Merry Party At University Club

Joyous Welcome to Be Given New Year at Affair Which Will Be Full of Surprises.

The University club is making plans for a joyous party this evening by way of bidding farewell to the old year and welcoming in the new.

Among those who have made reservations for tonight's affair are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Burrill, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew D. Norris, G. W. B. Robertson, Lieutenant Herman McLeod, Walter Kendall, Mr. and Mrs. Natt McDougall, F. A. Narramore, H. W. Stubbs, H. C. Campbell, Lyden Baker, Dr. Herbert C. Nichols, Willis K. Clark, M. C. Woodward, C. F. Swigert, Charles Hart, E. W. Lazell, Major T. A. Mills, F. J. Cobbs, F. E. Griggaby, J. R. Holman, Mrs. Forrest Fisher and Dr. Arthur Chance.

The New Year's party and dance of the War Camp Community service for enlisted men is to be in the nature of a "watch night" event and will be held Tuesday night instead of Wednesday night, as announced.

The social calendar for New Year's day would not be complete without the annual open paper chase held by the Portland Hunt club. The start will be made at 11 o'clock from the hunt grounds at Garden Home and many are planning to ride out for this event.

Following the chase, open house will be held at the club house from 11:30 till 1 o'clock and all members and their friends are cordially invited as the guest of the board of directors.

The semi-annual informal hop of the intermediates of the Multnomah club to be held in the club social rooms this evening is much looked forward to by the younger dancing set of the city.

The home of Mrs. Helen E. Starrett on Portland Heights was the scene of a joyous party on Saturday evening when about 25 couples of high school age, the guests of John Dinwiddie of Berkeley, Cal., and David Pattullo of Ravenswood Drive, were entertained by Mrs. Starrett and Mrs. Pattullo.

Dancing and music were the order of the evening and light refreshments were served before midnight.

The January class of Washington high school will be hosts for a holiday evening for all the boys of the high school who are in the service and who are at home for the holidays.

The party will be held in the school gymnasium and a committee in charge is headed by Edna Edness Campion, Mildred Weeks and Bessie Ford.

Mrs. Irving Stearns was hostess Monday at a luncheon at her home on Fairfax Terrace in honor of her sister, Miss Ivelou Shea, whose wedding will be an event of this week.

Mrs. Roland C. Chapman (Mabel Shea) of San Francisco arrived in Portland Sunday to attend the wedding of her sister, Miss Ivelou Shea who will become the bride of Lieutenant Harry R. Kuchins on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jacobson are in San Francisco for the holidays and will leave from there for the Atlantic coast where they will touch at the principal cities of the East before returning to Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Glenn of Irvington, have as their guests over the holidays, Mrs. Glenn's sisters, Mrs. A. Smith of Port Angeles, Wash., and Miss Agnes Hickman.

Mrs. M. L. T. Hidden has closed her residence for the winter and will make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Frank E. Elchenlaub, 181 Laurelhurst avenue.

Robert Woodward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert N. Woodward of Portland, who has been stationed at the naval aviation training school, has returned to Portland.

ARMORY GUARD NOTES

The quarterly muster held at the Armory Tuesday night for the provisional companies of the new National Guard of Oregon was very encouraging to officers and men. Nine companies turned out of which four had over 80 members answering to roll call. Company H led the two provisional battalions with 85 men in line. Companies E, D, C, B, and A of the infantry and Companies C and B of the engineers made a splendid showing. At a meeting of the officers held after dismissal, Adjutant General Beebe and chief wadway congratulated the commanders for their successful effort. Major J. Francis Drake was mustering officer.

Two companies of infantry are ready to be mustered into the National Guard of Oregon whenever Major General "Fru" withdraws from occupancy of the city.

The provisional companies of the new Third Oregon (National Guard of Oregon) have been united in Portland to maintain the recruiting offices during business hours in the Majestic building on Washington street opposite the Morgan building, which up to November 11 was occupied by the United States Marines for that purpose. All men between 18 and 45 are cordially invited to make inquiries about enlistment.

Officers of the Third Oregon (provisional) have taken a thousand tickets for the grand ball to be given in the Auditorium January 15, under the auspices of the United Auxiliary Reception committee for the benefit of the boys who come home from serving the flag anywhere. Lieutenant Albert Eresdlove, who represented the regiment at the conference of the committee in charge, has turned over 50 tickets to each company with orders not to turn any back.

On account of the "flu" the war department at Washington has extended the time for the formation of the new Third Oregon, from January 15 to March 1. The authorities at Washington have assured General Beebe, adjutant general of Oregon, that arms and equipment will be rapidly supplied as soon as the United States army inspection officer reports.

Reconstruction Bed Time Tales Detailed

Miss McMillan Tells Women What Work Offers to Returned Wounded Soldiers.

THE importance of this, the reconstruction period after the world's greatest war, and what it offers to the returned soldiers, was brought out in practical and vivid way by Miss Mary McMillan, head of the Reed college reconstruction clinic, in her address before the Portland Woman's Research club on Monday luncheon held in the crystal room of the Hotel Benson, with covers for 106.

By means of the various branches of reconstruction work, physical therapy, occupational therapy, vocational and educational therapy, the wounded and maimed men are helped to a more speedy recovery by means of these lines of work, she pointed out, open up avenues that lead to industrial and agricultural training, thus making the men useful and happy citizens. In less than a year 800,000 men have equipped themselves for this important phase of war work, she said.

Captain Jack Hamilton, a Britisher who has been in the army since he was 19, having served with the British and European wars, told interesting tales of some of the earlier conflicts, touched on a few of the horrors of the war, and closed with the romantic story of his courtship and subsequent marriage to the little French girl whom he rescued from the Hun, and who is now in Portland.

