New Film Shows Offer Wide Variety

Review of Bills on for First Time Today Gives Idea of Good Programs.

TODAY marks the beginning of the new week for a number of Portland motion picture theatres, while those and the "legitimate houses" not putting on new shows today will open the week with their usual Sunday changes.

Columbia
The late Harold Lockwood, whose promising career was lighted when he fell victim to pneumonia, is at the Columbia today in "The Great Romance." The program, billed for four days, includes also a two-reel comedy, "Charlie, the Little Daredevil." Lockwood has a role in "The Great Romance" typical of the fine, young, enthusiastic American, cultured, high-minded and ambitious, Democratic and unpretentious, he suddenly finds himself king of a country he has despised and announced. The ending of the story has a twist new to the pictured drama.

Sunset
"Wolf Lowry" is the title of the new Triangle-Ince play, starring William S. Hart, at the Sunset. It is produced under the supervision of Thomas H. Ince and was written by Charles Turner Dancy.

Peoples
Thomas Dixon, author of "The Birth of a Nation," is also author of "The One Woman," the new week's show at the Peoples. The comedy on the new bill is "Roaring Lions, or The Midnight Express," a Fox-Sunshine.

The story of "The One Woman" concerns the career of Frank Gordon, a brilliant young clergyman, who forsakes his wife and home to follow a career of socialism. When he is expelled from his church, Gordon enters the services of Kate Ransom and later divorces his own wife in order to contract a common law marriage with this woman. As time passes Gordon is supplanted in his own temple by another man, who is the son of Kate Gordon to another man. Heart-broken, and with all of his ideals smashed, Gordon kills the man who has won his former wife.

Star
A storm of tropical fury, an old delivery auto, transformed into a caravan, driven by Vivian Martin, containing also an old maid school teacher, a cat, a parrot, an old shotgun and other paraphernalia, is one of the incidents of "You Never Saw Such a Girl," the new Paramount picture at the Star today. It is from a novel by George Weston and the scenario is by Marion Fairfax. Robert G. Vignola is the director. Comedy, thrill and romance are the principal ingredients of this picture.

Circle
John Barrymore, in "The Man From Mexico," is the attraction today at the Circle. "The Man From Mexico," after tremendous success on the stage, met with no less cordial reception on the screen, and is always good for a return engagement.

Globe
Dustin Farnum, in "Captain Courtney," a film drama well suited to the star's particular talents and ability, is the new attraction at the Globe. In the cast with Mr. Farnum are Winnifred Kingston, Herbert Standing and Courtenay Foote. The play is replete with action and brings into play hard riding, fast shooting and ardent wooing.

Majestic
At the Majestic today, a photoplay drama written by her actor-author husband, Willard Mack, formerly with the HEREWITH is a showing of some few of Oregon's best crop, babies who are as nearly perfect as can be, according to the standards of measurement and weight set by experts. Inasmuch as dispositions can't be measured by any set rules, we'll have to let the youngsters speak for themselves in this particular.

Baker Stock company here. In "Shadows" Miss Farrar has opportunity to do some real acting, appearing as a dance hall girl in Alaska, and also as a social leader. Tom Santschi and Milton Sills are in the cast with Miss Farrar.

New things to open Sunday afternoon are:
BAKER—The Baker Stock company, in "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine."
ALCAZAR—The Alcazar players, in "The Lion and the Mouse."
ORPHEUM—Vaudeville, featuring Joseph E. Howard, song writer, in "Howard's Songbird Revue."

LYRIC—Dillon and Franks' musical travesty company, in "The Quakers."
HIPPODROME—Vaudeville, featuring Mrs. Otto Flecht's Yodling Troubadours. Photoplay feature, William Desmond, in "The Pretender."

STRAND—Vaudeville headliners, the Burtons, magicians and illusionists. Film feature, Ruth Clifford, in "The Cabaret Girl."

LIBERTY—"Little Women." Mutt & Jeff comedy and Burton Holmes travelogue.
CIRCLE—"The Blue Bird."

PANTAGES—Vaudeville and motion pictures, changes Monday afternoon.

Indian Princess Is War Worker
An Indian princess, great-granddaughter of King Cowweekowe, chief of the Cherokee for 40 years, is going to France to work in the Red Triangle huts of the Y. M. C. A., according to F. A. McCarri, western executive of the National War Work Council.

