hold on their present positions hourly more precarious. The French already are in Lassigny and are reported to dominate the town. The Roye railway station, less than a mile southwest of the village, has been occupied.

French troops have won the important heights on both sides of the Oise between Ribecourt and Noyon. Between the Oise and the Aisne, where the French struck suddenly on Sunday evening on a front of nearly 10 miles, the enemy has been pushed back to Audignicourt and Morsain. This not only constitutes a serious threat to the German lines north of the Oise, but may compel an immediate retirement of the Germans in the Soissons region to the eastward.

The whole German line on the 40-mile front between Roye and Pontenoy thus seems about to give way and the enemy positions may be effected eight or ten miles farther east to beyond Soissons.

The 2000 prisoners captured by the allies on the Picardy and Flanders front Sunday, apparently were greatly added to yesterday. The majority of these were taken in Picardy.

The Germans are holding well from Chaumes northward to the Somme and gained temporary successes against the British in that sector by counter attacking.

In Flanders the British continued their advance on the western edge of the salient, making appreciable progress on a front of about six miles and entering the important village of Merville.

669 More Prisoners Captured By Lowell Mellett

With the British Armies in France, Aug. 19.—(Night) (U. P.)—The events are shaping the course of the western campaign and the allied command is following these events—for the possibility of Ludendorff's regaining the initiative seems to be growing steadily smaller—the British front continues comparatively quiet.

Nearly 3000 additional prisoners were taken in one place or another, the majority of these by the French. The British haul in the neighborhood of Outtersteene this morning totaled 669.

While there is no question that the German disaster on the Marne was due partly to the staffs underestimate of the new allied strength, leading it virtually to advertise its intentions and allowing the allies time to prepare to meet them, the cries of "betrayal" filling the German press are all the more interesting in view of the present German army order regarding the necessity for secrecy.

British Report Further Gains

London, Aug. 20.—(U. P.)—Continued progress in Flanders was reported by Field Marshal Haig today.

Four German attacks were repulsed southwest of Chaumes. "We carried out successful minor operations between Vieux-Berquin and Outtersteene last night," the statement said. "In our recent advance there, our line was brought forward to the neighborhood of the Vieux-Berquin-Outtersteene road. One hundred and eighty-two additional prisoners were taken."

"During the night the enemy four times attacked the posts we established north of Chaumes. They were repulsed. "We successfully raided a German post west of Bray."

"Our patrols made further progress last night in the area between the Lawe and the Lys rivers (Flanders). We are now east of the Paradis-Merville road (an additional advance of nearly a mile)."

HOLD AT ALL COSTS, IS THE IMPERIAL COMMAND

Paris, Aug. 20.—(L. N. S.)—"Hold Noyon and Lassigny at all costs." This is the order that has been passed from German Imperial headquarters to commanders at both points—to hold Noyon and Lassigny, the capture of which by the allies, would force a speedy retreat of the Huns all along the Noyon front.

In sending in the Prussian guard to bolster up the fast weakening line, the colorful of picked Bavarian troops are selected. Crown Prince Rupprecht is using up all the shock troops he had reserved for the "grand offensive."

The allied troops, however, refuse to be denied and there are many tales of extraordinary bravery and gallantry. Many officers, with only a handful of men, have captured a German trench. Once 20 machine gunners were taken in this manner.

Gain Foothold in Roye

London, Aug. 20.—(L. N. S.)—Roye station has been occupied by the French, according to late dispatches from the front. British troops, it is unofficially reported here, have captured Bois Bracquemont and Bois Pendu, in a lively attack north of Roye. Southwest of Roye the British troops have swept the Germans from the greater part of Beuvraignes and are progressing to the south-east.

The French have been approaching Roye for several days and are believed to be fighting throughout the outskirts of the town. The capture of Roye itself by the French has not been announced.

Americans Repulse Raid

Washington, Aug. 20.—(L. N. S.)—Repulse of a German raid north of Toul, with losses to the enemy, is reported in a one line communique from General Pershing, under date of August 19, and made public by the war department today.

There is considerable artillery fighting at Chaumes, but there are no infantry operations of importance.

Hun Withdrawal Expected

London, Aug. 20.—(U. P.)—The attack on the German front is continuing satisfactorily, it is learned, and the French advance now endangers the whole German line along the Aisne front from Soissons eastward. It will cause no surprise if the Germans soon withdraw to the Chemin-Dee-Dames.

More than 500 additional prisoners have been taken in this new attack. The line, at 9 a. m., ran through the outskirts of Belle-Fontaine (two miles east of Carlepont and five miles southeast of Noyon) across Hill 153, through La Croisette (a mile and a half southeast of Belle-Fontaine) through La Arbre-De-Basien, Oully-Nouvion and La Rothe farm, northwest of the Fontenoy plateau and north of Ouly-Courtill (four miles west of Soissons).

