VANCOUVER WILL CLASH WITH REDS

Chemawa Indians Are Coming for Barracks Game Saturday; Capt. Covert Is Ill.

HIGH PRIVATE TUCK MALABKEY, co-coach of the Vancouver barracks division team, will line up his warriors against the Chemawa Indian school at the spruce post Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The game will be in the nature of a workout for the spruce soldiers, as Chemawa has no team which can hold Tuck's outfit at any stage. The Vancouver boys are in good shape and have not let up their practice work in view of the ban put on games by the flu.

Lynn Covert, captain in the marine corps and athletic officer at Mare Island, is down with a mild case of influenza at the Good Samaritan hospital and is unable to continue negotiations for a game with the Multnomah club team. In view of the fact that Captain Covert had his shot in the arm at Mare Island, it is thought he will be around in a few days.

Football practice has been discontinued at the Foundation shipyards until some more contracts have been received by the plant, which is expected in a week or so. In view of the fact that there is no more work for the footballists they will probably be let go until the new contracts come in.

SPORT NOTES

The Central Athletic Association of Pittsburg has more than 500 members. The Pelham Bay naval training station at New York is to use the largest drill hall in this country for indoor athletic meets.

The annual specialty show of the Shepherd Dog club of America will be held in New York city November 23. All prizes will be paid in Thrift Stamps.

Prominent Pioneer Of Baker Is Dead

Baker, Nov. 7.—Richard T. Langrell, a prominent Baker county resident and Oregon pioneer, died suddenly here Monday from heart trouble. Mr. Langrell was born in Alfred, Ontario, Canada, on July 27, 1844. He came to Baker county in 1883, locating in Carson, where he operated a mill and store for a number of years, later engaging in farming. For several years he had retired from active business. Besides his widow, Mr. Langrell is survived by seven children who are: Mrs. Etta Thompson, Maude Langrell, Charles, William and Jack of Baker, and Albert and Richard, who are in the spruce division of the United States army. Mr. Langrell was a Mason and also a member of the Modern Woodmen.

Influenza Claims Cook of Wallacut

Marshfield, Nov. 7.—Sidney Rooper, cook on the barge Wallacut which was wrecked off Coos Bay several days ago, died Tuesday at Mercy hospital in North Bend. Influenza was the cause of his death, which was hastened by the exposure suffered when the barge was stranded in the breakers.

FIRST LIEUTENANT THOMAS EVERETT MAY, 382d infantry, noted Oregon Agricultural college athlete, who was reported wounded in action in a letter received by G. W. Percival, Vancouver, Wash., from Sergeant L. R. Lawson of a medical supply company in France. It was said that May would probably not lose an eye. Lieutenant May was wounded, very likely, in the battle which caused the deaths of Captain "Lige" Worsham and First Lieutenant Ralph J. "Speck" Hurlburt. All three officers were noted football players, Worsham at Purdue, Hurlburt at Michigan and the Multnomah club and May at O. A. C.

Green Pea Falls for Castle Battery A Moves Town Out

Sergeant Stepp Calls Himself a Regular "Hayseed"

ONE day this month, when things were rather quiet along the line and Battery A, 147th field artillery (the old Oregon bunch) had settled down while the 75s were cooling off preparatory to "shocking" the Boche, Mess Sergeant Billie Stepp hunted up the old typewriter at headquarters and rat! tat! tat! the following illuminating article anent the terrible conflict now raging in Europe. Attention!

"Somewhere in the Battle Lines—'God Only Knows What Date—I Forget and Don't Care.'"

"To the Folks of the Rose City: "Into the thick of the fighting again and ducking them more than ever, but in a more scientific way, as we have to duck the snipers' machine gun fire now, too, but we are getting them. Fritz leaves them behind chained to their guns with orders to hold till the reserves come up. I think he means the Yanks, and we sure don't let these birds pull any kameron stuff.

"We sure are giving Kaiser Bill all that is coming to him. By the looks of the prisoners that we are taking he is putting everybody into the paper uniforms that he can find; anybody that can pull a trigger, and the first thing they do when they get up to the line is to beat it for the rear in double time or wait and get taken, as they say that life is not worth living in the land of sauer kraut. They all have big grins on and seem tickled to death to be taken prisoners. The other morn three M. P. were taking in over 500. Can you imagine three Huns taking that many Yanks? No, it would take twice that many Huns to that many Yanks.

"Do you remember about three years ago when the papers used to say thousands of gray uniforms are passing over the roads and all you can hear is the sound of rolling wheels of cuns and their uniforms are the same color of the very ground that they walk on? Well today it's just the opposite. Those men are all retreating and are being followed by men with kahki. The sound of wheels is no more. It is all off. We are the guns now firing, and we're giving that gang that invaded Belgium and other towns 'Hell' and are tickled to do it.

Story Worth Something

"If a guy ever gets out of this alive he sure will be able to go home and tell a story that will be worth a pile of big beers to listen to. But I guess that standing around the bar is a thing of the past. At that, wouldn't it be great to put your feet on the rail and order up a couple and say, 'We sure gave 'em hell at the Marne'."

"We are now in the American crack shock division, and go wherever they want to start something. Our batteries of 75s, are the first line of guns and we see all the action Uncle Sam promised to show us last July when we enlisted. 'See active service with Battery A.' He sure has kept his word.

"No Thanks, Bill!"

"Say, Bob, you ought to be under one of these barrage that we are putting up. These 75s shoot like machine guns and boy! they just rock you to sleep if they don't hit you. When you pass over some of the ground that you have just shelled, you can't figure how in hell any one can get from under that fire. Well, they don't get away, the ground is covered with Fritz-eyes.