Judge John H. Stevenson gave a hearty New Year's greeting, touching upon the great importance of the peace conference. The "Navys" guests' list gave two beautiful selections to open the luncheon, and for closing a verse of "The Star-Spangled Banner" was sung. Mrs. Marmaduke Wyville presided.

No more deserving group of people were remembered with Christmas cheer by thoughtful friends than the members of Woodmere Old People's home. The visitors came early Christmas morning bringing oranges, candy, comforters, soft pillows and other necessities. Among those who contributed to the pleasures of these old people were: Mrs. S. J. Merry, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Hanscomb, Mrs. C. Fletcher, Mrs. Keller, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. G. H. Smith, Mrs. Carr, Mrs. H. Tidball, Mrs. Pardow, Mrs. Hollingsworth, Mrs. Price, Mrs. Bassett and others.

Dr. Margaret D. Nordfeld, of New York city, and Dr. Janet Reid, of New Mexico, representing the woman's department of the social hygiene division of the war department commission, will be the guests of honor at a tea to be given Thursday afternoon from 4 to 5:30 at the University club by the Professional Women's league. Members may bring guests.

Lincoln Garfield post corps will have a joint installation of officers at 2 p. m. January 3, at 6 p. m. a dinner will be served the members by the ladies of the corps.

Gordon Granger Woman's Relief corps will give a benefit card party in Court-house, room 525, Thursday evening. Prizes will be given.

Charles E. P. E. O. will meet on Thursday at 8 p. m. at the Breton apartments.

Soldiers Help in Book Sale for Red Cross

Hundreds of Copies of Mrs. Wilmot's Oregon Boys in War Disposed of at Vancouver.

THE sale of this exceptionally valuable little book of letters and documents concerning the achievements of Oregon boys in the war, compiled by Mrs. Frank Wilmot of Portland and sold for the benefit of the Red Cross, has been remarkably successful. Through the interest of high officials of the Red Cross, the services of several parties of soldiers of the 12th aero squadron from Vancouver, under direction of Lieutenant Arthur Amle, sold hundreds of books on the streets. Sergeant G. J. Bancroft and Sarver assisted at Liberty temple. In appreciation of this book Governor Withycombe wrote the following letter:

"My Dear Mrs. Wilmot: I am writing to thank you sincerely for your kindness in sending me a copy of your interesting new book, and to congratulate you heartily upon the excellence of this new volume. The volume will serve as a permanent record of Oregon's participation in the world war and will be the means of preserving for all time to come the official correspondence, letters and poems which you have grouped in such an appropriate way. I feel that your work will always be a source of inspiration to the patriotic people of Oregon, and sincerely hope that your new volume will have a ready sale. Very truly yours, 'JAMES WITHYCOMBE, Governor."

"Well, Ned Chipmunk," answered Peter Rabbit. "I'm glad to hear you say that, for now I have some hopes for you. I always thought down deep in your little heart there must be some spark of kindness for the birds."

"Now look here," chattered Ned Chipmunk, "don't you go and preach to me. You live in a glass house yourself, and you needn't throw stones at me. I know all your tricks around here, and I know that about every night, in the summer, you are robbing the farmers of their very best vegetables!"

And both went home in silence, thinking about their misdeeds. And that was very hopeful for their future success in life.

Tomorrow—Naughty Benny Mink and Sammy Muskrat.

Navassar Girls Score Hit at Pantages

Ten Pretty Maids Top Excellent Holiday Vaudeville Program; Chinese Quartet Is Liked.

MELODY, beauty and mirth combine to make the pleasant week-end offering the most enjoyable that Alexander Pantages has sent to Portland for many a day. Those 10 Navassar girls, instrumentalists de luxe, are all that the conventional vaudeville act has to offer with a choice collection of orchestra numbers and solos on wind and string instruments. They are all pretty, wear charming gowns, and what is better, each one is a musician.

No less appreciated is the Chung Hua Quartet of Chinese who can sing. Their impersonation of Harry Lauder and a Highland fling in the conventional Scotch kilts is especially pleasing. And judging from the volume of applause, Joe Whitehead, "nut comedian," made the hit he promised to make. With a rapid fire volley of chatter and eccentric dancing, he took the house by storm. He closed with an original poem on the profligate, which found a sympathetic audience.

"In Service" is the title of a clever play by Leon Stanton and company which abounds in good humor and gives a lesson in patriotism. Miss Dorothy Lewis pleases with several well chosen vocal selections, and the company displays a number of exceptionally well trained dogs, ponies and monkeys which are enjoyed by young and old.

The Pantagescope presents the fourteenth chapter of "Hands Up," the thrilling serial featuring Ruth Roland.

The soldier troupe carries its own orchestra and boasts a musical comedy here in Seattle, has given endorsement to the soldier vaudeville entertainment. Lieutenant Robert Armstrong and Private Everett E. Hove, directors and advance men, were handed an order for 300 tickets Monday by the Portland Ad club. Numerous other organizations are interested and promise support.

In Seattle and Tacoma the show presented by the professional vaudeville performers who were combed from the thousands of men at Camp Lewis made good hits. Portland is promised that it will see a bill composed of real headliners and the soldier promoters expect no difficulty in selling out the theatre for the two nights.

The Best Cough Syrup Is Home-made Here's an easy way to save 52, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families the world over feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill the bottle to the top. If desired, use clarified molasses, honey or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way it tastes good, never spoils and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every cell, loosens a dry, hoarse, or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tic, whooping cough, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract which has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept any thing else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.—Adv.
