

PASSING OF COL. ROOSEVELT SHOCK TO WHOLE NATION

Men of All Views Join in Paying Tribute to Memory of One of Nation's Foremost Citizens.

FLAGS FLY AT HALF MAST

War and Navy Departments Show Respect for Former President; House and Senate Adjourn.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Official Washington was profoundly shocked by the news of Colonel Roosevelt's sudden death. Everywhere, even among those who were his bitterest political opponents, were heard expressions of genuine regret at the passing of the man who had so impressed himself upon the nation's history in times of peace as well as in times of war.

From the White House, the capitol and all other public buildings, the flag flew at halfmast. Both houses of congress adjourned after transacting no other business than to authorize the selection of committees to attend the funeral services.

Speaker Clark and many other Democrats joined with Republican senators and congressmen in voicing their sorrow.

Upon every American naval vessel and from every American naval station throughout the world, the flag was lowered to halfmast by an order transmitted by Secretary Daniels. This order read:

"Ex-President Roosevelt died this morning. Colors are to be half masted until sunset this evening."

Congress Adjourned

Formal announcement of the death of Colonel Roosevelt was made in the senate by Senator Thomas Martin of Virginia, the Democratic floor leader, and in the house by Representative Rainey of Illinois, acting leader in the absence of Mr. Kitchin.

Before these announcements were made, however, the news had been flashed from one member to another and in the cloak rooms and lobbies of the capitol.

SAYS COLD WEATHER BRINGS RETURN OF INFLUENZA

Public Must Be Careful to Avoid a Second Epidemic. Easier to Prevent Than Cure. What to Do.

"Encouraging reports of the fewer cases of influenza in this vicinity should not allow us to relax our vigilance or to become careless in the effort to prevent the danger is all over," says a well-known authority. With the coming of cold weather there is apt to be a return of this frightful epidemic and its seriousness will depend on the extent of the precautions taken by the public to prevent infection.

When the air is full of influenza germs you may be constantly breathing them into your nose and throat. But their danger may be avoided and you may make yourself practically immune to infection if you destroy the germ before it actually begins work in your blood.

During the recent serious epidemic, which hit Portland so hard, most successful results were obtained by many through the simple breathing of the pure, sweet, healing germicide, Ilymel, into the passages of your nose, throat and lungs to destroy any germs that may have found lodgment there. This simple precaution may save you a serious illness and the loss of several weeks' work. It is pleasant to use and not at all expensive, as the inhaler will last a lifetime and further supplies of Ilymel can be had at any drug store for a few cents.

Carry this inhaler with you during the day and each half hour of it in your mouth and draw deep breaths of its pure healing germicide into the passages of your nose, throat and lungs to destroy any germs that may have found lodgment there. This simple precaution may save you a serious illness and the loss of several weeks' work. It is pleasant to use and not at all expensive, as the inhaler will last a lifetime and further supplies of Ilymel can be had at any drug store for a few cents.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft, curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric elements, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy which nearly always accompany excessive thinness soon disappear, dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION:—Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.—(Adv.)

the capitol members united in giving expression to their feelings of regret.

In each house the chaplain made references to the death in the invocation.

Chaplains Pay Tribute

The Senate chaplain, the Rev. Forrest J. Prettyman, said:

"One of the men of might, a leader of men, a patriot and scholar, has passed from us. He was honored by his countrymen by being called to preside as vice president over this body and then called to the ministrations of state. His name has added luster to the history of our country and his achievements have increased our influence in the life of the world. Throughout the nation there goes a sense of sorrow that this strong man, so brave and chivalrous and true, has come to the end of his great career."

The Rev. Henry M. Couden, the blind chaplain of the house, said in his prayer:

"He was great in thought, great in deeds, kindly in his ways, but keen in his conception of right. He was a defender of all things that tend to lessen the good in life. His soul was wrapped up in the life and character of his nation. He was bold, fearless and always told what he believed to be the truth."

Senator Martin, rising in the senate immediately after the chaplain's prayer, said:

"The entire country was startled this morning by the announcement of the death of ex-President Roosevelt at his home in Long Island at an early hour today."

