STATE STILL LAGS IN U. W. W. DRIVE

Official Figures $105,000 Short of Goal, but Subscriptions Are Continuing.

Although the officially reported figures on the progress of the United War Work campaign last night show Oregon still $89,750 short of attaining its amended quota of $1,150,000. State Director O. W. Davidson expressed the belief that belated reports from outlying districts would put the state safely over the top.

Mr. Davidson reported that Oregon had subscribed $1,062,250 toward the support of the seven organizations represented in the campaign for funds with which to carry on welfare work among the forces—' th men and women —engaged in war work. Although the drive officially closed Wednesday the campaign will "carry on" in those districts which have as yet failed to attain their quotas.

There were two outstanding developments in connection with the closing day's drive. One was a report from Harney county which, up to yesterday, had not been heard from since the inauguration of the drive. Harney county, which has been seriously handicapped by reason of the influenza epidemic which has been raging throughout the southeast corner of the state, reported a subscription of $2500 on a $6500 quota with assurances of an early attainment of the full quota. The second development was a report from Clatsop county, showing a total subscription of $40,000, nearly 200 per cent on a $20,650 quota.

Thirty-one counties had gone over the top up to last night, but six counties in the state remaining in the "short" column. Polk and Washington counties were the only units reaching the top yesterday.

Portland added another $25,000 to its subscription on the closing day, its total last night showing $500,000, which, according to City Director Ames, will no doubt be materially increased in the course of the next few days.

Yakima City and County Over

Yakima, Nov. 21.—Yakima county and city scored a success in the war work drive and went over the top with a surplus which will reach $1000 in the city and $3000 in the county. The campaign has been characterized by the number of small donations. A total of 5570 subscribers is included in the pledges made. The county quota was $52,000, but this will be exceeded by at least $3000, according to the forecast by the county director, L. O. Janeck.

LUXEMBURG FOLK GREET AMERICANS

burg. Great crowds stood in the public square watching the Americans pass by. There were great columns of infantry, followed by rolling trains of artillery and machine gun units. There was an endless procession of motor trucks and wagons. They poured into the city from the west and rumbled out toward the east.

German Populace Impressed

From daybreak until dark this procession passed steadily, with the motor trucks and wagons guided by calm young men in olive drab. Throughout the darkness of last night the city echoed to the steady rumble of American army trucks as they passed eastward for supplies for the advanced units of the army of occupation.

A German newspaper in Luxemburg said that the "people at home (in America) must swell with pride at the disciplined and imposing array of the American army of occupation in Luxemburg."

The people of Luxemburg, long used to war and soldiers, were deeply impressed by the vitally soldier appearance of the Americans. The doughboys were hailed as real soldiers.

American army officers rode with the staff of Marshal Petain when Metz was entered. Other allied nations were represented as well.

Sky Thick With Airplanes

The sprinkling of Yaffkees in the crowd was hailed with shouts of "Long live America."

The German element of the city was silent and solemn, but they were in the minority. The whole place was aflame with the French tri-color and there were plenty of American flags, too.

General Mangin, who was to have acted as chief of staff to Marshal Petain, was unable to do so owing to an injury sustained when he was thrown from his horse.

As the French and allied troops entered the fortress the sky was thick with airplanes.

During the procession through the city, Lieutenant Bozon Verduraz, a French "ace" with nearly a score of victories to his credit, flew so low that he struck a telegraph pole and the machine plunged into the crowd. The airman was fatally hurt and several spectators were decapitated.

Ovation Given French

A mighty ovation was given to the French troops who had arrived in Metz directly from the battle front. In their muddy, faded horizon blue uniforms the poilus swung into the city with sprigs of green stuck into the muzzles of their rifles amidst a great deal of clatter and dust kicked up by the heavy trains of artillery.

Armored cars still bearing the scars of battle entered the city along with the infantry. Cannon boomed and church bells rang as the deliverers passed through Metz. Children took a prominent part in the celebration and there were services of thanksgiving in the churches. The holiday spirit is rampant throughout all of Lorraine.

German Statue Spat Upon

A feature of the celebration in Metz was the pulling down of the statue of William I, grandfather of the ex-kaiser. It stood in a park in the center of the city. A bunch of French soldiers tied chains to the monument and attached them to horses. William soon toppled over, his helmeted head and mailed fist plunging into the earth, where they were allowed to stay.

