No matcine I took to keep them off, they would always come on anyhow, and I would get so dizzy I could hardly see a These spells would make me aw-fully hervous and I would get so sick at the stomach that I couldn't even bear the smell of any kind of food. I would often have a dull, heavy feeling in my side that I thought was caused by a sluggish liver. My nerves were very much upset and I couldn't stand much noise of any kind, as it would excite me and make me irritable. On going to bed I would doze off for while and in two or three hours I would wake up and just roll and tose for the balance of the night, unable to sleep a wink. Then I would get up in the morning feeling even more tired and fagged out than I did when I went to bed. I tried all sorts of preparations to get rid of my troubles, but nething did me any good.

"I heard so much about the good Tanlac was doing that I decided to try it and, while I have taken only two bottles so far, the way I have improved is simply wonderful. My appetite is splendid, I don't have that sick feeling in my stomach any more, and I have been relieved of those awful headaches. I sleep like a log now and get up in the morning feeling rested and refreshed. I am going to keep on taking Tanlac'a while longer, as I believe it to be the very best medicine that I could find anywhere." Tanlac is sold in Portland by The Owl Drug Co.—Adv.
