Names of 162 Oregon Boys. Are Inscribed on State's Boll of Honor State's Roll of Honor.

Incomplete Records in Office of Adjutant General Include Names of Men in Army, Navy and Marine Corps Who Have Made the Supreme Sacrifice That the World May Be Freed From the Prussian Menace.

D ECORDS of the office of Adjutant-General C. F. Beebe show 162 gold stars blazing on Oregon's service flag. The record is incomplete and unofficial: The information was gleaned from all sources. Relatives of Oregon soldiers who have lost their lives, either on the battlefield or in hospitals, are asked by General Beebe to notify his office if the names of their soldier boys are not on the list reproduced here.

Applegate, Willis Ivan, Company D, 318th Engineers, died of pneumonia at Vancouver Barracks February 2, 1918; Jacksonville; grandmother, Mrs. Ma-

Abbey, Aiden Benton, Company B, Oregon Engineers, died of pneumonia and measles in France; Elk City; parents Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Abbey.
Atchison, Thomas F., 37th Infantry. Atchison, Thomas F., 37th Infantry, killed in action by Mexican snipers near Zapata, Texas, April 15, 1918; Mayger; John C., George D. Atchison, brothers; Mrs. Louis Fluhrer, sister.

Andrews, Bert Emanuel, 42d Division, A. E. F., died of bronchitis in France, December 27, 1917; La Grande; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Andrews.

Auer, Charles, U. S. Marine corps, killed in action at Chateap-Thierry, June 6, 1918; awarded posthumus cross; parents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Auer, Salem.

Atkinson, Clemic E., Company G. 18th Atkinson, Clemie E., Company G. 18th Infantry, died from wounds received on western front, May 6, 1918; Sixes River; other, Mrs. Eliza Montague. Aldrich, Joseph Moxey, 9th Field Artillery, killed by pitched ball in game at Fort Sill, Okla. June 11, 1918; Canby; father, James H. Aldrich.

Agren, Peter A., 20th Engineers, victim of Tuscania disaster, Februery 5, 1918; Jewell; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W.

Barrett, Gerald Joseph, U. S. Railway Engineers, killed in line of duty by train December 31, 1917, in France; Portland; parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Barrett, 266

Twenty-first streets

Bollock, Edmond Carll, U. S. Marine corps, gassed in action in France April 15, 1918; Portland; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Bollack, 712½ Kearney street.

Beneffel, Frederick Tolman, 20th Engineers, died of lobar pneumonia February 14, 1918, in Scotland; Lakeview; mother, Mrs. R. L. Benefiel.

Baldwin, Perry Whiting, Spruce Division died of lobar pneumonia March 21; sion, died of lobar pneumonia March 21; 1918, at spruce camp near Toledo, Or.; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Whiting P. Bald-

Bates, Henry G., 20th Engineers, vic-n of Tuscania disaster, February 5, 18; Baker; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed-Bates. Bellinger, Ivan Ellsworth, M. O. R. C.

Bellinger, Ivan Ellsworth, M. O. R. C., died of bronchial pneumonia January 17, 1918, at Fort Riley, Kan., military training camp; Sweet Home; wife, Mrs. Lola B. Bellinger, Salem.
Bernitt, Sidney W., 26th Enginers, victim of Tuscania disaster February 5, 1918; Marshfield; father, Edward W. Bessey, Alden Erastus, U. S. Navy.

died of heart failure February 5, 1918, at League Island navy yard, Philadelphia, Pa.: Marshfield; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eimer L. Bessey.

Brown, Thomas Roby, 20th Engineers, died of tuberculosis March 11\ 1918, at base hospital in France; Sams Valley: mother, Mrs. Laura Ellen Brown, Brown, Burton Thomas, Third Oregon Infantry, shot himself with service rifle July 23 1917, at Medford, Or.; Oregon July 23, 1917, at Medford, Or.; Oregon City; parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Brown. Bradshaw, William Moore, second lieutenant, 148th Fleid Artillery, died of pneumonia November 23, 1917, at Rockefeller hospital. N. Y.; Portland; aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Bradshaw, 463 East Eighth street north.

Brown, Clifford Wiley, U. S. N., died of rheumatic fever February 13, 1918, at base hospital, Hampton Roads, Va.; Oregon City; parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Brown.

Brown.

Baier, William, 20th Engineers, died of cardiac failure March 26, 1918, at Walter Reed hospital, Washington, D. C.; Canyon City; mother, Mrs. Mary Hall.

Bartlett, Emery Augustus, U. S. Marines, died of wounds received in action in France, June 12, 1918; Salem; parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bartlett, Oak Grove.

Brittain, Kenneth Etmore, Medical department, Company A, died of pneumonia June 29, 1918, at Camp Kearny, Cal.; Portland; mother, Mrs. Emma Brittain, St. Helens, Or.

