America, although England had been on the ground for many years. It invaded England's home markets. The legend, "Made in Germany" bore down all competition.

What was the reason for it all? England begins to suspect that the reason lies concealed in the word "education." Germany's business men fought their way to the front in all countries because they had been scientifically trained for business.

British and American neglect of foreign languages made it necessary for their business houses to employ German clerks, German accountants, German agents.

The money needed to equip Villa's army was deposited in a St. Louis bank by Financial Agent Albert and Ambassador von Bernstorff. It was used in the purchase and dispatch of munitions to the bandit leader.

Why hasten to re-submit the tax limitation amendment? The people will not repeat it. It is the one and only curb on the legislature.

FLU AND MASKS MORE people have died from flu than were killed during the same period in the war.

Though the cost of building ships in America is already enormous, Seattle ship workers are threatening to strike for an increase over the war wages.

There is hardly any likelihood of a conflict between the league of nations and the Monroe doctrine. Some persons have felt apprehension on that point, but it is groundless.

THE rain. Softly fell, with the south wind blowing. Washed from the air was the sense of strain and the vague, oppressive, foreboding of ill that the hard, bright days of the east wind brought.

Great Britain is the principal colonizing country. What is to be done with her colonies under the league of nations? What is to be done with India, Egypt, South Africa? The answer seems to be supplied by history.

TRUTH ABOUT PORTLAND THERE seems to be an impression among some legislators and others that Portland is full of all kinds of schemes for fastening a big and unrighteous road program upon the rest of the state.

Reconstruction Portland, Jan. 10.—To the Editor of The Journal.—Do we wish to reconstruct the "civilization" which has been so long wanted? Or we are asked: "What do we wish?"

Diets for Influenza Portland, Jan. 10.—To the Editor of The Journal.—The epidemic of 1889-1900 was one of the first to suffer. Every winter thereafter I spent a number of days in bed with grip, until 15 years ago, but since then I have been free of this immense scourge.

NO CONFLICT THERE is hardly any likelihood of a conflict between the league of nations and the Monroe doctrine. Some persons have felt apprehension on that point, but it is groundless.

TRADE AND LANGUAGES WITH peace accomplished, England, like all the rest of the world, is looking forward to a furious competition for trade.

DELINQUENT TAXES THERE is genuine merit in Senator Smith's ideas upon delinquent tax sales. His opinion is that no delinquent property should be sold to speculators.
