

WAR ORGANIZATION OF AMERICA WINS PRAISE FROM TEAL

Portland Attorney, Home From Rate Hearing, Tells of Big Accomplishments at Capital.

MIRACLE HAS BEEN WROUGHT

Washington, He Says, Has Grown Into International Center of Diplomacy and Finance.

The victories being won by America in the war zone today have as foundation the governmental organization in Washington and the unfolding stream of supplies that proceed in well-directed flow from the United States to meet nearly every form of need in Europe, says Joseph N. Teal, who has just returned from the national capital, where he appeared before the interstate commerce commission in important rate cases.

"Washington today is absolutely unique among the cities of the world," says Mr. Teal. "In the nature of things, there can be no place like it on earth. Overnight it became the international diplomatic center, the military center, the financial center and the way the industrial center of the world. Overnight the strain of carrying the enormous burden, the creation of the machinery with which to operate it, was cast upon what really was the provincial capital of a republic unaccustomed to such doings and having a population of about 850,000 people.

Accomplishments Cause Wonder

"There were not even housing facilities for the essential offices. All had to be created almost on the moment; and, while there is yet much to be done, a miracle in preparation, in construction and in doing has been wrought. Money perhaps has been wasted; quite likely everything has not been done as we would have done it.

"Yet, after all, if one knows the situation as it existed on April 6, 1917, and has the vision to compass what has been done on earth and sea and in the air on two continents since then, one is lost in wonder at what has been accomplished.

"Two million men have been moved across the sea under the constant menace of the submarine, the floating mine and the secret bomb, with scarcely any more loss of life than if they had stayed at home. Food, clothing, war materials of all kinds, guns, powder, shells, railroad steel and cars, everything that goes with or supports an army, have been carried across in amounts that stagger the imagination. Great docks, warehouses, depots, miles of railroads, industries of nearly every kind have been built and established 'over there.' Our navy and our merchant marine are growing so fast one has to keep step with daily changes to be informed.

Much Depends on America

"Our railroads in 15 months after the declaration of war transported, without delay and safely, about 4,000,000 men, of whom about 4,300,000, or nearly 85 per cent, were carried in six months. A Red Cross, the like of which the world has never known, carries its blessed work everywhere. The Y. M. C. A. has extended and extended and never before has the world appreciated the work of this great organization or the structure that would be raised on its foundation. The Knights of Columbus, the Salvation Army, the Jewish Welfare work, the Christian Science Welfare work and scores of others are carrying aid and comfort to the boys here and across the seas.

"A nation from Serbia to Great Britain wants financial aid, Uncle Sam is the banker, and if ammunition or food is required Uncle Sam is the boy to furnish the supplies. If some oppressed people are to be saved from starvation Uncle Sam undertakes the solemn obligation. If the final word is to be said in diplomacy, on which not only peace or war, but the future fate of nations may depend, Washington is the spokesman.

Capital Polyglot of People

"And so it goes, a perfect maelstrom of effort, surging and boiling and running over in the effort to accomplish what but a short time since would have seemed impossible. It really is much more like a great movie picture than a reality. One bumps against a Serbian part in the uniform. The next moment he is apologizing for brushing too vigorously against some diplomatic guest or cabinet officer. Officers from France, Britain, Italy, Canada, from the ends of the earth are everywhere in evidence.

"There are officials of all kinds, army, navy and civilian, women workers, men workers, Red Cross workers, a polyglot of nationalities engaged in every possible kind of effort and activity. Every conceivable idea has an advocate and every advocate is certain his particular notion is the one thing that will win the war.

Washington Is Featless Head

"The railroads are now run from and the price of our shoes fixed by this Washington of ours. They tell us what we shall wear and what we shall eat and how much. Washington says when and what we may ship, what and how much we shall sell and the price we can charge. The prices of wheat, lumber, wool, coal and other essentials are named by Washington.

"When work commences, when work ends, indeed at any time, down town Washington is like a hive of bees and its street cars simply cannot handle the crowds. Strangers, visitors and often what are residents walk the streets looking for a place to fill their stomachs and cover their heads.

"Washington is literally running over spilling its excess population over on the neighboring towns. Not only in Washington but everywhere throughout the country is found the spirit of the crusader. Through all the rush, the hurly burly, the apparent chaos, runs the one dominant thought of a triumphant democracy.