Bilderback, Earl, 361st Infantry, died of pneumonia June 12, 1918, at Camp Lewis, Wash; Corvallis; parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bilderback.

Chamberlain, Joel Booth, Naval Militia, died of tonsilitis and heart failure February 1, 1918, at Halifax, N. S.; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo D. Chamberlain, Lebanon.

Croshaw, Robert E., Coast Artillery corps, died of disease October 24, 1917, at post hospital Fort Stevens, Or.; Salem; parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Croshaw.

Cudaby, Howard L., Merchants Ma-ine, killed when ship Florence H. was slown up at French port April 17, 1918; Portland; father, J. W. Cudahy, 341 Portland: father, J. W. Cudahy, 341
Fourteenth street.
Cooper, Thomas Dean; 31st Engineers, died of disease April 4, 1918, at military hospital at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.; Portland; mother, Mrs. R. L. Cooper, 4328 East Forty-third street south.
Clark, Joseph Charles, U. S. Marines, killed in action in France between June 2 and 10; Monmouth; brother, William Clark, Springfield.

and 10; Monmouth; brother, William Bark, Springfield. Calabrese, Rocco, 20th Engineers, vic-lm of Tuscania disaster February 5, 918; Portland; father, Frank Calabrese, 294 Sheridan street.

294 Sheridan street.
Close, Stuart Murphy, 76th Aero Construction squadron, died of airplane accident October 18, 1917, while in training, San Antonio, Texas; mother, Mrs. Adeline Close, 1295 South Corbett street.

Bavis, Walter Ray, 186th Depot Brigade, died of disease June 11, 1918, at tire economy is to buy United States Tires which give the greatest mileage for your money. Usco, Plain,

Tire Economy

Royal Cord
Chain, Nobby Cord
"United States Tires are Good Tires" Headquarters for United States Tires John F. Rose, Agent Standard Tire & Auto Supply

84 6th St. Bdwy. 3651

pany, died of disease March 29, 1918, Washington, D. C.; Portland; mother, Mrs. Mary L. Carter, Route A.

Larsen, Henry K., Quartermaster corps, died of disease March 19, 1918, in France: Imbler; parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Larsen, Louis Olaf, 20th Forestry Engineers, died of disease January 15, 1918, in France; Wauna; father, Henry Lar-Minker, Clarence Stanley, U. S. Navy, died of disease March 13, 1918, New York; Salem; parents, J. F. and Sarah Elizabeth Minker.

Mattson, Helmar, corporal in 163rd Infantry, died of disease June 26, 1918, in France; Prineville; parents, Mr. and north.

Mark, Ray, 148th Field Artillery, died from accidental inhaling of gas November 4, 1917, Camp Mills; Sheridan; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peire Mark.

Matthews, Leland Allen, lieutenant in 28th Aero squadron, died in action in France March 26, 1918; Florence; parents. Dr. Owen and M. Belie Matthews.

Melrose, Dale Douglas, 361st Ambulance company, died of disease December 18, 1918, at Camp Lewis, Wash.; Eugene; father, Phillip G. Melrose, Caryville, Wis.

Camp Lewis; Ashland; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Darius N. Davis.

Dewoife, Milford Gaylord, 9th Regiment, killed in action July 1, 1918, in France; mother; Mrs. H. C. Richmond, 6398 Eighty-third street southeast.

Davis, Grover Oliver, 448th Squadron, died of disease at Vancouver Barracks February 27, 1918; Alsea; sister, Mrs. Lee Anderson.

Deetz, Jonas Leroy, 41st Division, died in action in France June 13, 1918; Aurora; parents, H. H. and Rebecca Deetz.

Dwire, Garrie R., Canadian contingent, died of disease Aprile 11, 1918, at military hospital at Quebec, Canada; Silverton; mother, Mrs. Katherine Dwire.

Dixon, Levi B., 65th C. A. C., died of disease, April 28, 1918, in Winchester, Eng.; Silverton; mother, Mrs. Lillian C. Cannon.

Deag. Ablitan Lee 16th Calcumble C.

Eng.; Silverton; mother, Mrs. Lillian C. Cannon.

Deas, Abijah Lee, 16th Columbia C. A. C., died of disease March 5, 1918, at Fort Stevens, Or.; Riddle; father, I. A. Deas.
Denver, Roberty ames, 20th Engineers, died of disease contracted in line of duty. February 5, 1918, Washington, D. C.; mother, Mrs. Eva A. Denver, Astoria.
Dugger, Samuel Wesley, sergeant in 7th Cavalry, died of disease February 23, 1918, at El Paso, Texas; Scio; parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Dugger.
Denhey, Malcolm J., first lieutenant Medical corps, died of disease March 27, 1918, at Camp Lewis; Portland; wife, Mrs. Malcolm Denney, Iris Apartments.

