Market for apples is intensely excited at pri-ary centers. While confirmation is lacking, mary centers. While confirmation is lacking, reports from reliable centers indicate that as high as $2.50 per box has been paid at Hood River for extra fancy yellow Newtowns, and that in the Yakima districts Winesaps have been sold as Such values are far above previous figures, the advance at Hood River amounting to about 50c rise at Yakima is about on the same basis. Great strength is also shown in the cheaper qualities. In fact the cheaper priced stock is showing even greater strength than the better class goods which are being purchased generally for expert.

It is stated that sales of cookers in the Hood River section are being made at $1.10, and that most of the holders of the limited supplies now remaining are asking up to $1.25 per box f. o. b. Local market is firmer, with low grade stock

RELATIONS ARE FRIENDLY

Pacific Marine Iron Works Has No Quarrel With Fleet Corporation. "That any unfriendly relations exist between the Emergency Fleet corpora tion officials of Oregon and the Pacific Marine & Iron works, as reported in a local newspaper last evening, is positively an untruth," says J. L. Jennings, manager of the Pacific Marine pany, where she will be engaged in the Iron works, in a statement issued this

"There may have been minor quarrels during the latter part of 1918. between the Emergency Fleet corporation officials and our firm, such as might exist between any two organizations such as ours," continued Mr. Jennings, "but as a whole our relations with the officials of the Emergency Fleet corporation are absolutely the best and most harmonious. "The report based on alleged recent conduct of employes of the Fleet corporation did not come from representatives of the Pacific Marine Iron works, and if they did come from the crew and men of the ship Ashburn dur- kept ships off the entrance of the Coing her trial trip, as reported, they certainly are not the sentiment of the men. "The men in charge of these ships on 4950 4950 their trial trips come in contact with officials of the Fleet corporation every

"The statement that officials of the Fleet corporation are not competent men or qualified for their work cannot be based on truth, as these men know their work and are well qualified. "The future of Oregon is in her lumber industry, and I cannot believe or see any reason why discrimination should be made against the wooden shipping industry. Most all of the men of the Emergency Fleet corporation in Oregon are Oregon men and are well informed of the future of the lumber industry in Oregon."

TO RUSH HARBOR WORK

Colonel Taylor Comes as Assistant to Colonel Zinn.

The war department is losing no time in rearranging its rivers and harbors forces to care for the peace time responsibilities, as evidenced by the assignment of Colonel Charles J. Taylor, corps of engineers, United States army, as military assistant to Colonel George A Zinn, in charge of the First and Second Portland districts. Colonel Taylor, who was formerly commander of the 320th engineers, arrived here Tuesday to assume his new duties.

The two officers had been assigned to this district before the entrance of the United States into the war, but with the finishing of the dredging project at the mouth of the Columbia river, the duties of the force here was considerably lightened, and one man was removed. Now, however, the new projects to be carried out in the Willamette river and the upper Columbia sections will cause more work for the department and the gov-ernment, with this in mind, has placed Colonel Taylor here.

eral weather condition was cloudy. The bureau believes that better conditions will be encountered this evening. Government Dredging Resumed More moderate tempertaures along the Columbia river during the past week have caused the ice to disappear along the lower Columbia and Tuesday the government dredge Wahkiakum resumed operations at her St. Helens position. This morning the Multnemah left for dredging work along the lower end of Dobblebower's. To Change Fog Signals

The commissioner of lighthouses has sued a notice to mariners warning them that the fog signal at Point Aren light station on the California seacoast will be changed on or about March 1, 1919, to an air diaphone, to sound a group of two blasts every 60 second The first blast will be for one second, followed by slience of one second, and then a blast of three seconds. Silence of 55 seconds will come between the next series of blasts.

Big Cargo Departs

Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 15 .- The largest cargo of flour ever taken out of this port by a Sound-constructed shipping board boat departed today for Europe with a cargo valued at $1,200,000, weighing 9,487 tons, short, of four, and 12 tons of oats on the steamship Edgecombe. A slightly larger cargo was taken out of the port recently, but it was on a foreign-constructed ship, slightly larger than the Edgecombe.
