

LOYAL PEOPLE RALLY TO AID IN HARVESTING

Government Motion Picture Operator Pays Tribute to Both Sexes, Women in Particular. SOME LOAFERS ARE FOUND

Indiana Said to Have Best Way for Coping With Labor Stringency and Waste Was Less.

The magnificent way in which men and women have responded to the call for harvesting the crops of the country in nearly every state of the Union was told by G. R. Goergens, motion picture photographer for the department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., Saturday at the district forest office, where he spent a few hours.

Mr. Goergens has been away from Washington since June 1, taking pictures over the entire central and western parts of the country, particularly harvesting pictures, showing the methods adopted by different localities in improved machinery to meet the demands arising from scarcity of labor, and the ways in which they obtained their workmen.

Particularly enthusiastic was Mr. Goergens about the work of the women. "Wherever I have gone I have found them 100 per cent loyal Americans," he declared emphatically. "I cannot say too much for the work of the women's land army. Every farmer I spoke to seemed very enthusiastic and claimed it was the best class of labor he had ever had. In many places they worked in the same fields with Japs, and completely outdid them."

Some loafers found At Lodi, Cal., Mr. Goergens took some pictures of men loafers under the shade of a tree. When my train stopped three of them asked me for something," he said. "I got several pictures of them loitering around in the shade and doing nothing. In contrast to them I got some excellent pictures of the land army camp, where about 95 girls were leading a semi-military life, and working in the fields by day, helping the farmers with their work.

They were an excellent class of girls, according to Mr. Goergens, and were organized into squads, over each of which was a captain, who assumed the responsibility of directing their work.

Mr. Goergens lauded the methods adopted by the council of defense of Indiana to get the crops harvested. Every adult man or woman was obliged to sign a pledge card, agreeing to give five days of labor in the harvest fields. It didn't matter what his occupation might be, or whether he got some excellent pictures of the land army camp, where about 95 girls were leading a semi-military life, and working in the fields by day, helping the farmers with their work.

Standard Wage Paid The workmen were given their dinners and the standard wage paid for labor of this class. They were obliged to accept this wage, but could give it to the Red Cross if they did not wish to keep it. This system spread rapidly over the state from Huntington, where it originated, and extended into Illinois, which proved a close second in the harvesting race.

The scheme included having doctors on hand to give first aid treatment to anyone having an accident, sunstroke or sudden sickness, and ambulances which hauled them to their homes free of charge.

In some localities where the wheat was shocked, men from the towns left their work about 4 o'clock in the afternoon to shock the grain after the farmer had mowed it.

Waste in harvesting methods were noticed by the agricultural representatives in a number of communities, but this the department hopes eventually to eliminate. In Indiana, where the harvesting was done through the patriotism of the citizens, the minimum amount of waste was observed.

Will Take Pictures Here Mr. Goergens has just taken some dairy pictures at Corvallis, among them some of women testing cows, cutting grain and filling silos. Two young women who are just completing the cow testing course, according to Mr. Goergens, are the first women known to have taken up the work.

Mr. Goergens went to Eagle Creek today, accompanied by A. G. Jackson, forest examiner, to take some pictures of the trail. He expects to take some market pictures in Portland and spend a little time on a few dairy farms close to the city before leaving for Montana, where he is due October 6.

Toothpick Conservation Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 29.—(I. N. RECORD TO BE MADE OF ALL MEDICAL MEN AND WOMEN IN STATE

Volunteer Medical Service to Aid Army, Navy and Public Health Service.

The Oregon state executive committee of the Volunteer Medical Service corps has been announced by the central governing board to consist of the following physicians:

A. J. Giesey, chairman; H. C. Jeffers, secretary; S. E. Joseph, William Kuykendall and J. A. Fulton.

The committee will co-operate with the central governing board in prosecuting all activities pertaining to the mobilization and enrollment of members of the Volunteer Medical Service corps throughout the state.

One representative from each county has also been appointed to co-operate with the executive committee. Dr. H. S. Nichols, E. P. Geary, J. F. Dickson, William L. Wood, J. K. Locke and E. F. Tucker being representatives of Multnomah county.