DeLoach, James Chester, Washington Infantry, died of disease April 11, 1918, Portland, Or.; Centralia, Wash.; parents, Mr. and Mrs. William DeLoach, 391 Weidler street, Portland. Lovelace, Fred Jones, U. S. Navy, died of disease February 13, 1918, Mare Island, Cal.; Wilderville; parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Lovelace. Lewton, Theodore Eugene, buglar in 20th Engineers, victim of Tuscania February 5, 1918; Forest Grove; mother, Mrs. Emma A. ewton.
Line, James Alva, 37th Casualty com-

Portland, Or.; Centralia, Wash.; parents, Mrs. Mary L. Carter. Route A.

Mrs. William DeLoach, 391
Weidler street, Portland.

Easton, Peter, Scottish Rifles, killed in battle Somme river, March 23, 1918, and Mrs. William DeLoach, 3916
Tillamook: brother, Malcolm Easton.
Elston, Thomas Howard, 23d Engineers, died of disease, Fort Stevens, Or., April 16, 1918; Ashland; parents, Mr. and Mrs.

C. L. Loomis.

Lutrell, Harry Arthur, 13th Aero squadron, died of disease January 21, 1918, at Camp McArthur, Waco, Texas; died of disease January 21, 1918, at Camp McArthur, Waco, Texas; died of disease January 21, 1918, at Camp McArthur, Waco, Texas; Broadbent; parents, Henry and Jennie Larsen, Henry K., Quartermaster corps, died of disease March 19, 1918, in Frazier, Donald R., 369th Aero squadron, died from airplane accident April 19. 1918; parents, F. A. and Annie D. Frazier, Berkeley, Cal. Freeman, Stuart, R. M. A., died from railroad accident, May 10. 1918, in France; Portland; grandmother, Mrs. W. C. Noon, 341 Twelfth street.

C. Noon, 341 Twelfth street.

Fish, Cornie William, U. S. N., died of disease, Mare Island, Cal., Febdisease December 25, 1917, at Mare Island, Cal., Marshfield; mother, Mrs. S. and Mrs. John W. Morgan. Island, Cal; Marshfield; mother, Mrs. S. And Mrs. John W. Morgan.
P. Merrill, Wedderburn.
Frost, Elvin Austin, Third Oregon Infantry, killed in action in France June 7 1918; Linnton; parents, M. L. and Esther E. Frost, Clearmont, Wyo.
Fry, Lee Lincoln, U. S. Marines, killed in action in France June 7, 1918, in battle of Chateau-Thierry; Portland; parents, John J. and Caroline L. Fry, 1172 Boise street.

Minker, Clarence Stanley, U. S. Navy, died of disease March 13, 1918, New Street.

Granstrom, Arthur L., Third Oregon Infantry, died of disease at Fort Bayard N. M., September 20, 1917; Portland, mother, Mrs. Ida Granstrom, Cascade Gurney, James Brian, 20th Engineers, victim of Tuscania disaster February 5, 1918; mother, Mrs. D. J. Gurney, Glide, Or.

Gibbs, Charles R., Sanitary Police, died in service January 2, 1918, in France; Portland; parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Gibbs, 3359 Eighty-second street southeast.

Gunnison, Harry F., U. S. Navy, died of disease March 16, 1918, Ellis Island, N. Y.; Madras; mother, Mrs. Sophia Gunnison, Aurora, Neb.

Gittings, Edward, 166th Depot Brigade, died of disease May 23, 1918, Portland; The Dalles; parents, Rev. and Mrs. Edward Gittings, Salem; wife, Mrs. Ethel Gittings.

fantry, died of disease Julie 26,
France; Princeville; parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mattson.

Mabee, Ralph Maitland, first sergeant
356th Aero squadron, died of disease
April 30, 1918, at New York; wife, Delia
Annette Mabee, McMinnville, Or.

Masterson, Ray, Casualty detachment, died of disease May 15, 1918, Vancouver, Wash.; Richland; parents, William and Annie Masterson. Gunnison, Harry F., U. S. Navy, died of disease March 16, 1918, Ellis Island, N. Y.; Madras; mother, Mrs. Sophia Gunnison, Aurora, Neb.

Gittings, Edward, 166th Depot Brigade, died of disease May 23, 1918, Portland; The Dalles; parents, Rev. and Mrs. Edward Gittings, Salem; wife, Mrs. Edward Gittings, Salem; wife, Mrs. Ethel Gittings, Gibson, Jehn Wesley, U. S. Marines, killed in action June 7, 1918, in France at Chateau-Thierry; Eugene; mother, Mrs. L. C. Sherman.

Green, Oswald D.; Third Oregon Infantry, died of disease January 19, 1918, in New York; Oregon City; father, N. T. Melvin, West Linn.