"This is not a fit time for me to undertake to eulogize his life and achievements of ex-President Roosevelt. I will say just a few words."

Ability Never Questioned

"The life of ex-President Roosevelt was full of activity and achievement. In such a life, of course, he made mistakes, but I do not believe there is a man in the broad limits of the United States who would today, in the presence of this solemn announcement, question the ability of ex-President Roosevelt, his patriotism, his courage, his devotion to duty or his sense of duty."

He met and met the responsibilities of citizenship in the most courageous manner. That he made mistakes was inevitable, for it is human to err. But certainly it may be said without fear of contradiction that his errors were made in what he believed to be the best service of his country, for he was devoted to his country and hesitated at no sacrifice which he could make to promote its honor, its prosperity and its welfare."

"A characteristic of his life was his unqualified courage. He never had a conviction in his mind that he did not have the courage to follow. He was a man of unlimited courage, of limitless resources and of indomitable spirit. I look upon him as one of the great men produced on this continent since the discovery of America."

Senators to Attend Funeral

Senator Martin presented a resolution asking the appointment of a committee of 15 senators to attend the funeral. The following were named by Vice President Marshall: Senators Lodge, Martin, Wadsworth, Calder, Johnson of California, Knox, Kellogg, Poindexter, Curtis, Harding, Saulsbury, Charles McNary, Underwood, Reed and Simmons.

When Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader, arose to respond to Senator Martin's resolution, he was visibly affected and his voice betrayed the extreme emotion under which he was laboring. The relations between Colonel Roosevelt and Senator Lodge were very close. Senator Lodge spoke as follows:

"Mr. President: I rise simply to second the resolution offered by the senator from Virginia. Mr. Roosevelt served his country in war. He was president of the United States and an able president. He died in the fullness of his life. He was a great patriot, a great American, a great man. He was devoted throughout his life to his country. He tried always to be a servant of humanity. At this moment thoughts and memories so crowd upon me that I can say no more."

Even Opponents Grieved

In informing the house of the death of the former president, Representative Bland said:

"The country has heard with profound regret of the death of Theodore Roosevelt. Those who could not agree with his political philosophy in his ready foeman, splendidly equipped to defend the positions he took."

"He was a man of tremendous energy, a perfect example of force and render his country splendid service in the army, as governor of a great state, as vice president and as president of the United States. He loved his country and his long public career, as well as his career since his retirement from public life, was characterized by intense practical patriotism."

"He won for himself an enduring place in literature and if he had done nothing else than this he would have achieved a distinction which has come to but few men of his generation. His indomitable energy, his high sense of duty, his geological exploration and his achievement were limited to that field alone, he would have perpetuated his name to future generations."

Place in History Assured
"As commanding officer of the Rough Riders in Cuba he demonstrated that he was a general of the courage and ability of which great soldiers are made. His military service, including his fearless demand for a redress of the grievances of the men in the ranks, alone would have won him a place in history."

"In addition he served with distinction in the navy and organization of the United States and his career as vice president and president has left an impression upon the history of the country which will endure."

"His sturdy Americanism, his intense patriotism in peace and in war, in public office and as a private citizen, will always command the respect and the admiration of this and of future generations."

Attorney General Gregory moved adjournment of the supreme court as a tribute to the memory of the dead ex-president. This unusual honor was granted in a brief announcement by Chief Justice White immediately after the court convened.

Chief Justice White said:

"The court sorrows to learn of the death of this great and conspicuous son of the republic whose service the country has lost and it is glad to give the mark of respect by granting the motion of the attorney general."

Hotel Men Opposed To Government Plan To Own Railroads

Hotel men protested Monday against government ownership and control of railroads at a luncheon of the Oregon Hotel Men's association at the Oregon and resolved to advise Oregon congressmen of their opinion. The hotel men claim to be in a first position to know of the discomforts suffered by the public, the needless expenses heaped on business and the tremendous damage done to the hotel industry.

Resolutions were also adopted on the death of Colonel Roosevelt and a message of condolence sent to the family.