The Volunteer Medical Service corps was authorized by the Council of National Defense, and has for its purpose the placing on record of all medical men and women in the United States, aiding in the war effort by their medical service in supplying war medical needs, providing the best civilian medical service possible and giving recognition to all who record themselves either in army, navy, public health activities or civilian service.

The organization provides means for obtaining quickly men and women for any service required, furnishes recommendations and necessary credentials to assure the best of medical service, both military and civil, and determines beyond question the attitude of the individual toward the war.

The affairs of the corps are conducted from the general headquarters at Washington under the Council of National Defense.

Besides the state executive committee and county representatives, the Volunteer Medical Service corps has a central governing board which passes upon all appointments.

Amherst College To Have Student Army Training

Amherst, Mass., Sept. 27.—In order to provide for young men who wish to become members of the students' army training corps, and who are not able to meet the regular requirements for admission to Amherst, the faculty has voted to receive as special students graduates of a standard four year preparatory school course, or those having equivalent educational qualifications.

This action has been taken in response to a ruling of the committee on education and special training of the war department. Special students will be received at the beginning of each quarter. Applications for the first quarter will be considered up to October 1, 1918. Inquiries regard admission should be addressed to the secretary of the faculty, Amherst college, Amherst, Mass.

The advantages of membership in the corps to those boys of 18 years or over wishing to continue their education at government expense, and to have an opportunity to qualify as officers, are apparent.

In matters of discipline and organization Amherst will become a military institution. In spirit and academic standards the old Amherst will remain.

College opened as usual on September 19. Freshmen were assigned temporary rooms in the dormitories and the older men occupy their quarters in the fraternity houses. Fraternities are having the usual "rush" season. In response to the government's request that quarters and mess correspond as far as possible to those in a military school or camp, on October 1 the members of the Amherst corps will be assigned quarters in North and South dormitories and in the Morris Pratt Memorial dormitory. A meeting of representatives of each fraternity corporation was held in Amherst last week. It was the sense of the meeting that the fraternity houses be offered to the college for the purposes of the military authorities in case of need. After October 1, however, the fraternity houses will probably be closed until requisitioned by the college.

La Salle Drier Burns Lebanon, Sept. 28.—A prune drier on the farm of S. A. Lassie near this city was destroyed by fire Friday morning, causing a loss of $5000, with $4000 insurance. Sixteen hundred bushels of prunes were burned. The fire is believed to have started from a defect in the furnace.

LEBANON FARMERS RAISE SORGHUM CANE; DEFY SUGAR SHORTAGE

Old Time Method Revived of Raising Own Cane for Molasses; Mill Is Installed.

Lebanon, Sept. 28.—Several farmers of this section have raised an acre or so each of sorghum cane this year and L. L. Haskins has put up a small mill for making sorghum molasses. The result is very successful, which is much to be appreciated in these times when sugar is so scarce. The production of the sorghum cane will, doubtless, increase considerably in this section.

Lebanon Nurse Called Lebanon, Sept. 28.—Miss Mary Lawrence, a graduate nurse, received a call for government service last week and last Saturday reported for examination at Vancouver, Wash. She is one of 58 nurses at the camp who serve their preliminary course there and are moved on to France as soon as they become efficient in army work and gain a little knowledge of the French language.

Miller Passes Tests Lebanon, Sept. 28.—Dr. R. Bruce Miller, a local physician, went to Vancouver, Wash., Saturday and took the army medical examination, passing with almost a perfect score. His examination papers were sent to Washington, D. C., for approval.

Sawmill Burns Down Lebanon, Sept. 28.—The sawmill of the Henry Gerlich & Timber company on McDowell creek near this city burned down Wednesday night. The fire burned rapidly, destroying everything but the engine. The loss was $1000, no insurance. The mill is being rebuilt and will be ready for operation within a few weeks.

This mill and the mill of Gerlich-Hoerr Lumber company have been running to capacity and the two mills have shipped about 100 carloads of ties and lumber during the summer. The lumber industry has added much to the prosperity of this section.

MRS. F. A. HENNINGSEN, MOTHER OF TWELVE, ALL LIVING, PASSES

First to Die of Remarkable Family Group of 48 Persons; All but Three Present.