Mercer, Alan V., 18th Engineers, died of disease September 30, 1917, at Talince, France, while in active service; Cooston; parents, Angus R. and Pauline F. McClelland, Benjamin Glascock, U. S. Medical corps, died of disease April 12, 1918; Hillsboro; parents, Mrs. Angus R. and Sarah McClelland, Benjamin Glascock, U. S. Medical corps, died of disease April 12, 1918; Hillsboro; parents, Mrs. Roy A. Denham.

Huff, Erwin Abraham, 425th Aero Construction squadron, died of disease

Morin, William P., 20th Engineers, vic-

Huff, Erwin Abraham, 425th Aero Construction squadron, died of disease January 29, 1918, Vancouver, Wash.; father, Charles K. Huff, Stanfield.

Hendricks, Kinstey Orandall, 161st U. 8. Infantry, died of disease February 7, 1918, in France; parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hendricks, Beaverton; wife, Agnes B. Hendricks, Portland.

Hines, Willis, Third Oragon Infantry, killed in action July 22, 1918, in France; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Hines, Gales Creek, Or.

Heinz, Walter Earl, 162nd Infantry, died of pneumonia February 28, 1918, in France; Crane, Or.; father, John J. Heinz.

Hansen, William, U. S. Marines, killed in action in France June 7, 1818; decorated for bravery; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernhart Hansen, 1731 Portsmouth avenue, Portland.

Hining, Arthur Alfred, died of disease France; Baker; sister, Mrs. Roy A. Denham.

Morin, William P., 20th Engineers, victim of Tuscania disaster February 5. 1918; Portland; wife, Leata Morin, 897. Gantenbein avenue.

Manning, George Washington, 35th Oregon Infantry, died of disease January 28, 1918, in France; McMinnville; parents, J. C. and Margaret Manning.

McDowell, John Levi, Quartermaster corps, died of disease November 29, 1917, in New York; Paulina; parents, D. A. and Harriett E. McDowell, Prineville.

Maneke, Corporal Carl, 182nd Infantry, died of disease October 23, 1917, Charlotte, N. C.; Portland; mother, Mrs. Lena Maneke, 831 East Thirteenth street north.

Hinns, Arthur Alfred, died of disease June 15, 1918, Presidio, San Francisco, Cal.; mother, Mrs. Ida F. Howe, Roberts, Ors.

Harding, Lee Miller, Signal corps, died of disease June 17, 1917, at Aberdeen, Wash.; mother, Mrs. C. F. Harding, Lacomb, Or.

Hurd, John Clinton, 65th Artillery, died of disease April 9, 1918, Winchester, Eng.: Eugene: parents, C. J. and Eva R. Hurd, Roseburg.

R. Hurd. Roseburg.
Houston, Elmer Affred, 20th Engineers, victim of Tuscania February 5, 1918; Held; parents, Elbert and Cincinnati Houston.
Hunt, Charles David, U. S. Navy, died of disease January 29, 1918, at Naval station. San Diego, Cal.; Portland; uncle, James Renshall. Newberg.
Hadiey, Harvey Loekhart, U. S. Navy, died of disease April 8, 1918, at San Diego, Cal.; Sheridan; parents; Henry G. and Elizabeth Hadley.

Isom

Ormiston, Arthur Dean, 20th Engineers, died of disease, Washington, D. C., January 29, 1918; Days Creek; mother, Mrs. Ellen M. Ormiston, 407 East Ninth street.

Owens, Walter Horace, 161st Infantry, died of disease March 20, 1918, in base hospital No. 17 in France; Baker; parents, A. Perry and Emma Hope Owens.

O'Bourke, Victor Hugo, 65th Artillery, died of disease in France May 2, 1918; Thurston; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. O'Rourke, Mountaindale.

Olson, Edwis H., 162nd Infantry, died of disease May 23, 1918, Winchester, Eng.; Springfield; mother, Mrs. Emma C. Olson. Isom, Forrest Irvin, 28th Infantry, killed in action in France July 21, 1918; Portland; parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Isom, Washougal, Wash.

Johnson, Grant Lee, Oregon Naval Militia, died of disease March 30, 1918, at Naval hospital, Portsmouth, N. H.; Portland; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Johnson, 879 Linn avenue.

Johnson, 879 Linn avenue.

Johnson, Albert Ray, U. S. Navy, died of disease April 15, 1918, on board U. S. S. Mercy; Redmond; parents, Albert and Jennie Johnson, Richmond.

Jackson, Wayne Chester, 9th Infantry, died from injuries received in action in France June 6, 1918; Salem; parents, John G. and Rosa Jackson, Newberg.

Jane, William, major in Royal Engineers, died of wound from aerial bomb in Herman drive at Amiens, France, April 24, 1918; Portland; wife, Mrs. W. Jane, 1540 Hawthorne avenue.

