

BISHOP TO MAKE MANY CHANGES IN M. E. PASTORATES

Rev. R. C. Rollins to Be Centenary's Pastor, Is Report—Salem Gets Next Year's Meeting.

DR. RARICK WILL GO EAST

Four Superintendents, First Church Portland and Probably Sunnyside Unchanged.

Rev. J. C. Rollins of the Medford Methodist church is to be assigned to Centenary church in Portland. This is the most important assignment that will be made this year by Bishop Shepard. It is also stated that Rev. Aaron A. Heist of the Rose City Park Methodist will be promoted to the Astoria church in accordance with the recommendation that Oregon pastors be given preference in changes that are made. These statements, while unofficial, come from what may be considered a reliable source of information.

Changes in Methodist charges that will probably equal if not exceed in number the great shake-up that occurred two years ago, will be made by Bishop William O. Shepard, presiding over the Oregon conference which is in session in Portland. The changes are from a different cause from those of two years ago, the shifting about now being due to war conditions which have caused many pastors to enter the army as chaplains or to enter U. S. A. work. The authority that there will be a large number of changes comes directly from the bishop himself.

This morning's session of the conference was significant for two circumstances. One was the selection of Salem as meeting place next year and the other was the formal announcement of the death of the bishop's son, Mark Shepard, of the radio corps, United States Navy.

Superintendents to Be Returned
It is almost certain that the four district superintendents will be returned to their work. For a short time it was thought that Dr. Forth of the district would ask for a leave of absence on account of ill health, but this did not materialize, much to the personal delight of the bishop.

One of the surprises of the conference is that C. C. Rarick of Central church is to assist Dr. Clarence True Wilson, who has charge of the prohibition work of the Methodist church of the United States. Several men have been named by delegates to the conference as possible successors of Rev. Mr. Rarick, and the most of them seem to be in the work. Rev. Mr. MacLean of Sellwood church. It is certain no changes will occur at First church and none is likely at Sunnyside.

Will Group Churches
The district superintendents have recommended the grouping of several Southern Oregon churches in order that the ministers may be released for work in churches in commercial centers where the people have concentrated on account of war work.

Because of the death of his son, the bishop will close the conference early Saturday morning. His son's body will be buried at Wichita.

Rev. A. N. Fisher celebrated his eightieth birthday today, and in honor thereof the conference presented him with a bouquet of roses this morning. The bishop paid a glowing tribute to this venerable preacher.

O. C. Bortzmeier, secretary of the civil service board and a member of Centenary church, arranged for the entertainment of the 125 preachers and their wives who are in attendance at the conference. So complete were Mr. Bortzmeier's preparations that he had rooms to spare when all delegates were located.

By unanimous vote the conference sent a telegram of greeting to Bishop Matt S. Hughes, who is conducting a conference in Iowa. The delegates also conveyed the sympathies of Rev. M. B. Paroungagin and Rev. Mr. Oberg. The former fell in a faint in First church and was taken to his home, and the latter was struck by a streetcar.

One of the biggest programs of the conference will be held tonight when the Centenary committee is to have charge. Saturday night the district Epworth league plans to hold a great young people's rally. Every society is expected to take service flags and banners to this meeting. Dan B. Brummitt, editor of the Edworth Herald, will be the main speaker. A. S. Hisey will preside. The Saturday program follows:

8:30 a. m.—Devotional service, address by Bishop Shepard, 9 a. m.—Business session of the conference, 1:30 p. m.—The members of the conference and their wives will be shown the Columbia river highway as the guests of the Portland Methodists; automobiles will leave First church at 1:30, 7:20 p. m.—City-wide Epworth league anniversary and rally; banners and service flags; auspices of the district cabinet, A. S. Hisey presiding; address by Dr. Dan B. Brummitt, editor Epworth Herald.

DRAFT DRAWING IS SET FOR MONDAY

the University of Oregon, and which has been approved by Governor Withycombe and Adjutant General Heabe. Details of the plan are being worked out and it will be announced in a few days. A tentative outline divides the state into districts, and the men in these districts will be instructed in rudiments of military knowledge by those who have been trained in the university school. Those who are material for officers will be picked out and sent to the school at Eugene. Inspecting officers will be sent from Eugene to guide the work.

Has All Men Needed
Colonel Leader is in Portland this week getting men together for the next training school at the university. He has all the material he needs, he announces, and of the 300 in this school, 244 will be Oregon men, only half a dozen being taken from each of the other six Northwest states that heretofore have been sending men in quantities.

The city of Eugene has given $30,000 for new barracks, which will be built immediately. Colonel Leader asked for $25,000 and got more than he requested. In the meantime, nearly all the buildings of the university available for the purpose, are being used to house the men.

To Train 1400
In addition to the class of 300 training for officers, 1400 young men will be instructed in the students' army training course. Twenty regular army officers and 100 other instructors will give the training. Courses in machine gun and gas fighting will be given at the next camp. Equipment for this work having been received. Colonel Leader, having been under machine gun fire innumerable times and having been gassed, is an instructor aptly qualified for these courses.

Twelve Portland men, sent to the Presidio from the camp at Eugene, were commissioned there and have been returned to the Northwest as instructors and aides in the training of other men. They are: Infantry—C. Peterson, L. S. Perkins, A. H. Koepke, R. E. Avison, S. H. Carter and Pinerat; artillery—D. Parr and H. Phillips; adjutant—W. F. G. Thatcher, D. Medley, J. Matheson and R. Doeh.

The men at the Eugene school are given hard training under Colonel Leader, but the instruction is thorough, as evidenced by a letter of commendation written by General Morrison, commanding the department of the west, United States army, San Francisco.

A registrant no longer will have the right or privilege of applying to be sent to a medical advisory board after he has been examined. This is a move to expedite the handling of the men who have passed the examination.