With the passing away of Mrs. Frederick A. Henningsen at her home at Riverdale, September 16, occurred the first death in a remarkable family group of 48 persons, including her surviving husband, all of whom, with the exception of two daughters and a son, were present at the funeral services.

Mrs. Henningsen was the mother of 12 children and the grandmother of 34. She was the daughter of Dr. Anker Paulsen and was born at Ankersminde, Denmark, November 23, 1851. She was married to Mr. Henningsen in the Haderslev cathedral at Ankersminde, February 12, 1873. Shortly after the birth of their tenth child the Henningsens left Denmark, seeking the greater freedom and better opportunities of America. They came to Denver, Colo., in 1889, where their son, Fred, was born.

After living in Denver three years, during the hard times of the early nineties, business opportunities at Superior, Neb., induced a move there, and this was their family home for nearly 20 years. Their youngest son, Victor, now in the national army, was born. Prior to the war many visits were made to the old home, Ankersminde (Danish for Anker's memory) which was built by Mrs. Henningsen's father as a quiet retreat for the family while living in Europe and for those who may go there.

Mrs. and Mr. Henningsen were frequent visitors in Portland, having a son, A. P. Henningsen, and a daughter, Mrs. F. M. Cronkrite, living here. Attracted by the climate and the wonderful surroundings, which reminded them of the old Danish home, they decided to make their home in Portland and, leaving Nebraska, took a lease for a term of years on the Durham home at Riverdale.

Beside her husband, the following children survive: Mrs. Henningsen; A. P. Henningsen, 1914 Scott avenue; Mrs. F. M. Cronkrite, 1185 East Pine street; Mrs. P. M. Johnson, Superior, Neb.; Mrs. R. A. McArthur, Butte, Mont.; Mrs. Christian Erlin, Kolding, Denmark; Waldemar F. Henningsen, Butte, Mont.; Mrs. E. E. Horgan, Tacoma; Mrs. Aage Johnsen, Kolding, Denmark; Mrs. Kenneth Christie, Butte; Victor Henningsen, Camp Lewis.

Sons Are Pallbearers Simple and beautiful services, conducted by Rev. John H. Boyd of the First Presbyterian church, were held September 21 at the family home. Mrs. Henningsen was carried to her last resting place in the beautiful mausoleum, "Riverside Abbey," in the Riverside cemetery, a short distance from the home, by her sons, Anker, Fred and Victor.

Dr. T. Fessler Dr. Theodore Fessler died Friday at the Good Samaritan hospital as a result of an operation on his kidneys. Dr. Fessler was born at Grandville, Ill., July 15, 1871, and had practiced medicine for more than 15 years in Portland. He resided at 717 East Ankeny street.

Prisoner Hits Hun, Is Starved to Death Los Angeles, Sept. 28.—(U. P.)—Aubrey Standing, son of Herbert Standing, actor, was starved to death in a German prison camp recently, according to word received by his father today from the British government. Hubby Beat Wife With Cat, Is Charge

Tulsa, Okla., Sept. 28.—A plain, well-fed Maltese cat figures in the divorce petition filed by Mrs. Maggie Carver against John Carver in the local courts. Ever since their marriage at Elk City, Okla., last April, Maggie asserts that John has been abusive and cruel to her.

She alleges that John has beaten her on numerous occasions with their house cat, a Maltese, grabbing it by the tail and raining blows upon her head. Apparently Tabby is still enjoying at least one life yet, as it is still alive. Disposition of the property, except the cat, is asked.

ACCOUNTANTS ARE FEW

SERIOUS SHORTAGE OF EXPERTS DUE TO ARMY CALLS

Washington, Aug. 18.—Expert accountants have become so essential to the war collections that the Government is considering steps to prevent their being taken for army service, and to enroll them in a big reserve similar to that established for physicians. There are only about 2500 certified accountants and 5000 junior accountants in the United States. Internal Revenue Commissioner Roper's program for collecting $8,000,000,000 of taxes next year calls for employing more than 1000 of these. The treasury has suggested to President Wilson that accountants be recognized as a class essential to the war, like physicians, dentists and chemists, and that they not only be exempt from draft, but that some plan be worked out to discourage their voluntary enlistment and to recognize their value in civilian service.
