

FEELING FAVORS HOME-PRINT BOOK

Copyrights May Be Barrier to Hope of Printing School Texts in State.

Salem, Feb. 7.—Advocates of state printed text books won in the preliminary test of sentiment on this question in the house this morning when the adverse report of the committee on education was voted down and a favorable minority report substituted.

Representative Egan, who introduced the bill, led the fight for consideration on its merits on the floor of the house rather than permit it to be killed by the committee.

"Ten years ago this state was in the hands of what I am pleased to term the state printing octopus," he declared. "Since that time the state has equipped its own printing plant, which has already more than paid for itself and fully justified the investment."

"Now, with this printing plant at our command we continue to send our money east to the text book octopus under a contract entered into by the state text book commission. This contract expires July 31 of this year. If this legislature does not take favorable action on this proposition, by which the state would print its own text books and distribute them at cost of printing plus the cost of distribution, this commission must enter into another six year contract with this octopus."

Kansas and California, he stated, are now printing their own text books at a great saving over the "exorbitant costs" charged by the "text book trust," amounting in Kansas to a saving of 42 per cent on the books used in its schools. Oregon, he declared, should not delay in ridding itself from the tentacles of this octopus.

Representative Richards, a member of the committee on education, which had reported that the passage of the bill would only lead the state into the hands of a "still greater octopus" that represented the book trust.

"Where will we buy the copyrights which cover the right to print these text books?" he demanded, "and how much will we have to pay for these copyrights? Nobody should know anything about this phase of the textbook question. Shall we go to the trust from which we seek to take this work and buy these copyrights?"

The quality of the home-printed products, he insisted, might not compare favorably with the quality of the books now used and therefore it would not be a real economy at all.

The merits and demerits of the proposed measure are expected to be pretty generally aired when the bill comes up for third reading.

Three Bank Bandits Miss $20,000 Haul

Wheeling, W. Va., Feb. 7.—(I. N. S.)—Three men, heavily masked, robbed the Bank of Fulton at Fulton, two miles east of here, Thursday afternoon of a sum said by the bank officials to be between $800 and $1000. The men held up Cashier Hal Campbell, his assistant, A. Frederickson, and the stenographer, and then escaped in an automobile, going toward Pittsburg. The robbers overtook $20,000.

Compensation Act Amendment Passes

Salem, Feb. 7.—Representative Schubert's bill amending the workmen's compensation act was passed by the house Thursday afternoon without opposition. The changes, it was explained, had been approved by the employers, and the industrial accident commission, who were united in urging its passage.

Verdict for $225 Returned

A verdict for $225 was returned in favor of Roy Walters and against W. H. Wallingford, at a trial held by a jury in Circuit Judge Gates' court Wednesday. Walters was suing for $1500, asserting that Wallingford sold him an old car, representing it to be a new one.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND NEVER SUSPECT IT

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview of the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention The Portland Journal.—AD.

Man Has Fractured Skull; Roommate Is Detained by Police

San Francisco, Feb. 7.—William Schwartz was found early today lying in a small court of the Mint hotel suffering from a fractured skull. He may die. Police are holding Jacob Langlor, Schwartz's room-mate, for investigation. Langlor said Schwartz received word from Portland that he was to receive a large sum of money. Schwartz then went out to celebrate, he said. Langlor said he found Schwartz intoxicated and induced him to surrender his money for safekeeping. The transaction, Langlor said, was witnessed by several persons.

William Schwartz, whose skull was fractured, presumably from a fall in a light well of the Mint hotel of San Francisco, early Thursday, is not a victim of foul play, according to Mrs. Krieger, a relative. Jacob Leglar, Schwartz's room-mate, who is being held by the Bay city police for investigation, is a close friend, she said, of Schwartz. He, according to Mrs. Krieger, did not have any great amount of money.

Tuesday night, Schwartz sent a telegram to his father, John Schwartz, of 818 East Ninth street north, requesting $25 so that he could come home. This money was forwarded to him Wednesday.

Schwartz left Portland a short time ago on a steamer and intended to make a trip to Honolulu. He met Leglar in San Francisco, Leglar, whose home is at 795 East Ninth street north, left Portland sometime before Schwartz. Both men formerly worked at the Northwest Steel company.

ALLOTMENT OF ONE SOLDIER MATE AIDS LIFE WITH SECOND

Mrs. Henry Neave Has Husband in France and Another at Home, Police Declare.

Married to a soldier in France, from whom she is receiving allotments, Mrs. Henry Neave was arrested at 577 Haight street Wednesday night on a charge of bigamy. Her alleged second husband, Walter Rose, a discharged soldier, was arrested at the same time on a technical charge, she admitted, say the police, that he knew that the young woman had a husband at the time he married her. Mrs. Neave is said to have received an allotment from her first husband since her second marriage.

The case came to light when the mother of the girl, who was Pearl Stanforth before her first marriage, came here from Illinois to find why she had not been receiving letters from her daughter. She found the young woman by accident at the postoffice and went to the rest room of a department store. After a short visit the daughter excused herself, saying that she had an appointment with a dentist and would return shortly. When she did not return her mother reported to the women's protective bureau and an investigation resulted in the arrest.

Mrs. Neave explained that she had been engaged to her first husband four years when he was about to leave with the Ninety-first division from Camp Lewis. He asked her to come west and marry him, which she did, and she has since then received his allotments regularly and been the beneficiary of his insurance. It is said she may be liable to prosecution by the government for accepting the allotments after her second marriage.

