Ladies of Rotary Plan Program of Interest

Mrs. C. B. Waters Arranges Details of Club's First Function of Organization.

By Helen H. Hutchison

THE Valentine tea scheduled for Friday afternoon by the Women of Rotary, which will be given in the crystal room of the Benson hotel, is the first large social function to be given by this organization, which has only a brief history in Portland. An unusually interesting and artistic program will be a feature of the afternoon and a large assembly of Portland's representative women are anticipating the event with pleasure. Tea hours will be from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Charles B. Waters, president of the organization, is in charge of arrangements for the affair and is assisted by Mrs. S. B. Cooke, Mrs. J. A. Henry, Mrs. H. F. Sturdevant, Mrs. W. J. Roope, Mrs. W. D. McWaters, Mrs. G. H. Douglas, Mrs. E. A. Stewart, Mrs. C. E. Cochran, Mrs. Edgar S. Higgins, Mrs. J. W. Hill, and Mrs. George L. Baker.

News has been received in Portland of the wedding of Miss Ella Cannel and Major Walter de Longville Clifford, formerly of Portland, which was solemnized in the Redcliffe Square cathedral in London on January 17. Major Clifford has been with the British army for three years and has just returned to London from Saloniki, where he has been stationed for some time. Several Portlanders witnessed the ceremony in London, among whom were Mrs. Horace Seymour, Miss Diana Heskins and Lieutenant Roscoe Pascoe.

The bride is the sister of Mrs. Frank Wilder of this city and was a visitor in Portland about five years ago. Mrs. Wilder has been in London about four years, during which time her husband received a commission in the British army and was later killed in action. Since then Mrs. Wilder has been engaged in Red Cross work.

Plans for increasing the effectiveness of social events in unifying the Reed college student body will be considered Friday evening. A program of athletic games and dancing is planned, which will include every member of the Reed community. Following the last class on Friday an informal dance will be given in the college assembly hall. At 6:15 a big spread will satisfy the wants of "daydodgers" and dormitory dwellers, and an hour later the real excitement of the evening will begin with a rally in the gymnasium. College songs will resound over the campus and dorm and daydodger groups will practice yells to cheer their respective basketball teams, which will mix at 8 o'clock.

Dancing is planned to occupy the remainder of the evening and fun is assured everyone.

A quiet wedding, which is of interest to a wide circle of friends, both in Portland and in the east, was solemnized Wednesday evening at the First Methodist church when Miss Madge Jewett became the bride of E. Robbins of this city. Rev. Joshua Stanfield officiating.

Mrs. Robbins is known as a writer of short humorous stories of the west and came here to live two years ago from Cincinnati, Ohio. At the time of the recent influenza epidemic, Mrs. Robbins offered herself as a nurse and through her efficient work won many friends.

Mr. Robbins has been associated for several years with the firm of Atkins & Co. Mr. and Mrs. Robbins will make their home in Portland.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Mrs. Mattie E. Abbott, teacher of music in Portland, to W. E. Berlin of Kansas City, Mo. The ceremony was performed Monday afternoon by Rev. William A. Waldo of the White temple. After a brief trip to Kansas City, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Berlin will return to Portland, where they will make their future home.

The many friends of Mrs. Hubert P. Parsons, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Franklyn Mott Jones Jr., in Milford, Conn., will be interested to know that Mrs. Parsons called from New York with Mrs. Jones and family for Jacksonville, Florida, February 2. Mrs. Jones shipped her motor south and the party will tour through Southern points of interest during the next few weeks, remaining for some time in New Orleans. Later Mrs. Parsons will return to New York to await the arrival of her husband, Captain Parsons, who is head of the Mental unit of base hospital 46, which received its sailing orders for home on January 13. As soon as Dr. Parsons arrives in New York he will accompany his wife to Portland.

A Valentine party will be given by the guild of St. Michael's Episcopal church in Rose City park on Friday evening. The affair will be given in Vincent's hall on Forty-third and Sandy boulevard at 8 o'clock. A musical program in charge of Mrs. E. B. Bordenstein will be a feature of the evening, and hand-made valentine aprons and home-made candles will be offered for sale. Mesdames A. G. Bottum, Thomas Humphrey and A. H. Gardiner will have charge of the aprons, and Mrs. R. A. Cronin and Mrs. Dean Vincent will preside at the candy table.

The luncheon at the University club at which Miss Brenda Franklyn will be the speaker, is open to the public. Observations may be made by calling the steward of the club. Miss Franklyn is a fascinating speaker and represents the "Motherless Children of France." She is an artist of note, having had the

Giant Bear Gives Another Party

IT WAS funny to see Jimmy Coon and Teddy Possum scamper home, yelping with pain at every jump, while those angry Bumblebees followed those two giants, and stung them every step of the way. Giant Bear stood up on his hind legs and watched Jimmy Coon and Teddy Possum getting stung by those angry Bumblebees. And Giant Bear laughed heartily, in his deep bass voice, and chuckled aloud: "I wonder if those two rascals found my honey bee enough for their greedy mouths? I guess now they will stop laughing at me and calling me a coward!"

Then Cousin Bruin invited Rick Otter and Benny Mink to a Dinner Party; and these two rascals accepted the invitation, because they had not heard of the huge prank that Giant Bear had played on Jimmy Coon and Teddy Possum. When Dick Otter and Benny Mink arrived at Giant Bear's house, he welcomed them with open arms and gave them both such a powerful hug with his powerful arms, that they both yelled out: "Oh, Giant Bear! Don't hug us so hard; you will break all our ribs!" (You see, Giant Bear is so strong he doesn't know how to play gentle.)

