SERVICE DAY AND NIGHT IS ORDER

Soldiers' and Sailors' Club in Royal Building to Serve Men at All Hours.

Open house at all hours of the day and night. For the good of returning and translent army and navy boys this is to become the schedule of the Soldiers and general election of 1920. Sailors club, maintained in the Royal building by the Portland War Camp

Community service. Not only has this organization provided sleeping quarters for as many as 250 enlisted or discharged men, through fitting up of the east wing of the Atkinson school building, but it now also will have lounging, reading and canteen facilities of the club at the disposal of the men throughout the night. Announcement to this effect made this morning after G. L. Stannard, executive secretary, had held a conference with H. W. Kent, secretarymanager of the Portland Caterers' association. Mr. Kent, representing the hotel and restaurant interests, gave assurance that his organization in no respect opposes all-night operation of the canteen, which furnishes food for the men in uniform at small cost, and sees that any who lack means are fed.

With Mr. Kent's assistance, plans for operation of the all-night canteen ser-Effort will were threshed out. made to have the club start on the 24-hour schedule not later than the first of next week. After the house had wasted most of the afternoon in discussion the vote was taken. Kubli, when his name was reached at rollcall, spoke briefly. "I feel an embarrassment in casting my vote as I am about to do," he said, "not because I am ashamed of my position, for I have deep feeling of conviction in this matter. But I am sorry that I am compelled to cast it against the earnest and conscientious convictions of men who are my friends and for whose sincerity and conscience I have the highest regard. I honor them for their convictions and their courage in stating them. I do not mean to make reference to anyone who may vote as I do, possibly for other motives than mine, or for selfish reasons.