At the same time the French were striking on a wide front north of the Oise. They have reached the outskirts of Thiescourt (two miles southeast of Lassigny and five miles southeast of Soissons) and have captured Bracquemont and Fendu woods and most of the village of Beuvraignes. Their average progress here has been about a mile, against stubborn resistance.

Location of Battle Line

London, Aug. 20.—(U. P.)—Definite location of the allied line on the southern portion of the Picardy front, up to 6 o'clock Monday evening, was announced as follows:

From Le Pravin farm northwest to Premieres, through Arbre De Canny, through the western outskirts of Lassigny, through Larue-Dondances, south of St. Aubin hill, through the southern outskirts of Ourval-le-Hamel and Dreslincourt, and through Pimprez.

Berlin Reports Big Battle

Berlin, via London, Aug. 20.—"A vigorous battle raged all day between the Aisne and the Oise," says last night's war office announcement. "French attacks on a wide front broke down with heavy losses."

as to whether the ramming was intentional or accidental.

U-Boat Captain Seen in U. S.

Washington, Aug. 20.—(L. N. S.)—The U-boat hunt today had been extended to dry land.

Navy department officials generally credited the report that an American captain had seen in a New York saloon the captain of the submarine upon which he had been taken following the sinking of his vessel off the Atlantic coast, and as a result, it became known today, a net is being spread at Atlantic ports that may bring about the capture of the Germans should they attempt to make shore again.

The American captain was positive in his identification of the German. In fact, the recognition was mutual, he declared. The American's surprise undoubtedly was responsible for the German's escape.

"I was so surprised that for a moment I could not open my mouth," he is understood to have told naval officials. "The next minute he had disappeared."

It was learned today that officials for some time have felt practically certain that German submarines were in communication with the shore and that it was not impossible that members of the crew have at various times come to shore. It is known that the submarines are equipped with collapsible row-boats, and these were undoubtedly used to bring the men to land.

It is now fairly well established that the raids off the coast have been conducted by three U-boats, and that they are of the cruiser or Deutschland type, having a sailing radius of 17,000 miles. They are equipped with guns fore and aft and are some 300 feet long. At least one of them is known to be equipped with a cable-cutter, following the severing of two southern cables.

The cutting of cables is more a source of annoyance than a serious threat, but it is known that the cables are being cut at various points along the coast.

The fact that there is a break becomes apparent at once, and then it is a matter of time before the cable is cut. It is known that the cables are being cut at various points along the coast.

secretary for foreign affairs, according to a dispatch from Amsterdam to the Daily Express, is expected to make a statement of decisive importance regarding Russia before the main committee of the reichstag within the next day or two. Considerable importance is attached to the report because Von Hintze has just returned from a conference with the kaiser at general headquarters.

Under Protection of Germany

Washington, Aug. 20.—(U. P.)—Lening and Trotsky, betrayers of Russia, are on board a warship in the roadstead at Kronstadt, under the protection of the German flag, and holding themselves ready to flee to Germany at the proper moment, Stockholm cables report.

It is declared to be hardly likely that the Bolshevik chiefs will touch Russian soil again without the protection of the German military force. Stockholm cables are that Petrograd is in the grip of a reign of terror. Reports are that more than 30,000 arrests have been made in the last month, most of the prisoners being officers of the former army and middle-class citizens.

Poland Would Aid Allies

Washington, Aug. 20.—(U. P.)—Poland will be ready to join in the reestablishment of the eastern battle front when the influence of the allied penetration becomes strong enough to begin to throw off the Austro-German yoke, authoritative diplomatic dispatches indicate. Dispatches from Zurich report a growing sentiment at Warsaw, Cracow and throughout Russian Poland. The Zurich Zeitung states that the streets of the Polish capital are lined with alert German guards. The Germans are said to have discovered the headquarters of a secret army at Lomaz and Plozy and to have made wholesale arrests.

SERVICE BODIES TO SEEK MORE SAY IN RAILROAD AFFAIRS

Commissions in All Parts of Nation Prepare to Make Vigorous Effort to Get Change.

COMPLAINTS ARE INCREASING

Public, Says Oregon Chairman, Does Not Get Far With Kicks Under System Now in Vogue.

Salem, Or., Aug. 20.—Public service commissioners of the entire country are preparing to make a vigorous effort to induce Director General McAdoo of the federal railroad administration to give them representation in the higher councils of the administration, both by voice and vote, according to a letter received today by Chairman Frank J. Miller of the Oregon commission from V. E. Wilson, member of the Nebraska commission and chairman of the committee appointed to arrange for a special meeting of the national association of railroad and utilities commissioners to consider this matter.

Chairman Miller indorses the movement, as the Oregon commission last June endeavored to get one of its members appointed on the local freight committee and failed.