And Giant Bear took his two hungry guests, Dick Otter and Benny Mink, into his big dining room, where was out of doors, as you remember, in the summer. And Giant Bear explained: "Now, Dick Otter and Benny Mink, I know you are both very hungry and are both very fond of meat. You see those three gray paper bags, hanging up there on those alder bushes? Well, each bag is full of lovely meat, and when I count three, each of us will have a race to see which fellow can get his bag of sweet meat first and eat it up! I have a prize for the one who beats in this race."

And the eyes of Dick Otter and Benny Mink twinkled with excitement, and they both ran out their red tongues and smacked their lips at the sight of the big gray paper bags, filled with the choicest meat! You would have snickered to see those three fellows too a little; and hear Giant Bear count, "One, Two, Three, Go!" And how the dirt and leaves did fly as those three rascals leaped to jerk those three gray paper bags off those alder bushes, so they could get the lovely meat inside, for their dinner!

And what do you suppose was in those gray bags, hanging on the bushes? For, of course, Giant Bear was only joking when he said that there was meat inside of them. You see, he wanted to punish Dick and Benny because they too, like Jimmy Coon and Teddy Possum, had spread the news that he was a coward. And they were to be punished now—that was certain!

Child's Welfare Report Big Success

Because of First Day Conditions Drive Will Continue for Brief Time.

ALTHOUGH excellent progress is reported by the workers in the child welfare drive held Wednesday by the Oregon Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations, on account of it being a stormy day and a holiday the drive will be continued to give every one an opportunity to contribute to this cause of better babies for Oregon.

"We have heard from only a few workers and their returns were not complete," said Mrs. F. Fiegl, "Two groups of workers turned in $3 each and we know of one individual worker who has collected $50. Then we have received several checks for $5 and $10 from friends of the bureau throughout the state. Mrs. Terry is having fine success in her work among the business men, so we have every reason to believe that the drive is going to be a financial success, although it will have to continue for another day or two, and we already have proof that it is an educational success. The advance publicity concerning our drive has brought an avalanche of inquiries for advice and literature and of registrations for eugenics tests. The tests are given by appointment only. Mothers wishing to have their babies tested may call up the bureau of 251 courthouse, Marshall 235, and make appointments. An education was one of the aims of the drive we feel that it has been signally successful."

"If the workers and the contributors will just join hands during the remainder of the week to meet our financial obligations in maintaining the bureau, we can continue in our work of helping to solve the problems of expectant mothers, young parents and small children by counsel and advice, by our scientific tests and by the distribution of pamphlets and books on child welfare."

Illinois Measure Hits at Terrorism

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 13. — Ten years in the penitentiary and a fine not exceeding $5000, will await Bolshevist and I. W. W. agitators in Illinois, if a bill introduced in the house becomes law. The law would apply to any person guilty of advocating crime, sabotage, violence or terrorism as means of accomplishing industrial or political reforms.

Musical Program Marks Club Event

Research Club Members Enjoy Cards and Music at Successful Afternoon Meeting.

By Vella Winner

THE largest club event of the week was the delightful musical and card party given Wednesday afternoon in the crystal room of the Hotel Benson by the Portland Woman's Research club. The program was opened with a group of three songs by the Monday Musicals chorus directed by Rose Courten Reed. They were, "On the Skee," "Mother" and "The Dusk Witch," and were given in a manner that elicited hearty applause. Mrs. E. L. Knight gave two exquisitely rendered violin numbers, "Ballet Music" by Tullia-Deibes and "Romance" by Hauser, with Miss Mae Ross at the piano. Mrs. Robert Clark, a member of the Hostess club, sang in splendid style "A Rose" (Malcolm), "Calm As the Night" (Bohm) and "A Longin' For You."

Tables were arranged for 225 players and there were spirited games of bridge and five hundred. The prizes were taken by Mrs. G. M. Nolan and Mrs. Dudley Clark. The entire afternoon was a signal success, both socially and financially and great credit is reflected upon Mrs. J. E. Bonebright, chairman for the afternoon, and the members of the committee.

The Presidents' club met Wednesday at the Y. W. C. A. tea room with 13 women present, including several new members and three visitors. In the absence of the president, the vice president, Mrs. Eldon J. Steele, presided, and Miss Florence Olsen acted as secretary. The principal item of business was the endorsement of the bills which have been introduced by the legislative council, composed of representatives of the state women's organizations. The resolution presented by the Portland Woman's club relative to women relinquishing their positions to returned soldiers was also endorsed. Mrs. Percy W. Lewis announced the week of song. Mrs. Frederick Egert announced the luncheon for Mrs. Philip North Moore to be given Monday at the Hotel Portland. The speaker for the day was Mrs. Alva Lee Stephens, who gave an illuminating talk on the power of thought when properly directed toward constructive things.

Linn County chapter, Daughters of American Revolution, held its annual meeting last week when reports were given showing the past year to have been one notable for patriotic achievement. The chapter now has 38 members.

It contributed $100 in cash to the Red Cross. A chapter it purchased two $50 Liberty bonds.

Garden Hints

—by—
Sheba Childs Hargreaves

Form the clipping habit; that good gardening article will be lost by the time you are ready to use the information it contained. A note book is a good thing for the beginner who is in earnest. Put all the ideas you can get into it and it will be a help for years to come. Cut out a few leaves in the back of the book and then paste the last leaf on two sides of cover, leaving the end open, and you have a good pocket for clippings. In the note book itself jot down planting suggestions and any other information that will be of value to you.

Do not economize on early garden seeds; use plenty, for they do not come up so well when the ground is cold; and above all things, be sure that the seed is fresh and of good quality.