Rate Question Is Interesting

"At the surface it may all seem a perfect welter but beneath the surface are the master hands and minds who are guiding it, the evidence of whose work is best seen on the battle fields of Europe, where without the slightest hope or desire for individual aggrandizement or reward, our boys in the name of humanity and democracy are making the Stars and Stripes the victorious emblem of freedom and brotherhood throughout the world."

In rate matters Mr. Teal found some attorneys claiming that under national railroad administration, the powers of the interstate commerce commission and the state railroad commission are weakened, if not removed and there is promised a rate discussion which will prove of high interest. He found that Spanish influenza is spotted across the country with much lack of uniformity in the quarantining of cities.

MAX QUITS AS HEAD OF MINISTRY IN BERLIN

Advices from Munich today said that every speaker at the convention called upon the Hohenzollerns to abdicate.

Maximilian Hardin Speaks

London, Oct. 15.—Maximilian Hardin, editor of The Zukunft, speaking at a meeting Sunday in the Philharmonic hall in Berlin, said:

"One thing we need not fear—the time is past when a treaty was a scrap of paper. The autocratic rule of certain persons is likewise a thing of the past. The sense of the conqueror it may be a bad peace. I say, however, it is the best which for years was to be expected from this disaster.

"The submarine war was advised by men who will stand before a state tribunal. Great Britain wanted it in order that America might intervene. Tirpitz did good service for the fleet, but for the nation he was the bringer of disaster.

"Capelle spoke of American intervention as absolutely unimportant. In whose hand have we been? Why Russia collapsed, two men, Kuhlmann and Caerlin, were at work, who brought on us the reputation of card-sharppers."

Kaiser for Peace Move

London, Oct. 15.—(U. P.)—Cables from neutral cities, speculating on the real origin of Germany's latest peace note, accepting President Wilson's terms, indicate the belief that the acceptance came from the Kaiser and the military leaders rather than from the radicals. Rotterdam advices declare the pan-Germans were most defiant until General Ludendorff arrived in Berlin from the recent conference at great headquarters, when they suddenly changed their tune. It is believed that the German high command admitted the impossibility of a successful defensive warfare and suggested a peace drive.

Amsterdam messages report the German reply to Wilson was hailed with enthusiasm by all except the pan-Germans, who alone showed displeasure. The pan-Germans, these dispatches said, are trying to reestablish the old system.

Hungarian Premier Is Out

Amsterdam, Oct. 15.—(I. N. S.)—Emperor Carl of Austria has accepted the resignation of Premier Werkele of Hungary, according to information received here today.

C. L. Horn Is Ill At Camp Taylor

Mrs. C. L. Horn, proprietress of the Wheeler Annex, has received a telegram announcing that her husband, who is in training at Camp Taylor in Kentucky, is seriously ill with Spanish influenza. She is preparing to leave immediately for the encampment.

Police Show City Treasurer Adams Some Real Speed

The hurry-up burglar call to the city hall Monday night reporting that the money vault was being robbed proved to be a false alarm when the burglar, City Treasurer Adams, was seen emerging from the vault.

Mr. Adams wanted to test the sturdiness of the police department. Turned in the alarm and opened the vault. Before he had time to close it again, Captain Inskip, Patrolman Nelson and Motorcyclist Officers Scott and Norere were in upon him covering him with their guns. The police arrived at the city hall within two minutes after receiving the call.

Decision Against City Is Reversed In Supreme Court

Justice Burnett Holds City Not Liable for Payment of Claim of Contractor Held by Bankers

WOOD HAULER EMBEZZLES

Contractor Sells Claim to Bank, Which Is Restrained From Collecting From City.

Salem, Oct. 15.—"It would not be common justice to compel the city to pay the claim of the contractor who has embezzled its funds to a greater amount than he had earned," says Justice Burnett in an opinion handed down today by the supreme court in the case of Ashley & Rumsell, bankers, against the city of Portland, appellant.

A man by the name of Hart had a contract with the city for hauling wood. He assigned his claims against the city to plaintiffs, and the trouble arose in making settlement because Hart failed to complete his contract and it was shown that he had collected money for the city and had not turned it over and had converted wood belonging to the city to his own use. The city figured the amount due it from Hart as an offset to his claims, while plaintiffs brought suit to collect the full amount. Circuit Judge Gatens allowed judgment for plaintiffs and this is reversed by the supreme court.