Mrs. Neave and Rose were living at the home of Rose's parents. A few days ago, when inquiries were made there, his father denied knowledge of the couple, declaring his name was Roth, the police declare.

Rose stated that since his discharge from the spruce production division he has been working as a special deputy sheriff on bootlegging cases.

The arrests were made by Mrs. E. P. Forrest and Mrs. Turner of the women's protective bureau and Officers Mills and Burkhardt. The case has been set for hearing at 2 p. m. Tuesday.

American Interests In Mexican Oil Are Under Adjustment

Washington, Feb. 7.—Adjustment of the controversy between American oil interests and the Mexican government is in prospect, according to Ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, here on leave. He expressed himself today as hopeful of an amicable arrangement of American rights without infringing on Mexico's sovereign rights.

Relations between the two countries in the case of a judicial, President Carranza, he said, is the real power in Mexico.

Fletcher said it is generally understood Carranza will call a special session of congress in April or May to take up the oil problem.

Caruso Gets Wine For Professional Use

New York, Feb. 7.—(I. N. S.)—"Ah, yes, Mr. Caruso said that, but he must have his little joke," said the tenor's secretary today in commenting on the announcement that Enrico Caruso would stop singing on the day prohibition goes into effect. "To stop singing," that, Mr. Caruso would not do. He takes a little old wine when he sings in cold weather. It is to warm him up, you know, but he has sources of supply for that."

Insurance Agents Hit by House Bill

Salem, Feb. 7.—Notes given in Oregon to cover life insurance premiums will not be negotiable for a period of 60 days from date under the provisions of a bill passed by the house Thursday. The measure, it was stated, is directed at irresponsible insurance agents.

No Time Extension Granted
Washington, Feb. 7.—(U. P.)—No extension of time for filing tax returns under the new revenue measure will be allowed, Secretary Glass announced today. The first installment of taxes and returns on all taxes must be in the hands of the treasury by March 15, the bill provides. Glass said it had been decided definitely there was no reason to grant a longer time for filing returns.

THREE INDICTED IN BOOZE PLOT

Federal Authorities Believe They Have Broken Up Big Ring of Auto Bootleggers.

Federal authorities believe they have broken up one of the biggest bootlegging rings in the state with the return Thursday of an indictment alleging conspiracy to violate the Reed amendment, against O. R. Merrill, alias George Thomas; Thomas G. Patterson, alias T. G. Peterson, and a third man, unnamed.

Thomas and Patterson are being detained in the county jail and the authorities are seeking "John Doe," supposed head of the ring.

These men, it is claimed, drove an automobile to California and filled it with liquor and then drove it back to Medford, whence it was shipped in a freight car to Corvallis. Agents of the department of justice arrested Merrill at Corvallis and also took charge of the automobile containing the liquor. The tonneau of the car was filled with more than 100 quarts of liquor, the doors being wired so that they would not open and reinforced with boards. The liquor was packed in covered with blankets and some coats and sweaters.

This indictment was included among 17 true bills returned by the grand jury to Federal Judge Woelertson. Of the 17 seven were secret. Four not true bills also were reported.

Other indictments charged: I. R. Thropo, theft of five diamond rings from an express car on the Oregon Short line. Bail $2500.

C. C. Woodworth, sending obscene letters through the mail to A. R. Butters of Omaha, six counts. Bail $1000.

John S. Wilson, alias Ed Sims, violation of white slave act; two counts. Selling liquor to soldier; one count.

T. J. Driscoll and August Krueger of Klamath Falls, selling liquor to Indians.

Daniel Weeks and George Crane, bringing liquor on the Klamath Indian reservation.

Charles G. Bowers, theft of property from government.

Catarrh of the Stomach Is Dangerous

"Thousands of people suffer more or less constantly from furrowed, coated tongue, bad breath, sour burning stomach, frequent vomiting, rumbling in stomach, bitter eructations, gas, wind and stomach acidity and call it indigestion when in reality their trouble is due to gastric catarrh of the stomach," writes a New York physician.

Catarrh of the stomach is dangerous because the mucous membrane lining of the stomach is thickened and a coating of phlegm covers the surface so that the digestive fluids cannot mix with the food and digest them. This condition soon breeds ready-made disease germs, unassimilated food. The blood is polluted and carries the infection throughout the body. Gastric ulcers are apt to form and frequently an ulcer is the first sign of a deadly cancer.

In catarrh of the stomach a good and safe treatment is to take before meals a teaspoonful of pure Bisurated Magnesia in half a glass of water. The hot water can be comfortably drunk. The hot water washes the mucous from the stomach and carries the blood to the stomach while the bisurated magnesia is an excellent solvent for mucus and increases the efficiency of the hot water treatment. Moreover, the Bisurated Magnesia will serve as a powerful but harmless antacid which will neutralize any excess hydrochloric acid that may be in your stomach and sweeten its food contents. Easy, natural digestion without distress of any kind should soon follow. Bisurated Magnesia is not a laxative, is harmless, pleasant and easy to take and can be obtained from any local druggist. Don't confuse Elixir of Magnesia with other forms of magnesia, milks, citrates, etc., but get it in the pure bisurated form (that is, that which is especially prepared for this purpose.—AD.

IT'S UNWISE to put off today's duty until tomorrow. If your stomach is acid-disturbed take