Jones, Olea Harvey, 20th Engineers, died of disease February 3, 1918, Washington, D. C.; Silverton; father, E. J. Jones.

K

Kjelberg, Alfred Lloyd, 20th Engineers, died of disease January 8, 1918, Hoboken, N. J. Clatskanle; mother, Mrs. Christine Erickson.

Kelly, John G., Sirst lieutenant 10th Engineers, killed in motorcycle accident March 15, 1918, in France; Portland; Pierce, James LeRoy, 20th Engineers, killed in motorcycle accident March 15, 1918, in France; Portland; Pierce, James LeRoy, 20th Engineers, Pierce, James LeRoy, 20th Engineers, Pierce, James LeRoy, 20th Enginers, Pierce, James LeRoy, 20th Engineers, Pierce, James LeRoy, 20th Engineers, Pierce, James LeRoy, 20th Engineers, Pierce, James victim of Tuscania disaster February 5, 1918; Creswell; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Pierce. Pines, Marshall Wilder, Canadian Army Medical corps, died as result of German air raid, western front, May 19, 1918; parents, George E. and Amanda W. Pineo, Hood River.

Plog. Walter Fred, 412th Aero squad-ron, died of disease January 14, 1918, Vancouver, Wash.; Hood River; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Plog. Pratt, Captain Frank Shumway, Medical Reserve corps, died of disease at Fort D. A. Russell, Wyo., February 22, 1918; wife, Mrs. Frank S. Pratt, Puyallup, Wash.

Parrish, George Edward, 20th Engineers, died of disease February 14, 1918, at sea; Mount Vernon; Father, George E. Parrish. Palmer, Harvey Thomas, 65th Artillery, died of disease May 9, 1918, Winchester, Eng; Hillsdale; Mrs. Virgie Sullivan. Perin, Claud Dell, 162nd U. S. Infantry, died of disease January 17, 1918, in France; Corvallis; father, B. L. Perin, Roberts, Hubert E., 161st U. S. Infantry, died of disease January 27, 1918, in France; Warren; father, Wallace Nelson Roberts.

Rich, Paul, died of disease January 28,
1918. in France; Salem; mother, Mrs.
Emil Beler. Emil Beler.

Redfield, Joseph Ira, 20th Engineers, victim of Tuscania disaster February 5, 1918; Giendale; parents, Edward E. and Alice Redfield.

Raines, George Arthur, U. S. Marine corps; died of disease February 6, 1918, at Marine hospital, Quantico, Va.; Myrtle Creek; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Raines. Kimble, Edwin R., major of First Engineers, died of wounds received in action April 9, 1918, in Northern France; Portland; mother, Mrs. Alvira Von Harten Kimble, Galveston, Texas.

Kohl, Frank E., 117th Engineers, died of disease March 23, 1918, in France; Logan; father, Philip Kohl, Oregon City.

Kingsbury, Frederick Kittredge, U. S. Navy, died of disease February 21, 1918, at Naval hospital, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Eugene; parents, Lieutenant H. K. and Ella M. Kingsbury, Pullman, Wash.

Kelley, Charlie Ross, 5th Field Artiliery, died of disease, following a gas attack from the enemy, July 6, 1918, in France; Enterprise; mother, Mrs. Mary Kelley, Cove, Or.

Kittleson, Norman, sergeant 164th Depot Brigade, died of disease March 23, 1918, Fort Riley, Kan.; Dallas; parents, Ole and Grethe Kittleson, Vancouver, Wash. Rardin, George L., 162nd Infantry, died of disease August 29, 1918, Vancouver, Wash.; Centralia, Wash.; mother, Mrs. Ella Rardin.

Ross, Bruce Wallace, U. S. Navy, died from burns received from fuel oil explofrom burns received from fuel oil explo-sion on U. S. S. Chemung December 12, 1917; wife, Gertrude Ross, 159 East Sev-entieth street north, Portland. Rosell, Glen, 162nd Regiment, died of disease March 25, 1918. Winchester, Eng.; Sweet Home; mother, Mrs. Ada Rozell. Smith, Roy Alfonzo, 20th Engineers, died of disease December 6, 1917, in France; Glide: parents, William A. and Stevens, Percy Arthur, 20th Engineers, Stevens, Percy Arthur, 20th Engineers, victim of Tuscania disaster February 5, 1918; Bend; mother, Mrs. F. S. Stevens. Shepherd, Rollie M., Quartermaster corps, died of disease. Fort McHenry, Baltimore, Mr., April 22, 1918; Yamhill; parents, William and Sarah Shepherd. Scott, Thomas, Third Oregon, died of asphyxiation in American base hospital in France January 3, 1915; Portland; parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Scott, Ireland. Smith, Ronald Earl, Machine Gun company, killed in action July 19, 1918, in France; Portland; parents, Edward C. and Ellen P. Smith, Gresham. and Ellen P. Smith, Gresham.