Undisputed Testimony Decides

"No proper conception of the undisputed testimony in the case would justify the conclusion embodied in the judgment of the circuit court," says Justice Burnett. "It is therefore reversed and the case remanded, with directions to enter judgment for the defendant."

Other opinions were handed down as follows:

State vs. Tom Epsales, appellant; appealed from Columbia; appeal from conviction of crime against nature; opinion by Justice Olson; Circuit Judge Eakin affirmed.

La Grande National Bank, appellant, vs. E. W. Oliver; appeal from Multnomah; suit to collect on a promissory note; opinion by Justice Johns; Circuit Judge Tucker affirmed.

Guy L. Wallace, appellant, vs. Oregon Engineering & Construction company; appealed from Clackamas; motion for final determination of suit, which had been remanded to lower court for new trial, is denied; opinion per curiam.

Judge Hamilton's Decision Modified

Everding & Farrell, appellants, vs. Gebhardt Lumber company; appealed from Yamhill; motion to dismiss appeal allowed; opinion by Chief Justice McBride.

John Guilliams et al. vs. Beaver Lake club, appellant; appealed from Lincoln; suit to enjoin defendants from constructing and maintaining a dam near the mouth of Beaver creek and prohibit maintenance of wire fence across creek; opinion by Chief Justice McBride; decree of Circuit Judge Hamilton modified.

Annis M. Haldeman, appellant, vs. Sarah B. Weeks; appealed from Multnomah; suit to secure reconveyance of certain parcels of realty and declare trust in proceeds of $5000 note; opinion by Justice Olson; Circuit Judge Gatens affirmed.

Columbia River Door company, appellant, vs. W. F. Todd et al.; appeal from Multnomah; suit to foreclose mechanic's lien; opinion by Justice Benson; decree of Circuit Judge Morrow modified.

Auto Knocks Down Two Men

Two men, said to be in an intoxicated condition, were knocked down by an automobile Monday night in charge of Clarence Blazer at Fifth and Yamhill streets. They are Dan McManagie, 58, and C. A. Davis. McManagie, who resides at the Palace hotel, was cut and bruised about the head and back. Both men were taken to Good Samaritan hospital.

Hearse Driver Is Fined for Making High Rate of Speed

Because E. H. Myer allowed the hearse he was driving Sunday to go 49 miles an hour on Milwaukee avenue, Judge Rossmann fined Myer $40 in the municipal court Monday.

The court collected $54.50 in fines from 39 speeders tried by Judge Rossmann Monday, the maximum fine being $50 and a one day jail sentence.

Three drivers having glaring headlights contributed $30 in fines, the maximum being $50.

Saturday, Campbell, it is alleged, transported his 17-year-old ward from Burlington to Junction City, Or., for immoral purposes.

Salem, Oct. 15.—Telephone service connection charges of $5, $10 and $15 which were established by order of the postmaster general, will not apply to telephone connections for which application was made prior to September 1. Public Service Commissioner Buchtel says this will affect thousands of persons who have filed applications for telephone service in this state.

The Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company had interpreted the postmaster general's order to apply to all applications for telephone service and that company was imposing these charges on applications which had been filed prior to September 1. As a result many complaints were filed with the public service commission, which took the matter up with the telephone company. In a letter received by the commission today the company says it is refunding to those from whom it collected these charges on applications filed prior to September 1.

Commissioner Buchtel said the commission will also request the company to reinstates applications of persons who had applied prior to September 1 for telephone service, but had cancelled applications rather than pay the additional connection charges.

It's a blessing that American children are so well-fed and cared for in these troublous times.

Give them plenty of Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes and Milk.

Kellogg's contain the needed protein, starches and other carbohydrates. Milk supplies the fats, vitamins, mineral salts, and the casein which corresponds to the lean of meat.

In serving Kellogg's you comply with the Government's wishes by saving wheat, meat, sugar and fuel.

Kellogg's is about the only cereal food that needs no sugar—owing to the flavor and sweetness developed in the Kellogg Process.

Kellogg's is convenient to get. It's at every grocer's—everywhere.

Most people when they say "Corn Flakes" mean "Kellogg's"—the Original—the Flakes that are delicate and thin, with a flavor and crispness all their own.