More Complaints Than Ever

Mr. Wilson, in his letter to Chairman Miller, said that at the recent conference of public service commissioners held in Chicago it was the consensus of opinion that dissatisfaction over present relations between the state commissions and the railroad administration was due to the pro-railroad character of the administration staff below Mr. McAdoo and a few associates at the top. He suggested that the state commissions should have representation in the higher councils, one representative coming from the eastern section, one from the southern and one from the western section.

Chairman Miller declared there are more complaints in Oregon now regarding railroad service than ever before. These are largely petty complaints, growing out of lack of courtesy and attention on the part of the railroad employees, he said, but they are irritating to the public.

Commission's Authority Gone

He attributed this to the fact that there is no one now who is directly responsible to whom the complainant can go. He said the railroad employees constantly tell members of the public service commission, when they are taken to task for discourtesies, that it is none of the state commission's business, as the employees are no longer under the state jurisdiction.

"With government administration of railroads almost entirely in the hands of railroad men," said Mr. Miller, "the public does not get very far when it appeals to the administration for correction of abuses or betterment of conditions. If these matters went direct to Mr. McAdoo it would be different, but he does not have time for them and must leave them to his aides. In most cases these aides are the very men, who, as railroad heads, promulgated rates or other conditions against which the complainant is protesting. It is natural that they will uphold their former action and the public gets no relief."

Supplemental Hearing Asked

Salem, Or., Aug. 20.—As many shippers in Oregon are interested in the protest against imposing of a charge by railroads for reconignment or diversion of carload shipments, the state public service commission today sent a request to the interstate commerce commission that Commissioner C. B. Aitchison, when he comes to Portland September 20, be permitted to hold supplemental hearings on the reconignment and diversion case for the benefit of Northwest shippers.

The original hearing on reconignment and diversion rules will be held in Chicago, September 4. Under the new rules it is proposed to impose charges of $2 to $5 for reconsigning or diverting a car, while heretofore no charge has been made for this service.

Irrigation Waters Sought

Salem, Or., Aug. 20.—Applications for the appropriation of 165 second feet of water from the Blitzen river and 304 second feet of water from the Silver river for irrigation of lands in the bed of Malheur lake and lands adjoining have been filed with the state engineer by C. B. McConnell of Burns, representing the Harney Basin Development company. These applications are filed in connection with application submitted some time ago to the state land board for the reclamation by drainage of the bed of Malheur lake.

About 53,000 acres are involved in the proposed irrigation project, and the estimated cost of the irrigation feature is $255,000. It is proposed to drain the water in Malheur lake into Harney lake and to divert the flow of the Blitzen and Silver rivers from Malheur lake to Harney lake.

Shipyard's Get Men Of All Walks of Life

Seattle, Aug. 20.—(L. N. S.)—Following the publication of a telegram from Washington that 1,000,000 men are needed in the essential industries of the country, ministers, lawyers, merchants and politicians flocked to the federal employment bureau here today and asked to be put to work in the shipyards. Four more ministers went to work in the yards here today and a contingent of lawyers and merchants pulled on overalls at the same time.

Minnesota Forest Fires Menace Cities

Virginia, Minn., Aug. 20.—(U. P.)—Sweeping forward on two fronts totaling 77 miles in width, forest fires today threatened homes in the villages of Ely and Biwabik, and were approaching the very outskirts of this city. Miners, forestry employees and fire departments of Virginia, Ely and Biwabik are fighting to prevent the fires entering the cities.

Prohibition Expected To Win In Senate With 15 Votes To Spare

Administration Man Power Bill Is Expected To Be Out of Way This Week.

Washington, Aug. 20.—(L. N. S.)—Passage of the prohibition amendment to the emergency agricultural appropriation bill by the middle of next week, with a margin of 15 votes to spare, was predicted by "dry" leaders in the senate today.

The prohibition amendment will be called up for action Monday under the senate agreement, but if the administration man power bill has not been passed by that time it will be laid aside temporarily. The indications were today that the man power bill would be passed by Saturday night, leaving the way clear for prohibition on Monday.

On a test vote on prohibition before the senate recessed the vote stood 36 to 33, giving the prohibitionists a majority of three. The test came when the president of the senate ruled that the prohibition amendment was not in order as an amendment to an appropriation. The senate overruled him.

Dry leaders said today that from 12 to 15 of those who voted with their opponents were prohibitionists who differed with them merely on this point of parliamentary law.

The amendment in its present form would halt the manufacture of beer and wine November 1, and the sale of all alcoholic beverages January 1. The drys announced today that they were prepared to accept amendments that would extend the time three months—stopping the brewing of beer and wine February 1 and the sale of all liquor April 1.

Anti-prohibitionists have insisted that six months should be allowed after January 1 for the liquidation of liquor properties. Adopting the amendments would cut the term of grace in half.

It is conceded that the house will adopt the amendment in whatever form the senate approves it and with a much larger majority.

Senator Philan will offer an amendment to the provision agreed upon by the agriculture committee, excepting wine from its provisions.