Assistant Pastor Gets Own Church
Albany, Feb. 8.—Rev. John E. Rubis, who for the past year has been assistant pastor of St. Mary's church in this city, has been appointed to a pastorate at Bandon, Coos county, and left here this morning to take charge of his new parish. Rev. J. Soumia, recently of Minnesota, has arrived in Albany to fill the vacancy caused by the transfer of Rev. Mr. Rubis.

Coast Boys Praised
New York, Feb. 8.—(U. P.)—California, Oregon and Washington boys of the 361st infantry sacrificed themselves fearlessly in the Argonne and Belgian front fighting. This was the statement today of Chaplain A. J. Weber of San Francisco, who arrived on the French liner Espagne. He paid high tribute to the fearlessness of the 361st.

"Chloe in Love" Succeeds
"Chloe in Love," announced some time since by Harry Miller as a new starring vehicle for Ruth Chatterton, suspended rehearsals after the first try-out. "Chloe in Love" didn't look good to Mr. Miller in its original form, so he decided to call off rehearsals until the play can be revamped into shape.

Count Tolstol Signed Up
A feature of interest to the film industry is the signing of Count Hya Tolstol, a son of Count Leo Tolstol, by S. Fox of the Rivoli Film Producing corporation, for a series of pictures based on the count's works, which provides for his personal appearance in all the pictures.

Directors Fear Interest In Work Lags

Thousands of Refugee Garments Must Be Made by Red Cross Workers.

By Vella Winner
WITH thousands of refugee garments to be made, directors of the work at the big Red Cross workshop in the eighth floor of the Lipman-Wolfe building are fearing that Portland women are no longer interested in the work of the Red Cross.

The attendance has dropped to a negligible quantity and every day the chapter receives telegrams begging that Portland women respond to their duty. These garments are not sold by the Red Cross. They are given away to destitute women in France or Belgium. It is asked why the women in these countries do not make their own garments. The answer is that the countries are stripped, in great areas of France and Belgium there is not even a sewing machine and in many instances not even a needle.

In a recent cablegram from France, Harvey D. Girson, Red Cross commissioner to that country said: "We need large quantities of garments sent monthly for destitute countries. This means continued production of refugee garments, including certain knitted goods, on the largest possible scale. Detailed instructions will be sent out shortly and in the meantime all work now in the hands of chapters should be pushed to completion."

There are now 280 auxiliaries operating in Portland. Originally there were 300, but 20 have suspended. The balance are all suffering from lack of attendance. The Red Cross is appealing to all these subsidiary organizations to resort now to a most urgent call, while unattached women are begged to attend at the workshop, which is open daily from 9:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. with the exception of Saturdays and Sundays.

"We can only urge our women to respond," said Mrs. C. B. Woodruff, supervisor of the workshop, "to those who have so willingly helped us in the past, we must present the necessity of keeping up the good work for some time to come. The need is being felt in European countries, which have been devastated by the war, are well supplied with the necessary articles of wearing apparel."

The Portland Parent-Teacher committee met Friday. Reports from the various auxiliaries showed the work being done. It was announced that a course of lectures had been arranged under Parent-Teacher auspices to be given during the next two weeks throughout the city by Dr. Janet Reid and Dr. Louise M. Richter, who are sent out by the government to lecture to women and girls on social hygiene. The schedule of these lectures will appear in the Sunday papers. Mrs. E. H. Frazer reported for the anti-tobacco committee. A committee was appointed to cooperate with the W. C. T. U. in a campaign against billboard advertisements of tobacco. A poster contest will be held in this connection, for which prizes will be awarded. Mrs. Harry Beals Torrey spoke on the back-to-the-school movement. Miss Harriet Wood reported topics for February meetings, which include the back-to-the-school movement and the modern health crusade, of which Mrs. S. M. Blumauer is chairman. Mrs. A. F. Fiesler explained the plan for a welfare drive to be held next Wednesday and urged all associations to cooperate in this work. Mrs. E. W. Finzer reported for the legislative committee.

