

PRACTICALLY ALL OF NORTH GERMANY IS NOW IN THE HANDS OF REBEL FACTION

haven, Cuxhaven, Bremerhaven and Rendsburg.

The revolution in northern Germany has been comparatively peaceful, it was said.

Soldiers and sailors met and voted in the cities following the example set at Kiel.

The red flag is flying over wharves and ships at Wilhelmshaven.

The German commanders agreed to relinquish their power, providing that the revolutionaries would promise to defend Germany in the event of a British attack, according to the dispatch.

All of the towns mentioned in the foregoing cablegram are important ports. Kiel, on the famous Kiel canal, is in the province of Schleswig-Holstein. Wilhelmshaven is in the province of Hanover. Cuxhaven is on the estuary of the Elbe river. Bremerhaven is on the Weser river. Rensburg is in Holstein province.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—(I. N. S.)—The German revolution is spreading, according to a Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company.

Bremen, Schwerin and Tilsit have joined it.

Karl Liebknecht, Socialist leader, who was recently released from prison, has formed a council of soldiers at Bremen.

The revolution created much enthusiasm at Bremen, where the church bells were tolled in celebration.

Prince Henry, brother of the kaiser, left Kiel in a speeding motorcar. Forces wearing red bands upon their arms forced the prince to give them a lift, but they were knocked from the running board by sailors. The revolutionaries fired volleys at the automobile, but it is not known whether they wounded the prince or not.

The Third infantry regiment at Oldenburg, the aerodrome forces at Blankenstein, the sailors at Flersburg and the men attached to the naval station at Murch joined the revolution.

Strict German censorship prevents the Berlin newspapers from publishing any unofficial dispatches about the uprisings, said another Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen.

The Tagblatt says that Berlin is still formed at Kiel by the workmen and quiet but that the Socialist leaders, soldiers is maintaining order.

Liebknecht and Hoffman, are organizing simultaneous meetings at all of Schleswig-Holstein, where numerous prisoners were released.

Dr. Haase, another Socialist leader, is en route to Kiel.

Reliable news is lacking from Hamburg, Lubeck, Altona and Flensburg.

Demonstrations began in Cologne on Sunday when crowds wrecked an imperial picture of the kaiser. Soldiers refused to fire upon the people.

At Essen 30 German mutineers were shot for refusing to go to the front.

Fighting Rages in Hamburg

London, Nov. 8.—(I. N. S.)—Sanguinary fighting has been reported in German city of Hamburg, which is now in the hands of the revolutionaries, said a dispatch from Denmark and Holland early today.

Many women took part.

Submarine crews in German ports deserted and engaged in the conflict with loyal troops.

The German high seas fleet at Kiel has disappeared.

Copenhagen dispatches spoke of its whereabouts as "being a mystery."

Commandant Heine of the Kiel naval station was killed in fighting there Thursday.

Some of the revolutionary leaders at Kiel have agreed to use their influence to have the German fleet recalled.

(Cable advices from London Thursday said that the Kiel revolutionaries had decided to send the fleet to a neutral port.)

Soldiers Sent Join Rebels

London, Nov. 8, 2:45 p. m.—(I. N. S.)—Machine gunners that were sent into the German province of Schleswig-Holstein to quell the revolution, decided to join the rebels. The force of Danish cruisers stationed in the Baltic has been strengthened, said a dispatch from Copenhagen this afternoon.

Revolutionary committees are carrying on successful agitations throughout all of Schleswig-Holstein.

Hadover Reported Seized

London, Nov. 8, 3:17 p. m.—(I. N. S.)—German revolutionaries have seized Hadover in Prussia, according to the Copenhagen correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph this afternoon.

The revolutionaries control all of Northwestern Germany.

Four Warships Join Revolt

London, Nov. 8, 2:35 p. m.—(I. N. S.)—The German revolution has extended to Eckentorpe, Hadersleben and Flensburg, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen today.

Four German warships have arrived at the last named place, joining the revolt.

Rebels Steam Out of Kiel

Copenhagen, Nov. 8.—(U. P.)—A traveler arriving here from Germany today said the revolting sailors have seized the majority of the German high seas fleet at Kiel and that the warships, operated by mutinous crews, have steamed out of the harbor under the red flag. Revolutionists are said to dominate Warnemunde.

