

LEWIS APPROVES IRRIGATION PLANS

Over 2000 Acres in Klamath County Will Be Developed by New Project.

Salem, Sept. 18.—State Engineer Lewis has approved the general plans for the Enterprise Irrigation district in Klamath county. The law requires the approval of his office before an irrigation district may proceed with the sale of bonds and construction work. As the designs of the principal structures for the project have not yet been filed with the state engineer, he reserves the right to pass upon them before construction work is begun. Early approval was sought by the district so that it might proceed with the sale of bonds. The district will include 2000 acres, with the possibility that another 1000 acres will be added. It is being developed in cooperation with the United States reclamation service, as it is proposed to pump water for the district from the reclamation service canal, which now serves the Klamath reclamation project. The district will enter into an agreement to pay the reclamation service $15 an acre for water right and the use of its canal, and it will install its own pump and laterals from the main canal at a cost estimated to be $12.50 an acre.

4-Day Institute of Episcopal Church Closes on Thursday

Miss Emily Tillotson of New York, the educational secretary of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Episcopal Missionary society, will take charge of the work of the four-day institute which opened today. She, with her sister, Mrs. Allison, arrived Monday night. They are leaders in the latest methods of Sunday school and missionary work and have been granted leave from the Church Mission House, headquarters of this work, to hold this institute. The purpose is to train leaders in three branches of church work: Sunday school work for teachers and superintendents, mission study work for the leaders of classes, and the advent call to prayer. The institute opened Tuesday morning at St. David's church, East Twelfth and Belmont, with a short service and address of welcome by Bishop Sumner, followed by the work of the institute in the parish house. The morning sessions will be devoted to mission study work from 10:30 to 12. The afternoon sessions will be given to the advent call to prayer from 2 to 3:30. The evening sessions will be given to Sunday school work from 8 to 9:30.

Millard Gates Is Believed to Be Alive

Hillsboro, Sept. 18.—Oliver Gates, well known Washington county citizen, and father of Millard M. Gates, reported dead from wounds received in action in today's casualty lists, has received letters from Millard since the date of his reported death, and still has hopes that the report of his death is a mistake. Mr. Gates said this morning that he had received no answer to a cablegram dispatched overseas 10 days ago in an effort to get first hand information regarding Millard. Mr. and Mrs. Gates have already given one son, C. Clifford in action in France.

Round-Up Crowds To Equal Those of Past, Is Prediction

Fendleton, Sept. 18.—"Pay the freight and give the boys in charge a little for their trouble and let it go at that," is the message from Charley Levin of Wyoming, famous as Director of frontier shows. Because the profits are to go to the Red Cross, he will accept nothing from the Round-Up for the use of his stock. By every train and a continuous string of automobiles coming in over the highways, Fendleton is rapidly filling up with visitors, until it is assured there will be as many people here for the Round-Up as in years past. The Camp Lewis military band arrives today for a four days' stay and will be the leading musical attraction. Uncle Sam's uniform will have a prominent place in the arena this year—Yakimas, in naval uniforms; Ben Oakes, Tom Grimes and Tom Douglas are some of the other stars of past Round-Ups here today from army camps and who are in uniform. Canutt rode in the troyous Tuesday and showed he has not forgotten how to ride his horse without effort and to the delight of the crowd of spectators.

CITY PLANS TO TAKE ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS WORK UNDER CHARGE

Visiting Nurse Association, Out of Funds, Cannot Continue After End of Month.

That the work of the Visiting Nurse association among tubercular persons, nearly at an end because of lack of funds, will be taken over by the city, was indicated by the action of the city council this morning when Mayor Baker ordered an ordinance drafted to make provision for the continuance of the work, pending the presentation of a memorial to the state legislature urging the passage of a bill to provide a state hospital for the care of tubercular patients. The Visiting Nurse association has been carrying on the work since 1908, but announces now that it will be unable to continue longer than the end of September. It has been supported by voluntary subscriptions, but these have failed, it is said. The work will be carried on by the city, Mayor Baker announced, after September 30 and until such time as the work can be taken up formally on a permanent scale, either by the city or state. According to a report submitted by City Health Officer Parrish there are 7000 cases of tuberculosis in the state, one third of them being in Portland. It was estimated that $3740 would be a sufficient sum yearly to carry on the work in Portland.

HOUSING COMMITTEE MEETING WITH MAYOR TO DISCUSS PLANS TO DISCUSS PLANS

Question of Financing Deal is Still Unsettled; Early Construction Urged.