Sloan, Ivan Dale, Cavalry troop, died of disease March 7, 1918, Vancouver. Wash.; Grantz Pass; parents, Sterling Price and Emma May Sloan.
Skinner, Harold C., Third Oregon, killed in action in France July 3, 1918; McMinnville; parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Skinner.

Sander, Carl Rinhold, U. S. Navy, died of disease February 8, 1918, at Mare Island, Cal.; North Bend; parents, Ju-lius and Annie Frances Sander, Maple-Spencer, Herbert Guy, 65th Artillery died of disease July 14, 1918, at Limoges France: Ashland; parents, A. C. and Is-

France: Ashland; parents, A. C. and Isabelle P. Spencer.
Smith, Frank Lleyd, corporal in 361st Infantry, died of disease April 12, 1918, Camp Lewis, Wash.; Forest Grove; mother, Mrs. Mary A. Smith.
Scott, Walter Bates, 8th Oregon Coast Artillery, drowned while bathing in surf July 31, 1917, at Fort Stevens, Or.; Portland.; mother, Mrs. L. Carstensen, 68 East Tenth street.

Thompson, Edwin Olander, U. S. Navy, died of disease March 5, 1918, San Diego, Cal.; Elk City; brothers, Thomas, Levi, Alexander and Harold and sister Alpha, Toledo.
Tibbetts, Roy, 166th Depot Brigade, died of disease at Camp Lewis: parents, Elizabeth Minker.

Mowery, Charles Lee, 21st Infantry, silled by Scidental discharge of his cifle July 31, 1918, on municipal dock at Long Beach, Cal.; Baker; sister, Grace J. W. and Alice Tibbetts, Marshfield.

Short Sermons for a Churchless Sunday

In view of the fact that all Portland churches will be closed today because of the edict against assemblies as a preventive measure against influenza, several of Portland's leading clergymen have prepared for The Sunday Journal short sermons for the day. The Character and Functions of the Church. By Rev. Joshua Stansfield, First Methodist Church "But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should show forth the praises of Him who hath called you out of darkness into His marvelous

THIS general letter to Peter and clear a statement of the purpose of saving grace as we have in any letter in the New Testament writings. There is in it a catholicity of spirit and in it a cathelicity of spirit and a wideness of view, a high ideal and as clear perception of the purpose of God touching man, as we have in any part of the Bible, and when we remember to whom it was writtened throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia and Bithynis," and the burden of the letter is this: That these people—outsiders, many of them outcasts and persons of no standing intellectually, socially or religiously—these persons were "elect" according to the knewledge and purpose of God to a noble character and a blameless walk and conversation.

Underlying the whole letter is this conviction: That Underlying the whole letter is this conviction: That God has elected people to eternal life and to noble character, and therein is the very heart of the gospel of Jesus Christ. It is a gospel, or a good word which declares the purpose and intent of God towards people; and that divine purpose is that people should come to know themselves, and come into their right relation with God, and should live the life to which they are called by divine grace.

The Christian religion is a revelation of God, a revelation or discovery of man, and a marvelous inspiration in human life to rese to its true self, to its highest, its noblest, its best. And so the writer says: "Ye, ye, ye are called to be a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a peculiar people, that ye should show forth the praises of God, who has called you out of darkness into His marvelous light."

Now, what is the marvelous light of the Christian life? It is the clear light of divine revelation coming to man as a personal experience, that he is called to be a worthy child of God. What is the darkness of a sinful life? It is that

What is the darkness of a sinful life? It is that groping in deeds, and thoughts, and feelings, which are unworthy of the child of the Great Father—God. What is the great New Testament injunction hereon? "Walk in the light as ye have received the light." This is one of the possibilities of human life. There is in man a deep native potentiality—and the Gospel is to waken man, to call man, to the realization of himself in Jesus Christ. The very essence of Christian experience is such a consciousness. (here Christian experience is such a consciousness. Our fathers called it the "witness of the spirit." It is the individual, coming into the consciousness of his relation to God, and to a realization of the life he is called to live.

Christianity does more to emphasize the real worth of human nature, and the possibilities of human life than any other religion in the world; and whether all people understand Christianity in all its details, the same way or not, one thing is universally recognized. nized: wherever the gospel of Christ touches an individual or a people, whatever the name or sect or denominational peculiarities, they begin to look up; they feel they are called to be cleaner, and purer, Tolliver, Beanie Boswell, corporal of 48th Infantry, died of disease June 28, 1917, in hospital at Syracuse, N. Y.; Springfield; father, Grant R. Tolliver, Templeton. Raymond Everett, second lieutenant R. M. A., died from airplane accident, June 28, 1918, at Seifridge field, Mount Clemens, Mich.; Portland; brother, Leighton F. Templeton, 52 and truer, and better. They feel they are called with "a high calling." with "a high calling."