Throughout the day sightseers surged about the statue, kicking and spitting upon it. The metal nose was the chief target and it was soon worn smooth by the heavy boots of the French infantrymen.

There is much complaint among the people in the Metz district over the way their food was restricted by the Germans.

Germans Look on Sullenly

By Webb Miller

With the Americans Advancing Toward the Rhine, Nov. 20.—(U. P.)—The American army of occupation is now standing on the soil of four countries—France, Belgium, Luxemburg and German Lorraine.

Today's advance resulted in the occupation of a score of villages and towns. We reached Fontoy and Vitry, in Lorraine, the latter town being only 10 miles north of Metz. Farther to the left Americans entered the neutral duchy of Luxemburg, passing through Esch.

The mayor of Luxemburg crossed the lines in an automobile and paid his respects to General Pershing at Longuyon, which is now his headquarters.

Michigan and Wisconsin troops, which led the way into Luxemburg, received an ovation along every foot of their march. They entered 15 villages, every one decorated with home-made American flags. In German Lorraine the Americans were welcomed by the inhabitants of French extraction. Those of German descent looked on sullenly. The important town of Arlon, in Belgium, remembering America's food and relief work throughout the war, gave our troops an extraordinarily warm greeting. The townspeople stood beside the roads all day, cheering themselves hoarse. It was not uncommon to see doughboys carrying one or two children, with chattering French or German boys and girls walking alongside.

The Germans sent some staff officers to army headquarters to arrange for handing over the material at Longuyon. These consisted of 35 locomotives, 300 guns and thousands of rifles. The roads near the Luxemburg frontier are lined with surrendered cannon.

NEVER SAW ITS EQUAL, STATES WM. CARRICK

Has Gained Sixteen Pounds In Less Than Thirty Days by Taking Tanlac.

William Carrick, for many years a resident of Tacoma, Washington, is now a citizen of Hunter, Missouri. While en route to his future home in Hunter, recently, Mr. Carrick called at the Owl Drug Store in Kansas City, purchased two bottles of Tanlac and made a statement regarding his experience with the medicine that will be of interest to all suffering people.

"I have never seen anything," said Mr. Carrick, "sell like Tanlac is selling out on the Pacific Coast, around where I lived. A friend of mine actually went seventy-five miles one day to get a bottle, and knowing what I do about it now, I believe I would do the same thing, rather than be without it. When I first started taking it I had little idea it would do me any good, but when I tell you I have gained sixteen pounds in less than thirty days and am able to work for the first time in months, you can understand why I talk like I do about it.

"Something like a year ago my appetite went back on me and my stomach got in such a bad fix that nothing I would eat seemed to do me any good. My food would sour soon after meals and cause me belching up sour gas for hours. I suffered terrible pain about my stomach all the time and at times I would turn so deathly sick that I could hardly retain a thing I had eaten. I dropped off twenty-seven pounds in weight and hardly had strength to raise my hands, and was so nervous for almost six weeks that I hardly slept at all. I finally got down flat of my back in bed—couldn't take a bit of nourishment except a little milk—and for five weeks I thought sure I would never pull through.

"I was stopping with my nephew in Tacoma at this time, and as he had seen Tanlac recommended so highly, he went down and got a bottle for me. Well, sir, by the time I finished my first bottle I was on my feet and feeling like a different man. My appetite picked up right away and I soon got so couldn't get enough to eat, and ever since I finished my second bottle I have been feeling strong and fine as you please. The sourness, gas and pain has left my stomach entirely and nothing is barred from my diet. It was about the close of Spring when Tanlac straightened me up and I worked every day this Summer at my trade as carpenter, and have felt fine all the time. I don't believe I ever enjoyed better health than I do now. I have personally recommended Tanlac to hundreds of people, and as I was passing through here today I stopped in to get two bottles to carry down to Hunter with me, because I don't want to be without it.

Tanlac is sold in Portland by the Owl Drug Co. (Adv.)