To start operations on the housing program of Portland, which calls for at least 1500 buildings to be begun before the first of the year, the committee appointed by Chairman Woodward of the State Council of Defense is meeting with Mayor George L. Baker in the city hall this afternoon. At this meeting plans to begin construction of houses will be adopted and the theoretical stage will have been passed. Just what plan of financing the problem will be adopted has not been announced. It is suggested by Edgar M. Lazarus, Portland architect, who today consulted Chairman Lloyd J. Wentworth of the housing committee, that the city should begin the work. He points out that the building of 2000 houses, each of which will cost not less than $2500, means an addition of $5,000,000 property, assessed valuation. Quoting Andrew Wright Crawford's address before the National Housing association in Providence, in October, 1916, he points out that every man is worth $1000 to the city. Mr. Lazarus believes the economic side can be worked out from this angle, by use of the city's credit, which would not be at all impaired. It is the opinion of all concerned that work must begin at once, for the housing situation, with more men coming to the city daily, is growing more and more acute.

JACOBS ESTATE IS LEFT TO MEMBERS OF FAMILY BY WILL

An estate valued at more than $13,000 was left by Isaac Jacobs, one of the founders of the Oregon Woolen Mills, who died in San Francisco July 20, according to the petition for probating of his will, filed this morning. By the terms of his will, $7000 is bequeathed to a son, Gaston; the sum of $1000 is given to each of the following sons and daughters: Alfred Jacobs, Gerahon Jacobs, Lillian Lang, Josephine Blum and Morton Jacobs. To Mrs. Ester Jacobs, Mrs. Rachel Mandelson and Mrs. Gustia Arfeed is given $500. The balance of the estate is left to the widow, Clara Jacobs.

WOMAN SUES CAN COMPANY

That her hand was smashed and the bones of her fingers crushed so that she cannot use them in her work is alleged by Miss C. E. Goodwin in a suit for $2750 damages against the American Can company filed this morning. The accident was caused, she says, June 25, when she was working on a stamping machine at the company's plant.

Term "Slacker" Suit Basis

Demanding $5000 as compensation for being called a "slacker" Alexander G. Kemmus has filed suit in the circuit court against W. E. Thompson, who, Kemmus alleges, hurled that insult at him at Bridal Veil a few days ago. It has caused him great mental anguish, Kemmus declares, and made him an object of contempt among his associates.

GAGLIA AWARDED $340

A verdict for $340 was awarded Massimo Gaglia by a jury in Circuit Judge Stapleton's court this morning for property being condemned for the Marquam gulch playground.

ALIENATION SUIT FILED

C. A. Foster is defendant in a suit for $50,000 for the alienation of the affections of Pearl Hewitt in a suit begun before a jury in Circuit Judge Gatens' court this morning. S. S. Hewitt, the plaintiff, alleges that Foster induced Mrs. Hewitt to leave him last January. Hewitt obtained a divorce in April.

RELICS CAPTURED FROM HUNS BEING SHOWN OVER STATE

A trainload of war relics, including German guns, helmets, gas tanks, gas masks and hundreds of objects captured from the Germans arrived this afternoon from the north and will be sent over the state to assist in the Liberty loan drive. Stops will be made for short intervals at various towns. Executive Manager Robert E. Smith is now making up the itinerary. The relics will be shown first at Oregon City Thursday morning. They will then be taken down the main line of the Southern Pacific to Cottage Grove, returning the following day over the west side line.

WOMAN MEMBER OF DRAFT BOARD QUILTS

Eugene, Sept. 18.—Charging that Stacia M. Russek, county clerk, and Dr. T. W. Harris, two members of the Lane county draft board, played petty politics for the purpose of placing J. Dorr Hamlin, secretary of the Lane county Republican central committee, and who was Monday named fourth member of the county draft board, in the position of clerk of the board, formerly held by her, Miss Ruby Thrasher, who has handled the clerical work of the board since last December, Tuesday afternoon tendered her resignation in a letter to the board.

VOTERS TO DECIDE HIGHER TAX LEVY

Certificate of Necessity for Increase of $940,000 Filed by Tax Commissioner.

Salem, Sept. 18.—The certificate of necessity for an increase of $940,000 in the state tax levy for 1919 was filed Tuesday afternoon by the state tax commissioner with Secretary of State Olcott for submission to the voters at the November election.

The question for the voters to decide will be whether they desire to increase the tax levy for 1919 to the extent of $940,000 over and above the sum which may be raised by the usual state tax levy under the 6 per cent limitation of the constitution. Under the regular levy the amount that can be raised for state taxes is limited to 6 per cent increase over the amount which was raised for this year. It is estimated this amount will be $6,218,963 for the next biennium, while indirect receipts are estimated at $1,237,000, making a total of $7,455,963 for the biennium.

EASY WAY TO STOP WASTE OF FOOD

In this country alone rats destroy and spoil over $200,000,000 worth of food-stuffs every year, so why delay using a reliable method of eradicating our pest? Probably there is no easier nor more effective method of exterminating rats than Borden's Electric Paste, a scientific product that has been used successfully by the U. S. government in its different campaigns against the rat. A small box, costing only a few cents, will usually completely free the house from rats and mice. It will also effectually destroy cockroaches and waterbugs. Adv.