Whatever the differences of our ferm of worship, wherever the gospel goes, with many differences of interpretation, there is that one underlying note: "You are called to be saints." Among all the uplifting, regenerating, saving, sanctifying influences of the Christian civiligation, there is nothing in all human organizations which begins to equal the saving, uplifting, sanctifying influence of the gospel of Jesus Christ.

The Law of the Positive

By REV. JOHN H. BOYD, D. D. Pastor First Pres-byterian Church.

Text, Matt. 19:21: "H thou wilt be perfect; go sell—give —tollow me."

OUR mental and spiritual

OUR mental and spiritual nature is constituted of two elements, the one negative, the other positive. Both are necessary. The function of the negative is protective and conservative, but the fullness and zest of life, its bloom and glory spring from the positive. The success and enjoyment of life depend upon the maintenance of due balance between the two. If the negative become the dominant element, temperament and character are seriously and injuriously affected; growth is arrested and joy is lost. That state of intellectual caution which we call doubt has an essential place in philosophy and religion. It is a feature of that sturdy thing we call common sense, but doubt doesn't satisfy. Confidence is needed. The negative quality of restraint and self-control are admirable and noble, but life has not reached its best until the great positive passions of love glow within. Ideals are vain and a mere dreamer of dreams contemptible, until the visions of the inner realm are flashed forth in some strong enthusiastic endeavor. This idea of the negative and positive in life is the center account. the visions of the inner realm are flashed forth in some strong enthusiastic endeavor. This idea of the negative and positive in life is the center around which the story of Christ's interview with the young ruler crystallizes. The ruler had never killed a fellow man, but he had never saved one. He had not lusted, but he had done nothing to wipe the stains of lust from the cid earth. He had never stolen or slandered, but he had never gone out into the field to contend for truth and honesty.

Jesus sees all this and knows that the need is of the positive, so he says Go!—positive—sell!—positive—learn, grow, labor, sacrifice, suffer. There are three types of Christians who get very little out of the life which they profess. They live in chronic, spiritual weakness and unrest of soul, because their lives are fragmentary and negative. First, there are those who remain all their days hard by the basic facts of the Christian life. The initial steps and primary elements of religious experience alone engage them. They are afraid to lose sight of the gate through which they came, lest they should not be sure of having entered. To them religion is personal questions of conviction of sin, repentance, the new life, conversion, saving farth, abiding in Christ, perseverance, the arrives at heaven.

Second, there are those whose religious life is em-Second, there are those whose religious life is employed wholly in soul-culture—in the improvement of their inner states and graces. They read countless books about the higher life, the deeper, sweeter knowledge and feelings of religion in order that their souls may take on a higher polish and arrive at a more perfect finish. The impulse and the aim are artistic. The result and the enjoyment are individual. Holiness becomes an end, and that end one of per-Holiness becomes an end, and that end one of personal adornment and endowment.

Again, there is a third class, consisting of those Christians who have settled down into a permanent distrust of their own ability to attain high spiritual culture or to perform worthy religious acts. These culture or to perform worthy religious acts. These live in a state of chronic spiritual weakness, burdened with a lassitude which makes all the exercises and responsibilities of religion irksome. This leads to irritation. All tired people are fretful. Spiritual fatigue produces the critic. Nothing goes right in state or church. This is disease, arising from a life

Wilson, Claude, 15th U. S. Infantry, died of disease July 27, 1918, at Camp Kearny, Cal.; Fife; father, James A. Wilson, 4727 Sixty-third avenue south-which itself is falling and negative. Decline follows, loss of the presence of God; old visions fade from the soul's eye, old habits of worship and service are lost, the soul withers in dryness and rests at last insensate to spiritual realities—dead.

This sad process, with its inevitable, fatal end—all too frequent—is due to violated law—the law of the positive. Life must be positive. The negative parajuges—kills. vzes-kills.

iyzes—kills.

The successful business life is positive; the life of worthy public service is positive; the social life which yields satisfaction is positive; the life of the scholar and artist is positive; our pleasures are found through positive means; our Christianity alone is negative, and it alone disappoints us.

The Necessity for Sacrifice

THE RT. REV. WALTER TAYLOR SUMNER, D. D.,

Bishop of Oregon.

St. Matthew, xwi.26: "For what is a man profited if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul?"

THE bishop of London has pointed out in one of his THE bishop of London has pointed out in one of his fecent sermons that one of the most effective posters used in England shows the king of Belgium followed by a sinister figure who is saying: "You have lost everything"; and the king replying: "Not my soul"! Such a spirit as this is a spirit born of suffering and sacrifice, and coming through it all unscathed and

We are just beginning to suffer here. Many of us have not felt either deprivation or the loss of friends or kindred; but all this may come to us before the or kindred; but all this may come to us before the war is ended. How shall we come through it? With our soul strengthened and our character uplifted?

