EVANS USES "JUICE" FOR MAIN EVENT

Army Benefit Promoter to Come North as Soon as He Signs Up Principals.

CORPORAL A. C. ARDISS (Bobby Evans) writes from Camp Fremont to state that he will have a fair idea of the big army benefit card he will stage here in September, in a very few days.

Will Arrange Top First
"As soon as I have arranged the top of the card, I shall start home and arrange the other details when I get there."

In San Francisco Evans is quoted as saying that he would like to take George Brandon, Jimmy Duffy and Spider Roche, all sailors, to box Northwestern boys. Inasmuch as Brandon is already visiting here, it is likely that his leave will expire before the date of the benefit planned by Evans. Brandon has been going so well that he is quite a card right now in San Francisco's four round game.

At any rate the fans are waiting for Evans to show up with his boxers and it is likely that the crowd which will be in attendance will surpass all records in the line of attendance in the Northwest. Jim Coffroy may come north for a couple of days to assist Evans.

Farrell Boxes Cold Night

Unless Marty Farrell was working on a flat guarantee he did not gather in much kate as a result of his recent excursion to Emeryville to battle Spud Murphy. The night was cold and the crowd was cold, so Marty didn't make the hit that he expected, besides getting himself in bad with the soldiery of the great Northwest.

Tuffy Wing vs. Danny Edwards

Tuffy Wing, the Albina mixologist, will participate in this week's boxing show at Dreamland, San Francisco. Tuffy will shoot punches at Danny Edwards, the diminutive chocolate drop, who is giving away some weight. However, Danny is willing to take a chance.

Col. Smith to Race G. A. R. Relay Today

What will most likely be the last time that the veterans of the Civil War will be engaged in athletic competition, will occur at Multnomah field at 3:00 o'clock this afternoon. At all great encampments of the order since the close of the war, the old boys have entered with vim in these races.

At Indianapolis 365 comrades faced the starter in one five-mile race and it took the whole afternoon to decide the winner.

The race today is a one-sided affair. Col. J. L. Smith will attempt to run 5 miles against 20 of his comrades, each running 400 yards in relay. More than 50 comrades have signified their intention of running in a team against Smith, but, of course, only 20 can start. Every comrade that wins his heat will receive $25, a check for $500 being posted.

Flying Sport Is Worth All Risk, Says Hurt Flyer

Chicago, Aug. 21.—(U. N. S.)—John L. (Laddie) McKeown, former University of Chicago hurdler, conference champion and Chicago A. A. point winner, has broken in body but not in spirit today in a base hospital in France. He was injured in an airplane plunge that killed a French pilot.

"Although I'll be crippled the rest of my life, I don't regret ever going into the game. The sport is worth the risk, even though they almost ordered flowers for me," he wrote in a letter to Coach Martin Delany of the Chicago A. A.

VAUGHN ST. TO GET BIG BALL GAME

Contest Will Decide Last Half Title If Standifers Beat Cornfoot Team Saturday.

ARRANGEMENTS are being made by President Fred Bay of the Columbia-Willamette Shipbuilders' Baseball league whereby the Standifer-McCormick contest, scheduled to be played in St. Helens September 1, will be staged on the Vaughn street grounds.

This contest, provided Standifer trims Cornfoot next Saturday afternoon, will decide the championship of the second half of the season.

Manager Perry Casey of the Cornfoot team will pitch "Suds" Sutherland against the Standifer team, while either Krause or Pillette will work for the Vancouver aggregation.

The loss of Ed Kennedy, the big first baseman of the Cornfoot team, has weakened the Albina line to some extent, but despite this Casey is hopeful of a victory.

"Lefty" Swartz, former twirler of the Grant Smith-Porter team of the Columbia-Willamette Shipbuilders' Baseball league, who went to Fort McDowell and later played in the outfield for the local selective service men, aided the Fort McDowell baseball team in defeating the Nationals of San Francisco Sunday by the score of 7 to 4. Swartz struck out 12 men and allowed four hits. He made two hits in three times up.

The score: R. H. E.
Nationals 4 4 2
Port McDowell 7 9 2
Batteries—Brown, Smith and Ginson; Swartz and Woodward.

Art Bourg, the local player who was given a tryout with the Portland Bucks and later played in the outfield for the Cornfoot team, will leave for Camp Lewis with the next contingent of local selective service men.

Jack Clynes, who has been playing outfield for the Grant Smith-Porter team, but the St. Johns yard and is now working at the Foundation yards.

Bill Daniels, former outfielder of the Portland Bucks, has left the Foundation team. Daniels was called to his home in Los Angeles on business. It is expected that Daniels will have a chance in the final series to determine the league championship.

None Could Hit Like Dell Bunted Into Fourbaggers

CHARLES WEBB MURPHY, who rose from a sporting desk on a Cincinnati newspaper to become one of the most influential men in baseball, but who now has no interest beyond a fan's in the national pastime, was watching "Cactus" Cravath, manufacturer of more than 100 home runs, hitting the ball in practice at Chicago recently.

"None of them could swat the ball like Ed Delahanty when he was with the Quakers," said Murphy. "And he had some teammates who could hit, too," continued the effervescent Murphy.

Had Earle Guessing
"I once heard bow Billy Earle caught his first game against Delahanty," said Murphy. "It seems that Delahanty cracked the first ball, a high one, way on the outside for a double. Next time up Earle gave a sign for a low one on the inside, and Del cracked it for a triple. On Delahanty's next trip to the plate the pitcher threw one that hit in front of the plate. Del caught it on the rebound, as though he was playing cricket, and hit it for a single."

"Earle was plainly amazed, so the next time Delahanty came to the plate he asked him: 'Don't you ever wait till the ball comes over the plate?'"

"Now," replied Delahanty, "only the poor batters wait for that kind." Was Ordered to Bunt
"Another time, when Shettsline, now secretary of the Phils, was manager of the Quakers, an important stage came in a game where runs were badly needed. Philadelphia got runners on first and second before any one was out. It was then Delahanty's turn to bat.

"Shettsline called Delahanty to one side and said, 'You lay down a sacrifice bunt now and I'll have the next fellow up clout one out and score both men.' Delahanty nodded, 'alright,' he answered.

Didn't Know How
"Shettsline was surprised when Delahanty laid on the first ball pitched and lammed it out for a home run. As he rounded third, Shettsline called out: 'How was it you didn't bunt?'"

"Oh, I never bunt," laughed Delahanty; "I don't even know how."