Dairymen Urged to Keep Organization To Maintain Prices

That "the time has come for Oregon dairymen to make a tight organization in order that they may receive for their milk and butterfat the price that it is worth to the world in food value," is asserted by Alma D. Katz, president of the Oregon Dairymen's league, in a call issued this morning for a special meeting of all dairymen at the Central library next Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

"Already an organized effort has been made to cut the price of milk to producers," the announcement continues. "The request has been denied. They (the dairymen) have never received full compensation in the past—they can only receive full compensation in the future by organization and united effort," is another expression used by Mr. Katz in the call for the meeting.

Only Limited Profit Allowed to Stores That Sell Turkeys

Thanksgiving turkeys must not be sold at a profit in excess of five cents a pound over cost for "cash and carry" stores and seven cents a pound over cost for delivery stores, according to Thomas G. Farrell, assistant federal food administrator.

"The food administration wants to be fair with dealers in this article," said Mr. Farrell, "and at the same time the public expects to be safeguarded. Dressed turkeys will be an important factor in the poultry market for the next two weeks, and the price cannot be fixed with any exactness, as values will depend upon the supply reaching the market within the next few days. At present, the wholesale price of choice dressed turkeys is 40 cents, which would make the price to consumers 45 to 47 cents."

COL. ROOSEVELT TO BE IN FRANCE WHEN PRESIDENT IS THERE

Both President and ex-President Announce Intention of Being in France at Same Time.

With the American Army of Occupation, Nov. 20.—(I. N. S.)—(Delayed)—The president of the United States and an ex-president may be in France at the same time.

President Poincare, who has been taking part in ceremonies connected with the advance of the French and American armies, met and chatted with Captain Kermit Roosevelt of the Seventh artillery, U. S. A., at Bouligny. The French executive told Captain Roosevelt that he had received a letter from former President Roosevelt (father of the captain) in which he announced that he and Mrs. Roosevelt were coming to France within a fortnight. This would bring him here about the same time as President Wilson.

Captain Roosevelt, who recently arrived here from Mesopotamia, was delighted at the news. During his service with the British forces and before he was transferred to the American army, Captain Roosevelt won the distinguished service medal.

Visits General Dickman

President Poincare, during his stay at the American front, called upon General Dickman, commander of the American army of occupation.

During the ceremonies on Sunday a peasant girl of 6, attired in her best Sunday dress, presented Madame Poincare with a bouquet of flowers. Although she had a speech to deliver, the young lady broke down at the last moment and wept with emotion. The French president kindly patted her cheek and Madame Poincare chatted with her to set her at ease.

President Poincare on his journey across Lorraine told the people in response to their hearty greeting that the Americans were entitled to their enduring gratitude for freeing them from the yoke of the enemy.

Yankees Are Praised

The high tribute paid to the Yankees by President Poincare was loudly cheered by the French people.

The Poincare party was carried in a flying squadron of automobiles and included a representative of the United States army—Major Allen Potts of Richmond, Va. Major Potts is a member of General Pershing's staff and was detailed to escort the presidential party through the territory that the American army is now traversing.

Others in the party were General DePage and Major DeChalot, who was with the French army at Chateau Thierry, and who also witnessed the American victory at St. Mihiel. He eulogized the fighting qualities of the Americans.

R. R. Giltner Recovering

R. R. Giltner, who has been ill with blood poisoning for three weeks, is reported now to be out of danger and on the road to recovery. The infection was caused by anti-influenza vaccination, it was reported.

HELP WANTED—MISC. 49

THE Finishing School is the title, because pupils who have devoted 3 to 6 months at a business college or high school require a finish. None write without knowing it by their pencil, crooked fingers, and write like a rabbit eats, whereas eyes and ears should be used on the speaker. Typewriting shorthand notes direct on any make of machine does away with shorthand, and New Zealand adopts it, for what that country thinks today America thinks tomorrow, and England a year after. Only qualified stenographers use the blind finger system; all the rest are amateurs and are worth only their salt. The Finishing school is also a beginner's school, and teaches in one month what other systems take three months or longer. Parents, consider the cost for clothing, food and dress whilst devoting three months to study. In less than one week our pupils are reporting slow utterances, and in one month are able to compete against the 3 months' pupil; a challenge of $100 is open; bad spelling is cured; the memory improved. Prof. Norton, principal, a retired reporter in the British houses of lords and commons and high courts for 17 years.