Wants Others to Resign

London, Nov. 8.—(I. N. S.)—The Agencia Libre publishes a report in Rome that the kaiser is willing to resign in all other reigning sovereigns and princes abdicate simultaneously, according to a Central News dispatch.

SOLDIERS TO NEED HELP AFTER WAR

will be held in service a good while. Demobilization will go forward slowly. Meantime our soldiers will need more recreational facilities to occupy their time and their minds than if they were in the heat of action.

Gratitude Impelling Motive

The second paramount reason for prompt contributions is gratitude. Gratitude: Every American will understand why.

Orlando W. Davidson, state manager, and Everett Ames, city manager, are confident that the increased quota will be oversubscribed by patriotic Oregonians.

Had not the war department landed 2,000,000 American soldiers in France, instead of the 1,000,000 anticipated by November, the original quotas would have been sufficient, comes the word from the national organization. But with twice as many men at the front, their recreational needs have doubled, yet the Y. M. C. A., Knights of Columbus, Y. W. C. A., War Camp community service, American Library association, Jewish Welfare board and the Salvation army are endeavoring by unified effort and intensified efficiency to get along with a 50 per cent increase.

Give a Day's Pay

Portland will send out 4000 workers under the direction of the Y. M. C. A. Chris Bruun and A. E. Doyle. Although the campaign is scheduled to last the entire week, the entire amount asked of Portland will be raised in three days or less, if possible. One of the special features which will give character to the vigorous campaign is the appeal to industrial plants throughout the state that each man give a day's pay. Many of the plants, particularly the shipyards, have already arranged to respond to this appeal. On account of the closing of the schools, the shortened hours of business and the ban on public meetings, an extraordinary measure of public cooperation is solicited.

Men in Service to Aid

Army, navy and marine corps men in this country will be afforded an opportunity to contribute to the United War Work overseas fund next week, according to official announcement made by O. L. Ferris of Seattle, Northwest executive for the army and navy division of the campaign. The idea which was put forth just recently in New York, was enthusiastically adopted by the president and the secretaries of the war and navy departments and is now a regular feature of the big drive for funds.

O. M. Plummer of Portland has been appointed to manage the campaign for this feature in the Columbia production division and he has named a committee, as follows:

Brigadier General Bruce P. Disque, Lieutenant Colonel C. P. Stearns and Major T. A. Mills of the spruce production division; Tom J. Davis, supervising secretary of the Y. M. C. A., spruce division, representing the "Y"; John F. O'Shea, Knights of Columbus; Ben Bell, Jewish Welfare board, and W. L. Brewster, American Library association.

Because the funds contributed by military men are to be used exclusively overseas, the other three organizations concerned in the drive are not participating. It was explained by Mr. Ferris, while he was in the city on his trip of organization.

Trench Phase of War Is Over, Says Simonds; Belgium Is Last Ditch

By Frank H. Simonds
(Copyright, 1918, by News Service, Inc.)

THE present German retreat is one more of those wide swinging withdrawals which follow the collapse of an organized system of defenses. In the past four years the German has organized a series of these defenses, beginning with the Hindenburg line. The first position was broken in the fighting between September 26 and October 12. The German fell back, then, to the line of the Scheidt and its coordinating details, stretching behind the Oise, the Serre and the Aisne to the high ground north of Verdun, between the Aisne and the Meuse.

Today he is drawing back to his final line of defenses between Metz and Mezieres, north of Mezieres and west of his last line, behind the Meuse through Namur and Liege to the Dutch frontier. He has still several intermediate positions between the Mezieres-Sedan-Metz line, then the invasion. Germany will begin without delay. The present retreat probably means that the German is going to retire until he gets behind the Dendre river, which rises not far from Mons in Belgium. This stream is canalized most of the way to its confluence with the Scheidt, and will constitute a material obstacle to the Allies.

Germans Have New Defense

Between Mons and Maubeuge the Germans have been erecting a line of defenses, not comparable with the old systems, but sufficient to delay pursuit. Between Mezieres and the Dendre a system which borrows the old supply lines of the French frontier defense, including those of Hirson and Mezieres. A real disaster may come at any moment, because as the British push down the Meuse, they are cutting off the German communications and line of retreat of all the German armies fighting to the north. Not until these get safely behind the Meuse, if they do, can there be any respite.