There are those who are not only not suffering, but are profiting by this war. I know a man who has sent his son to the front, where he has already distinguished hisself. The father has refused to profit one cent through these war times, where an opportunity was offered him to make thousands of dellars. He might have gained the world, but he chose to profit by saving his soul.

This is God's war in which we are engaged. Are we holding back from Him, by holding back from the support of our country? Or are we giving to one, through the other, willingly and gladly? Do we give to our country and to God because we expect something in return, or do we give to God and country in a spirit of thankfulness for all that he has given us in health and prosperity and the power to live in fullness of life?

Three things are in my mind as necessary at this Three things are in my mind as necessary at this

Three things are in my mind as necessary at this time if we are to save our soul:

1. Repentance to God for neglect of Him and His church in these years gone by. Do you really think that we can keep our bodies in temperance, soberness and chastity without God? That we can really win this war without God? That we are sufficient unto ourselves in any capacity without Him? Then I appeal to you to repent and believe and come into reunion with Him.

2. The necessity of prayer. If we believe in Him then we must believe that He answers our petitions. Ask any soldier today if he believes in prayer; if he has seen service he will tell you that he prays continually; that it is not shot and shell which protects him, but the Almighty God, who watches over him, and that He and nothing else avails.

3. The necessity of universal service. If the war

3. The necessity of universal service. If the war does nothing more for America, it will teach as obedience, self-discipline and the joy of service. How obedience, seit-discipline and the joy of service. How many of us are calling out, "Here am I; send me!"? We must have relaxation and honest recreation; but with the Red Cross organization calling for helpers with the Red Cross organization calling for helpers all over the city, what excuse can we present when no work is done and recreation is the program for the afternoon and evening of the majority?

It is only by sacrifice and the necessity of repentance, prayer and service that we shall be able to save our soul or the soul of the nation.

"No easy hopes or lies shall bring us to our goal, But iron sacrifice of body, will and soul."

Tolle, Lewis Edward, U. S. Navy, died of disease February 13, 1918, at U. S. of disease March 1, 1918, at Goat Island, Orville W. Watts.

Cal.; Merrill; parents, Henry F. and Effic M. Tolle.

Wisner, John David, Aviation squared father, James B. Venable.

Wisner, John David, Aviation squared for disease February 8, 1918, at Camp died of disease July 27, 1918, at Camp Kelley Fort Sam Houston. Taxon Wisner, John David, Aviation squad-ron, died of disease February 8, 1918, at Camp Kelley, Fort Sam Houston, Texas; Dayville; parents, David A. and Lillie M.

Wood, Lambert Alexander, lieutenant, form hospital at Syracuse, N. Y.; Sir, in hospit

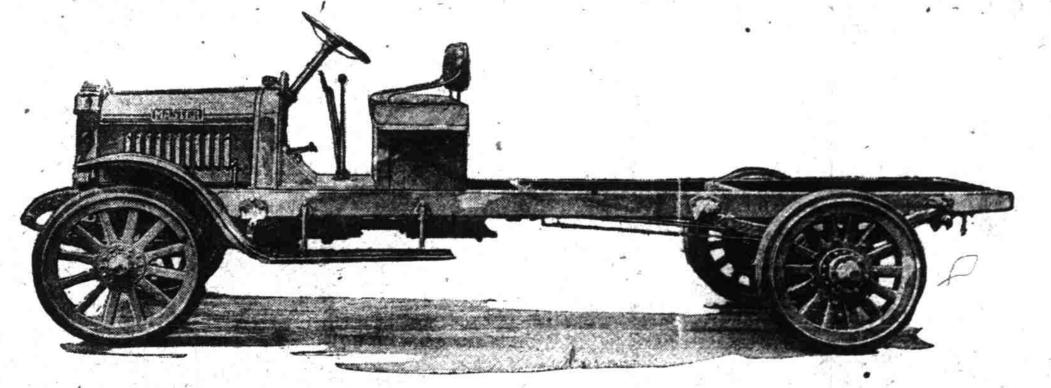

ASTE R TRUCKS

Wood, Lambert Alexander, lieutenant,

Company C, 4th Regulars, instantly killed in action July 18, 1918, while lead-

The biggest thing we can say about Master Trucks is the one thing that ought to interest you—the buyer—who is looking for a substantial truck—is that the slogan

Master of the Load on ANY Road

In every kind of hauling where Master Trucks have been put to work, the high character of Master Construction has been evident. Built in six practical sixes, there is a Master Truck to suit every need.

PROPOSITION FOR PROGRESSIVE DEALERS

COVEY MOTOR CAR CO

Cadillac and Dodge Motor Cars Washington and Twenty-First

Main 6244