

ADMINISTRATION MAKES CHANGES IN FOOD REGULATIONS

Entire Month's Supply of Sugar for Family May Now Be Purchased at One Time.

NEW CANNING REGULATION

Unlimited Amount of Flour Also May Be Purchased if Substitutes Are Included.

Sugar regulations of the food administration restricting the purchase of more than two pounds at one time have been amplified so as to permit consumers to purchase a month's supply of sugar at a time, according to an announcement made Saturday by W. B. Ayer, state food administrator, to retail dealers in Oregon.

The two pounds per person per month provision is in no way affected, but the consumer may purchase for the entire family at once, two pounds to each member. For a family of four the customer will be entitled to eight pounds of sugar at a time, and so on.

No more sugar will be sold for canning purposes on and after October 1, except upon the surrender of the special certificates issued by the county administrator.

Flour Restrictions Relaxed
Dealers' cards containing the record of the sugar purchased by their customers will after October 1 be held until called for by the food administration.

Mr. Ayer also calls the attention of the dealers to the modified flour rules, permitting the customer to buy an unlimited amount of flour at one time, providing he purchases at the same time 20 per cent substitutes, except in the purchase of mixed flour labeled "Victory."

Limitation of the profit to butter dealers to 5 cents a pound on cash flour and 6 cents on service sales is also set forth in the circular, as well as the new regulation decreasing the price of bread.

Conservation Necessary
"The necessity for conservation in all food materials is becoming more pronounced as the drain on this country becomes greater from the increasing number of troops the United States is placing in France," said Mr. Ayer Saturday.

On the two specific lines of flour and sugar are special conservation efforts being made by Herbert Hoover, but the additional service consumers can render is to avoid strictly the waste, according to Mr. Ayer.

"The winter conservation campaign of the food administration will be based upon the principle of saving all food possible, and not wasting anything," said Mr. Ayer. "The week beginning October 28 will be given over to a conservation campaign and the distribution of a new house card. But why not begin greater efforts at food saving and greater vigilance against waste now, and by so doing render a daily and hourly war service?"

CONRAD P. OLSON IS NAMED FOR PLACE ON SUPREME BENCH

Governor Rewards State Senator From Multnomah County Who Managed Executive's Contest.

CANDIDATE FOR NOVEMBER

On Accepting Appointment, He Resigns as State Senator; Came From Wisconsin in 1910.

Salem, Or., Sept. 28.—Governor Withycombe this afternoon appointed State Senator Conrad P. Olson of Portland as a member of the Oregon supreme court to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Justice Frank A. Moore. The appointment holds good until January 1, 1919, and in the meantime the people will elect a successor to Justice Moore at the general election November 5.

Senator Olson's appointment is considered a reward for his political activities in behalf of the governor. He was Governor Withycombe's campaign manager during the recent primary election campaign, and at the last session of the legislature he was the governor's spokesman in the senate and championed the governor's measures.

Will Be Candidate in November
He will be a candidate for election on November 5 and will make a campaign to have the voters write his name on the ballot, as it is too late to have the names of any candidates printed on the ballot. Whether there will be other candidates is not known at this time.

Immediately following his appointment, Senator Olson filed his oath of office with the secretary of state. He had been here for the last three days looking after his interests in the matter. At the time he filed his oath of office as justice of the supreme court he filed with the governor his resignation as state senator from Multnomah county.

It will mean that a state senator will have to be elected in that county at the general election by the voters writing in the name of their choice, as no name of candidates for the place can be placed on the ballot.

Senator Olson is 36 years old. He was born and educated in Wisconsin, where he attended normal school and university and taught school and served as county school superintendent and finally studied law at the University of Wisconsin. After practicing law for a time at Ashland, Wis., he moved to Portland and opened a law office in 1909. In 1912 he was elected to the legislature, serving in the lower house during the 1913 session. He was re-elected in 1914 and in 1916 he was elected state senator.

He married in 1910 Nellie C. Frost, a schoolmate at the University of Wisconsin. They have two children.

If the commissions and growers wait for the decision of the interstate commerce commission in the case which has been filed before that body against the increase in freight rates, where freight rates are much higher and distances to markets are much greater than in the east and middle west.

Suffrage Is Facing Certain Defeat if Senate Takes Vote

Washington, Sept. 28.—(U. P.)—Defeat of woman suffrage, if the senate votes on it this session, was made certain today when Senator Benet, South Carolina, in his maiden speech came out against suffrage.

Benet's stand astounded suffragists, for all along he had been counted on as one of the 31 Democrats who would support the resolution. As Benet delivered this speech suffragists were notified Senator Martin, Kentucky, appointed to succeed Senator James, also is wavering.

The suffrage leaders in the senate, admitting defeat, expected word from Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, head of the suffrage organization, to drop the whole question for the time being rather than submit it to a vote and certain defeat.

Wear Liberty Badge 3 Weeks, Says Smith

Robert E. Smith, executive manager for Oregon of the Liberty Loan, has issued an appeal to bond subscribers to wear the button for at least three weeks. "The button serves as a protection against criticism to the wearer and tends to inspire others to the purchase of bonds," said Mr. Smith. SAN FRANCISCO'S RED LIGHTS PAINTED WHITE IN PAUL SMITH'S VICE CRUSADE

THE FALL OF BARBARY COAST

THE CITY OF SEATTLE
Ole Hanson, Mayor.

Rev. Paul Smith,
New Washington Hotel,
Seattle, Wash.

My Dear Sir: I enjoyed very much your great reform picture, "The Finger of Justice." Its message will aid the authorities in their efforts to bring about better conditions in our city life. That any city allows profit to be made of vice is unspeakable. A red-light district is a relic of ignorance and barbarism, a breeding place for poverty, crime, blindness, insanity and worse. I am wholly in favor of any program which will rid the fallen and keep others from slipping. Yours very truly,
OLE HANSON, Mayor.