"I can't figure where Kaiser Bill gets all this 'Gott mit uns' stuff as we get mittens from the Red Cross, but just now we don't need them as the weather is not cold. Everything the Dutchmen wear they have that saying on. I was just thinking of sending home some of their uniforms to Judge McCredie so his Colts could use them. Maybe they might win a game now and then.

Fall For Castle Staff

"Who was the guy that said: 'See Europe first? If he meant any part of what we have seen and, believe me, we have seen 'Boochoo' of it as this is our fourth front, he sure forgot that in America we have a million things better than they ever dared to have over here. Of course, they have old castles, but what's that? We have an old one

Strohecker Is Barred Because Of Tender Years

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Nov. 7.—Sam Strohecker of Portland, one of the many star players in Portland interscholastic circles last year who are making names for themselves on the varsity squad, will be ineligible in any interscholastic games this season, following the development of the fact that he is barred from playing by the freshmen ruling. The ruling holds in the case of all men in college who are not in the S. A. T. C. unit, but as far as known Strohecker, who is kept out of the S. A. T. C. because of being too young, is the only member of the squad to be effected by the regulation.

AGGIES ARE LOSING OUT IN PLAYERS

Skeet Reynolds Goes to Berkeley Aviation School and Others Are Awaiting Orders.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Nov. 7.—"Skeet" Reynolds, star end on the Orange and Black football eleven, packed up his things and pulled out of town on a southbound train Saturday night, following the receipt of orders to report for immediate service at the aviation ground school at Berkeley, Cal.

Reynolds is the first member of the team to actually receive orders to report at other posts, although Hargess is today confronted with the possibilities of the departure of practically half of his squad. Powell, Badley, Wright, Ash and Schwind, his fullback, halfback, quarterback, halfback, tackle and guard, all of whom are awaiting immediate orders to report at central officers' training schools to receive training as aviation and artillery officers. The impending departure of these men, when it occurs, will be one of the hardest blows the Orange and Black team will have suffered in years.

Riots Are Confirmed

Copenhagen, Nov. 7.—(U. P.)—The Wolff bureau (semi-official agency of the German government) has officially confirmed the reports that great riots have taken place in Kiel. It declared, however, that order has been restored. The general strike continues. Confirmation also was made of riots and a general strike at Hamburg and Lubeck.

Rejection of Macey Wage Scale Deemed Certain at Seattle

Seattle, Nov. 7.—(U. S.)—Rejection of the new so-called "Macey" wage for shipyard workers is almost certain by delegates to the Pacific district council of the metal trades affiliated organizations in session here today. Delegates from the Seattle Metal Trades council and California representatives have been instructed to vote against acceptance of the proposed scale. The convention which opened this morning also will attempt to settle the question of whether or not the shipyard tradesmen will work Saturday afternoons or continue to insist on a 44 hour week with double time if they work Saturday afternoons.

BOWLING

OWING to the influenza situation, the annual bowling season of the Multnomah club house league cannot be opened tonight. Just as soon as the health office ban is lifted the players will start their four team league. It was planned to start a 20 week season and the following players had signed up:

Farrell, captain—Dibbley, Relsch, Brodie, H. Warner, Dr. Luther, Tip Thompson, Reese, captain—Ragun, J. H. Knight, E. H. McCarty, W. C. Montgomery, O. Ott, McKinney, Willard, captain—Beckett, Paulback, McVay, C. Ewing, Schermerhorn, Tremaine, Barrell, captain—McVay, C. G. Knight, Ruppe, Vaustrom, Glet, Skinner.

DEMPSEY STOPS LEVINSKY WITH RIGHT TO JOWL

Coast Heavyweight Hooks and Down Goes Battler in Third Round.

Philadelphia, Nov. 7.—Jack Dempsey, aspirant to the heavyweight title, knocked out Battling Levinsky, claimant to the light heavyweight title, last night in the third round of what was to have been a six round bout before the Olympic Athletic association. A crushing right hook to the jaw sent Levinsky to the floor and for the first time in his life he was unable to get up before the referee counted the fatal 10. Dempsey tore into Levinsky from the start in his usual style and gave him a good hammering in the first two rounds, which weakened the easterner. The bout was for the benefit of the united war work campaign fund.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—(U. P.)—Champion Augie Kiechhofer, as the result of a fast-played 44-minute game last night, faces tonight's block against Charles McCourt in their 3-cushion world championship with a lead of 27 points. This is contrary to Kiechhofer's habits, who usually trails behind in the first night's play. Bob Canefax refereed. High run was 3. The match is 150 points.

Killed After Being In France 16 Days

Albert Jack, a former employe of W. P. Fuller & Co., has been killed in action in France, according to a message received by Portland friends. Mr. Jack enlisted in the Canadian army at Victoria about a year ago and was killed 16 days after arriving in France with the Seventy-second Seaford Highlanders. He had lived in Portland for six years and was 28 years old. He leaves his mother in London, a sister, Mrs. W. M. Clist of Seattle, and a brother, David Jack, in the American army.

ZEROLINE

The Standard Oil for Motor Cars

Correct Lubrication for the "V" Type Engine

This is the "V" Type of automobile engine—high speed, finely adjusted—one of the several modern types. Engines of this type, like all internal combustion engines, require an oil that maintains its full lubricating qualities at cylinder heat, burns to form a thin, protective chamber, and goes off with exhaust. ZEROLINE fits these requirements perfectly, because it is correctly refined from selected California asphalt-base crudes.

ZEROLINE is made in several consistencies to meet with varying conditions of heat in all types of automobile engines. Get our "Correct Lubrication Chart" covering your car. At dealers everywhere and Standard Oil Service Stations.
