Penalized For Patriotism

The order of the war industry board required the discontinuance of waste circulation—free copies, return of unsold copies from news stands, "special editions" and "dead head" subscribers used to pad subscription rolls in order to command higher advertising rates. The Journal had none of this waste circulation at the time the war indus-Paratier reached Victoria Thursday, actirles board order was issued, and never > per cent for the first 50 columns, 15 per cent between 50 and 70 columns, 30 per cent between 70 and 90 columns and 50 per cent for everything above 90 columns. Even greater reductions were required in Sunday editions. The reduction was ordered on the basis of the average number of columns of reading natter during the six months' period from January 1 to July 1 this year. In loyal anticipation of the paper shortage and the government's requirements, The Journal, considerably in advance of government order, had eliminated all non-essential material and was printing only essential news, editorial and feature matter. Now take the fact that this newspaper had neither waste circulation to reduce nor waste space to eliminate, together with the emergency of the paper mills and it will be seen that The Journal, government required it, has, in effect, been penalized for its patriotism while newspapers which had been using white newspapers which had been using white had so consider the state of th paper lavishly and which had a consid-

The Telegram could make the reductions required of it in reading matter and advertising. It could eliminate its excesses in waste circulation and thereby have paper and to spare for its paid circulation. The Oregonian was affected in much the same way as The Journal.

Sunday Paper Reduced

With reductions made in conformity with decrease in paper supply from the mills, The Journal this month is printing an average of 109.5 columns daily, and 51.8 columns reading matter. The Telegram is printing a daily average of 117.5 columns, of which 48.3 columns are advertising and 69.2 columns reading 121.3 columns, of which 62 are advertising and 59.3 reading matter.

Though it regards the paper supply situation as unfair to it and feels that it has been penalized by its own anticipation of the government's necessary relowed an unfair advantage through its waste circulation and excessive use of months of March, April, May and June, when . the averages were taken, The Journal is endeavoring to furnish an even better service than in the past.

While it will be necessary under the emergency rulings of war to dispense with some space consuming features and not to seek increases in paper consuming circulation, The Journal will continue to serve faithfully its country and its loyal subscribers, always with gathering facilities in the war zone

Official Orders Given

The Journal was operating well under its contract for paper when the mills found it necessary to seek relief by limiting consumption. The Journal, Oregonian and Telegram were asked to reduce consumption 12½ per cent under their average consumption during March, April, May and June of this year. During those months The Journal, already on a war basis, was printing a daily average of 125.4 columns, the Oregonian 133.1 columns and the Telegram 137 columns. But mark the disproportion between reading matter and advertising. The Journal was printing a daily average of 55.5 columns of advertising and 69.9 columns of reading matter. The Telegram was printing and sylvary of advertising and 67.7 columns of reading matter. The Oregonian was printing 61.4 columns of reading matter.

BOAT SPIKES BOLTS The Only Post-te-Off Way is "Gets-it."

Inter; might as well use it sooner. Then you are absolutely sure that the corn will loosen from your toe so that you can peel the whole thing off painlessly with your fingers, in one complete piece—just like peeling a banana. It takes a second or two to apply "Gets-It." There's no fussing or puttering. Corn-pains will vanish—that'll keep you sweet while the "Gets-It." does the rest. Nothing new for corns has been discovered since "Gets-It." was born. Follow the judgment of the millions; use "Gets-It." and be sure to be corn and pain free! You'll say it's magic.

"Gets-It," the guaranteed, moneyback corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. Manufactured by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Portland and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by the Owl Drug company—21 stores on the Banific coast.—Adv. RIVETS Northwest Steel Co. PORTLAND, OREGON
