Band of Multnomah Guard Will Oppose Changing of Name

sain. No tempting bait of designation, as the "First Oregon reserves," will suffice to modify the identity gained by what is now the largest military This was the sentiment expressed at banquet tendered the band and at the Multnomah hotel Thursevening. Not only was the de-mination to withstand change of name siced by Captain Dolbin, commanding er, who acted as toastmaster, and Bowman, but it was shouted by in themselves. In one respect, at least, the banquet was unique, for the suests furnished their own music." without music," said Rufus C. Hol-