The Woodburn Woman's club held its meeting yesterday afternoon at the library and voted to have the annual picnic at Hillboro and while the basket was awaiting transfer here, the lid became detached and the cat started for home.

Auto Association No Trust
New York, Feb. 8.—Twenty-one defendant companies in the action of the government against the National Accessories Automobile Supply association under the anti-trust law were found not guilty on all counts in the federal court here late Friday afternoon.

Bandits Get $3100
St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 8.—(U. P.)—Four automobile bandits Friday here by Louis Cohen, president of the Cohen Grocer company, and after severely beating him, escaped with $3100.

Cousin Bruin's Courage Is Tested
YOU would have snickered in your sleeve if you could have seen the committee, composed of Teddy Possum, Chatterbox, the Red Squirrel and Jim Crow Farmer, trying to get the Giant Bear the next day to find out if the Giant Bear was a coward and had run away in fear from the Farmer Boy. Why, these three scamps dogged every step and action of the Giant Bear. They watched him when he went to bed, when he got up and dressed, when he ate his breakfast, when he combed his hair and when he cut his toenails. But they didn't see him act afraid of anything. In fact, the committee admired the Giant Bear very much for he was so jolly, good natured and reasonable. They didn't see him quarrel with anybody; he was very cheerful and attended to his own business.

But something very wonderful happened one afternoon. Giant Bear was shuffling quietly along an old logging road and he was breaking open all the old rotten stumps to get grub for his afternoon tea. And all of a sudden Teddy Possum, Chatterbox and Jim Crow were amazed to see a remarkable sight. It was Farmer Jones' wife picking ferns, heatherberries and wild flowers and putting them in a basket on her arm. She had a parasol in her other hand, but it was not opened, for the sun was not shining in the woods.

Farmer Jones' wife came around a bend in the old logging road she came suddenly face to face with the Giant Bear. The woman gave an awful scream and turned very pale. And Teddy Possum, Chatterbox and Jim Crow almost fell over with fear, for they thought surely Giant Bear would eat Farmer Jones' wife for his afternoon tea! But Farmer Jones' wife was so scared she could not run, and she stood there

Babies Scoring Highest Are Healthiest

Drive for Funds for Parents' Educational Bureau Will Be Made Next Week.

BABIES who make high scores in the better babies contests are healthy, happy babies. They are well nourished, firm of flesh, smooth of skin, clean and smiling. If your baby is a good baby this year, it can be a better baby next year through hygienic living, proper feeding and intelligent care. It is for the purpose of giving these eugenic tests and of disseminating free of charge information and advice on prenatal care and the care and feeding of young children that the Parents' Educational Bureau is maintained at 551 Courthouse by the Oregon Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations. The rooms are open at all times with a competent attendant, and on Wednesdays and Thursdays eugenic tests are made.

Wednesday of next week a whirlwind drive for funds for the financing of this bureau will be held, with Mrs. A. F. Fiesler, assisted by a corps of workers, for a house to house canvass and a flying squadron for the downtown and industrial section. The high score children in a recent contest were: 1—James M. Marshall, age 14 months, score 99 1/2 percent, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Marshall, Albany, Or.; 2—George J. Murray, Jr., age 6 1/2 months, score 98 1/2 percent, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Murray; 3—Dorothy Naida Mendelsohn, age 1 year, score 100 percent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry I. Mendelsohn; 4—Geraldine Frances Ferguson, age 10 1/2 months, score 100 percent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Willits Ferguson; 5—Veryl Louise Springer, age 3 years, score 99 percent; 6—Hazel Ouida Springer, age 2 years, score 98 percent, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. M. Springer, Gresham, Or.

FRATERNAL NOTES

Webfoot camp, W. O. W., Friday night held a meeting in its hall at 129 Eleventh street, with a class of 16 new members for the degree team to work over. It distributed Thrift Stamps of the new series among a number of its fortunate members, and decided to keep on with the good work. Two little French orphans have been adopted by the camp. They will remain in France, however.

Bed Time Tales

In fact, the committee admired the Giant Bear very much. In the old logging road, trembling in terror. And then, to make matters worse, Cousin Bruin stood up on his hind legs and glared at the little black eyes at Farmer Jones' wife. It certainly did look very dangerous for Farmer Jones' wife. But in an instant something remarkable happened. Wonderful presence of mind came to her and she remembered that it is a good thing to scream with all your might when confronted by a wild animal. And Farmer Jones' wife left out a terrible scream and opened her parasol right in the face of Cousin Bruin. And what do you suppose Cousin Bruin did? Why, he just turned around and ran home as fast as he could!