British on Road to Waterloo

Meantime the British are on the road to Waterloo; our American troops are already on the battlefield of Sedan. Reaumont, which they took two days ago, was the scene of the capture of the Fally's troops, whose defeat doomed MacMahon; Mouson, also in our hands, was the point where the French army crossed the Meuse on its way to final disaster. Bazilles, with its memories of "La Derniere Cartouche," is one mile from Pershing's outpost.

From the Belgian frontier to Metz the German is entering his last ditch. France is practically free of his full presence. He is now condemned to fight for his life in Belgium. The final contribution for his invasion, for his transformation of his pledge into a "scrap of paper," is at hand. Under the eyes of the Belgian people, for so long his victims, the German soldier must surrender or face disaster. Even in their flight across the Belgian people will find a certain solace. German militarism is to be destroyed on the ground where it attained its foulest altitude.

Moreover, there is real, if only symbolic value in the fact that one half the German forces are retiring upon Waterloo, while the other half is already at Sedan. Shall we have to go to Jena to finish it? At all events we can.

Rivers Form Strong Lines

If you look at any map of Belgium you will see that a number of rivers flow north and south. They supply the defense positions of the Germans north of the Sambre, and they are the which the Germans are retiring to. The Sene, which flows through Brussels and is connected with the Sambre by a canal starting at Charleroi; the Dyle, which passes through Louvain and finally into the Scheldt, which flows almost across the face of Liege, but turns west to join the Scheidt through various channels.

Simms' name. This message clearly indicates that Howard is in Belgium, although these two messages and those received yesterday are the only cables which the home office of the United Press has received from him this week.

In further explanation of the cablegram received yesterday the United Press made this statement:

"Our cable received from Paris at noon yesterday, signed by Roy W. Howard, president of the United Press, and William Philip Simms, manager of the Paris bureau, reporting the signing by the allies and Germany of an armistice, was written in plain English and not susceptible of any possible misconstruction, as received in this office.

"No censor could have had any doubt as to its plain meaning, and the message, after the receipt of the second message, reporting the celebration in Brest, we received yesterday no further word whatever from Mr. Howard or Mr. Simms, although the messages were dispatched to them as early as 1 p. m. yesterday. Following is the exact cable copy of the original message, as transmitted to the United Press:

"'Unpress, New York: Urgent armistice allies Germany signed eleven amorning hostilities ceased two afternoon, Sedan taken amorning by Americans.'

"Simms."

"Unpress is the cable address of the United Press. The word 'urgent' merely indicates that the message was filed at the 'urgent' end of the wire in the afternoon and 'amorning' meaning 'this afternoon' and 'this morning' are ordinary, accepted cable contractions."

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour, Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion.

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried pepain, bismuth, soda, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you have not found relief. The ordinary commercial magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, oxide or milk, but the pure bismuthated magnesia, which is obtained from the laboratory of any druggist in either powdered or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water and eat your meal. It will make a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated, on heavy lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat. Provided you take a little bismuthated magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow. Moreover, the continued use of the bismuthated magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long in these days as are any symptoms (Adv.)

mentaires have arrived in the allied lines and met Marshal Foch.

The Germans came from the region of Spa and crossed the allied lines in the region of La Capelle, where they asked permission to enter the allied front.

The German troops suspended action on that part of the fighting zone to allow the parlementaires to pass in safety.

The Germans arrived about 3 o'clock and were immediately directed through Guise towards the place that had been designated for the revelation of the allied terms.

White Flag Covers Map

Paris, Nov. 7, 10:50 p. m.—(U. P.)—A white flag tonight was spread clear across the boulevard newspaper map which heretofore has been showing the daily advance by the movement of flags. Cheering crowds gathered in front of the newspaper offices. Automobile lights and street lamps were boldly shown.

Corn Yield Up to Four-Year Average; Tobacco Crop Gains

Washington, Nov. 8.—(U. P.)—Corn production for 1918 was 2,749,188,000 bushels, the department of agriculture announced today. This figure is approximately the same as the four-year average ending 1916.

The potato crop fell to 390,181,000 bushels, 50,000,000 less than in 1917.

An increase of 70,000,000 pounds is shown in the report of the tobacco crop. The production was 1,266,686,000 pounds. The crop reporting board confirmed earlier estimates of a decreased production due to droughts. The crop is now estimated at 11 per cent below last year. The quality is poor. A material increase in the per acre yield of tobacco is shown. The tobacco acreage was not materially larger than last year.
