

MAKE HUNS PAY, IS DEMAND IN SENATE

Democrats and Republicans Discuss Recent Exchange of Notes With Germany.

Washington, Oct. 14.—(I. N. S.)—Acceptance by Germany and Austria, not only of President Wilson's 14 principles, but of the allied demands for reparation, restitution and guarantees, would be the first essential of an armistice under a resolution introduced in the senate this afternoon, by Senator Thomas, Democrat, from Colorado.

The Thomas resolution would also put the United States congress on record as demanding as a secondary preliminary to armistice negotiations that Germany and Austria should accept the independence of the Polish and Slavic peoples.

Demand, Unconditional Surrender Senator Lodge, introduced a resolution that no further communication be held by the American government with Germany, except in terms of unconditional surrender.

Senator Gore, Democrat, presented a resolution in which the senate would advise the president, in accordance with the elected representatives of Germany and Austria-Hungary in discussing peace.

"Unconditional surrender" will be the answer of the American people to Germany's peace feelers," declared Senator McCumber of North Dakota. He said that Britain and France have again and again declared that inasmuch as Germany has made this unprovoked war, was wholly responsible for it, has been the cause of all the deaths resulting from it, all the misery and suffering, she should not and would not be allowed to escape by a mere restoration of territory she had invaded.

"Germany must pay, pay to the last farthing so that further generations of Germans will remember and feel the insatiable ambition that so nearly destroyed the civilization of the world," said Senator Cummins, Republican of Iowa.

He laid down these conditions of peace, upon which, he said, the allies must insist.

1.—The German army must be disbanded and disbanded.

2.—That the German navy be distributed among her allies.

3.—That her fortifications be dismantled.

4.—That her munition factories be destroyed.

"I hope the senate will make no such tragic blunder," said Senator Reed, "as to give the country the impression that Woodrow Wilson is capable of fritting away the fruits of victory or that stern justice is not to be meted out to the infuriated enemy who has applied the torch to blazing French villages which light up the cruel faces of the fiendish Huns.

"With their hands reeking with the blood of women and children and their ruthless Germanies are making their whining plea for peace. Why? Because the lord of America and its allies is at Germany's throat."

Wants Peace of Generosity "I want to see a ruined German army," said Senator Williams of Mississippi. "I want to see the people of Germany and Austria-Hungary take the government into their own hands. But it gives my heart no pleasure to see German villages burned and German women murdered as Belgian women have been murdered. I do not want to see a ruined Germany."

"However, we can't make peace, we can't make an armistice looking to peace, upon German promises. We must have a dictated not a negotiated peace."

Williams demanded that the dismantling of the Krupp and other German armament and works be one of the stipulations of any armistice.

Wet Weather Halts Paving of Lower Columbia Highway

Salem, Oct. 14.—Because of wet weather, the work of paving nine miles of the lower Columbia river highway between Astoria and Svensen has been discontinued by the Warren Construction company.

The road is now impassable between Astoria and Portland. C. H. Whitmore, assistant state highway engineer, returned from there today and reports that, if the weather will permit, the Warren Construction company will spread base rock over the entire distance to be paved, so the road will be passable this winter. It will take until the middle of next month to spread this rock. Only about 3 1/2 miles of paving is completed.

SPANISH 'FLU' IS CONTROLLED HERE

Conditions Exceedingly Good; 230 Cases Reported; Closing Order to Remain 2 Weeks.

City Health Officer Dr. George Parrish today declared that the situation in Portland regarding Spanish influenza is excellent, considering the small number of cases and the slow progress of the disease. To date probably 230 cases have been reported, only 75 new ones having developed Saturday and Sunday.

Most of the cases under treatment are mild and there are no serious cases of pneumonia. At the Benson school conditions are greatly improved. Patients who were considered in a more or less serious state last week are out of immediate danger. All told, some 70 students are ill.

The first death from Spanish influenza attributable to contact in Portland was that of Arthur Zik, who died at the county hospital. He was a discharged soldier who recently came from Camp Fremont, Cal.

Failure to observe the rules on ventilation of the part of many private homes has been noted by Dr. Parrish. He urges strict observance in this particular.

Two weeks is the minimum time limit for the duration of the mayor's closing order, it is stated. State health officer will decide when the closing order shall be lifted.

Mayor Baker has authorized the opening of the Y. M. C. A. radio and automobile schools, both the day and night sessions, on the ground that they constitute service activities. This modification of the order closing schools generally on account of Spanish influenza was made this morning.

Library officials announced today that while the library is closed during the influenza quarantine, no penalties will be charged for non-return of books.

The library staff is at work as usual, taking advantage of the closing order to catch up with the accumulation of work. Special arrangements have been made to take care of questions usually asked of the library by telephone.

The malady has spread pretty much over the entire city, according to reports reached at the state board of health office. Cases were reported this morning from Baker, Pendleton, La Grande, Huntington, Marshfield and Corvallis. In each instance the town has been closed for all public meetings.

Lieutenant Harris, Local Boy, Killed in Action in France

Lieutenant Clifford Oscar Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Robert Harris, 45 East Second street, was killed in action in France. Another lieutenant in Harris' company sent a card to the parents telling of the death of their son.

Lieutenant Harris was well known in Portland where he was graduated from Washington high school. He entered the Oregon Agricultural college, but at the close of his junior year entered the first officers' training camp at the Presidio, San Francisco. He attended both the first and second training camps, receiving the commission of lieutenant, and was assigned to the 103rd Infantry, Ariz., where he remained three months.

In March of this year he went to France and was stationed at Bordeaux with the 15th cavalry. Wishing to get into more active service, he applied for a transfer and in June was transferred to Company C, 128th Infantry, and sent immediately to the front.

Letters to his parents told of active service throughout the summer at the front.

Besides his parents, two sisters and a brother, all younger, survive.

FOREST FIRE DEAD MAY REACH 1000

(Continued from Page One) through this region today Adjutant General W. F. Rhinow of St. Paul, in charge of this rescue and relief work, has ordered motor truck companies to search for bodies. The general has also ordered hundreds of blankets shipped to Moose Lake, from which destroyed town he is directing his operations.

Mothers Carrying Babies Duluth is the scene today of thousands of homeless persons seeking aid and comfort. Hundreds were brought in during the night by trains and automobiles, while hundreds of others, forced to abandon their autos and wagons along the road, came into the city on foot.

Most of the refugees are women and children, many of the former carrying babies in arms and tugging after them frightened, weary toddlers.

Duluth itself is believed safe from destruction, although several buildings were destroyed. Property damage in the vicinity is placed at many hundred thousands. The wind which was driving the fire into the city has died down and the fire is under control.

Superior is also reported out of danger of destruction. The shipyards of this city were threatened earlier.

Details of the horrors accompanying the hurricane-like torrents of flame which drove the unprepared thousands from their homes are being brought to the city by the refugees. Stories of women throwing themselves into lakes and rivers enroute, to escape the torture of the fire are among the details told. Many of those who themselves escaped are seeking in vain for their families.