Life's Drama Not Only on the Stage For the Actor Folk

Mrs. Ruth Gates Everett, leading woman with the Alcazar Players when they were at the Baker theatre a year ago, Friday filed suit for divorce from C. V. Everett, manager of the Alcazar theatre, to whom she was married at Everett, Wash., July 29, 1918. Everett is the former husband of Alice Fleming, at present leading woman with the Alcazar Players. The Everett-Gates marriage was announced only two weeks ago, upon the arrival here of Mrs. Everett, who has been playing an engagement at Milwaukee, Wis. Mrs. Everett alleges cruel treatment and non-support. According to the complaint there are no property rights involved in the action.

Severe Restrictions To Control Flu in Goldendale Lifted

Goldendale, Wash., Feb. 8.—Goldendale people attended prayer meetings Thursday night for the first time in four months. Public gatherings are now permitted except dances and card parties, the three day isolation period for travelers has been removed, every other row of seats only can be used in picture shows, in pool halls every second table may be used, all persons having the disease must remain in quarantine for two weeks and nurses must wear masks. Only 16 deaths have occurred from the disease in the entire county.

Court Has Mass of Work
Goldendale, Wash., Feb. 8.—Congested litigation on the superior court docked for Klickitat county, that has piled up during the past four months while the battle against Spanish influenza was in force, will be disposed of during the week commencing February 17. A jury trial will not be called until late in March.

W. G. McAdoo Sure Getting Good Start

Los Angeles, Feb. 8.—(U. P.)—William G. McAdoo, who resigned as secretary of the treasury in order to rehabilitate his private fortunes as an attorney, has a good start on the road, it is believed here.

Where in the World Is Precious Pussy?

Albany, Feb. 8.—If cats can't be lost and can always find their way home, then somewhere between Albany and California there is a black angora cat, headed for home, and local employees of the express company are offering a reward to the person intercepting the cat. A California family shipped its family pet to Hillsboro and while the basket was awaiting transfer here, the lid became detached and the cat started for home.

Kathleen O'Connor Engaged

Kathleen O'Connor has been selected to play opposite James J. Corbett in the former champion's first Universal serial, now being filmed at Universal City. Miss O'Connor started her screen career with Universal and went later to the Rolin-Pathe Comedy company, where she was cast opposite Toto, the clown.

Opera Season Will Close Tonight

"Rigoletto" Pleases Large Audience; "Il Trovatore" Last of Repertoire.

ANGELO ANTOLO in the role of Rigoletto, Friday night, had his final performance in the grand opera repertoire of the San Carlo company, which closes its season at The Auditorium tonight.

Antola is a Pacific coast favorite for at one time he made San Francisco headquarters and by many grand opera performance there was thought incomplete without him. While his voice is powerful and pleasing it is his wonderful ability to act that has made him a favorite. And as Rigoletto he is a gem.

But Antola was not alone in reaping plaudits Friday night. Salazar, as the wicked duke, and Queena Maria, as Gilda, were given veritable ovations and had to repeat several of the arias and duets. The duet in the second act particularly won the audience, which, by the way, was nearly up to the capacity of the house.

Much credit for the splendid productions Portland is enjoying is due to Musical Director Gaetano Merola, and he, too, was given special recognition when the crowd refused to cease applauding until he appeared on the stage and acknowledged the tribute.

This afternoon "Faust" is being sung and tonight "Il Trovatore" will close his most successful season of eight performances. From here the San Carlo company will go to San Francisco for a season of 15 days.

Girl Picks Pimple and Death Results

Albany, Feb. 8.—Hannah Bruce, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Bruce of Waterloo, died Monday of this week from blood poisoning, which was started by the picking of a pimple on her forehead. Local physicians, called in consultation Sunday, said that the picking of the pimple occurred Saturday and the poisoning had such a start by Sunday evening that it was impossible to save the girl's life. Besides her parents, two sisters and a brother survive her.
