The bride was attired in white net over white silk. She wore the veil worn by the bridegroom's mother at her wedding and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses. Miss Grace Jacobsen was the maid of honor and wore a gown of blue silk and silver lace. She carried pale pink roses. Newton Smith was the best man. Miss Louise Jacobsen played Mendelssohn's Wedding March and Miss Marion Wittenberg sang "I Love You Truly."

The entire house was handsomely decorated in late fall flowers and autumn leaves. Following the ceremony there was a reception attended by about 100 friends. The refreshment table was presided over by Mrs. Wilford Bell and Mrs. Charles Penfield. Mr. and Mrs. Shaver left immediately for a wedding trip to Victoria. Upon their return they will probably reside in Portland. Mr. Shaver is a graduate from the law department of the George Washington university, Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Shaver is an accomplished pianist.

Simple Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have. You will find all itching and itching of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be shiny, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Adv.

TEACHERS ASK FOR INCREASE IN SALARY OF $200 PER YEAR

Payroll for Next Year Estimated at $230,000 to Be Voted on at Special Election Nov. 26.

Request of school teachers for salary increases of $200 a year each, for those receiving less than $3000 a year, will be left to the decision of the taxpayers at a special school election of November 26 next, according to action taken by the board of education Thursday. It is estimated that $230,000 will be needed to take care of the teaching force which aggregates more than 1100. The amount of the tax will be left to the county assessor. It may reach eight-tenths of a mill.

Wives of men in the military service who are now acting as substitute teachers, asked salaries equal to those whose places they are filling. Superintendent D. A. Groat recommended that the teachers receive pay in accordance with their experience, based on the present schedule. Director George E. Thomas urged the granting of the teachers' request. Superintendent Groat will submit recommendations for consideration of the board. Substitute teachers are now receiving from $4 to $5 a day.

Those who signed the petition for the increase are: Mrs. Mary C. Ruffner, Joseph Kellogg school; Mrs. Mildred Haasach, Irvington; Emma Scholl, Woodstock; Essie Crocker, Joseph Kellogg school; Mrs. M. C. Ruffner, Gornley Ingram, Elliot; and Lavonia Becker, Sellwood school. Other substitute teachers are included in the general request. Charges preferred against Principal C. E. Cleveland of the Benson Polytechnic school, by Instructor E. F. Williams, will be heard at an open meeting of the board in the rooms on the third floor of the courthouse, Saturday, at 8 p. m.

Bed Time Tales

Snapper's Friends Disappear

WHEN Jimmy Coon spoke so crossly to little Peter, he scared him to death, and Peter answered, "I wasn't saying anything, except that it was a nice day." "Well, you'd better not," said Jimmy Coon, "for this Pantry business is very serious!"

If you have ever been in a railroad station and seen the telephone booth, six or seven of them all side by side, then you will know that these turtle pantries were just like that—side by side, but some feet apart—and of course it took a very careful eye to find the right one.

Snapper had that careful eye, and he looked at each pantry very carefully, and after a while he found Aunt Patience's pantry. Sure enough, there was a little mark, what in the best families you might call a "hall mark." Of course Aunt Patience put that on to show that those eggs were especially good and not specially old.

Every one jumped with joy, when Snapper put his hand on the latch of the pantry door. They were all so excited that they held their breath.

But what awful thing do you think happened, then? A big voice boomed out, "Snapper, does your Mother know you're out?" It was Uncle Tim Turtle, out for an evening stroll.

"Yes, she does," called back Snapper. "She told me to come down to the beach and get a breath of sea air, for she says my appetite is very poor, and she is worried about my health."

"That's all right, then. I thought you were lost. So long! Give your Mother my best love," and Uncle Tim Turtle shuffled along home.

Snapper, the Snapping Turtle, heard a long sigh of relief, when Uncle Tim was lost to sight—and it took a long time for that; for, even Snapper thought Uncle Tim was very slow.

"Snapper, does your mother know you're out?"

If you had been on that beach you would have thought that Snapper was all alone, there. What had become of Teddy Fossum and Jimmy Coon and Peter Rabbit? Not a sign of one of them, and even Snapper rubbed his eyes and thought it a dream that any one could be near and, least of all, those cunning hunters.

"Have you seen Teddy Fossum, or Jimmy Coon or little Peter Rabbit?" called out Snapper to Chatterbox, who was sitting on the end of a log which lay half on the sea sand and half on the grass. "Where are they? Or am I losing my mind, and haven't they been here hunting that pantry at all?"

Building Material Dealers Warned to Sell on Permits

Dealers in building material have been warned by J. A. Curry, building permit commissioner of the State Council of Defense, against selling to prospective builders who have not secured the necessary city and government permits. Several residents of Portland have been erecting buildings without having secured permits, according to Mr. Curry, and he has requested city officials to prosecute all violators of building regulations. The majority of dealers require purchasers to show city and government permits before goods are delivered and those who are lax have been warned by Commissioner Curry. An investigation of the methods of material dealers by A. E. Doyle, supervisor of pledges of the war industries board, is now under way.

Commissioner Curry has acted favorably on a number of applications this week, among them proposed extension of the plants of the Kierman & Kern Shipbuilding company, Supple-Balsh Shipbuilding corporation, Heese-Martin Iron works and Northwest Steel company. These applications were forwarded to Herbert Witheropon, regional director of the war industries board, for final approval.
