Rotary Women To Be Guests At Tea

- Fashion Show Marks Affair at Benson Honoring 200 Visitors in City.

By Helen H. Hutchison

NOTABLE among the week's social events will be the tea given Thursday afternoon at the Benson hotel for the women who have come to Portland for the Rotary club convention. About 200 guests from out of town are expected and the plans for the tea promise a de-

A feature of the tea will be an elaborate fashion show with living mannequins who will form a procession between the tea tables and display the smart frocks and wraps which every woman's heart delights to behold. Special musical numbers have been planned for this occasion and each of the larger cities of the three states, Washington, Oregon and Idaho, will be represented on the afternoon's program.

Mrs. Charles B. Waters, president of the Portland Women of Rotary, will give an address of welcome to the visttors. Mrs. F. E. Moore will also make a brief talk. A large committee has been chosen to assist in receiving and serving. Clarence A. De Fries of the Rotary club has been given charge of the entertainment plans for the visting

The bridge club of the ladies of Elks will meet Thursday afternoon at the Elks temple, at 2 o'clock. Mrs. M. M. Levy will be hostess for the occasion.

Mrs. Hubert Morton, who has been the guest of friends in the city for several weeks, left Sunday for New York, where she will sail for England to join her husband, who is in the British army. While in Portland Mrs. Morton was the guest of Mrs. John Latta, Mrs. D. W. L. MacGregor, Mrs. Walter Long and Mrs. Richard Wilder. Mrs. Morton has been this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hanthe inspiration for much delightful entertainment. She has no definite plans for returning to Portland.

Major Vernon Cartwright was expected to arrive today from New York, where he landed some days ago from London. Major Cartwright has been in service with the British army. He will make his home for the present with Mrs. Cartwright and his small son, l'eter, and daughter, Patricia, with Mrs. Cartwright's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Malarkey, on Portland Heights. Major Cartwright has not been in Portland for more than two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hobbs of Irvington entertained 85 friends at their home last Saturday evening with an enjoyable valentine party. Vaudeville stunts, cards and dancing were features of the evening. The Oregon grill orchestra furnished music for dancing. Other musicians assisting were Messrs. Hobbs, Ernest Nordstrom, Harry Hibbs, Dr. Be-queath, Dr. Wyman, Mrs. Hobbs and Fred Scholl. A buffet supper was served at a late hour. Spring flowers and valentine decorations were prettily arranged through the rooms, Mrs. Hobbs was also a charming hostess for two afternoon affairs last week.

The Little People Find a Bee Tree FINDING a Bee Tree, to Giant Bear, is like buying Ice-cream to you. So Giant Bear goes shuffling through the woods, sniffing and snuffing, to smell the honey of wild honey bees. You know the wild honey bees store lots of delicious honey in hellow trees in the woods; and not only Giant Bear, but Jimmy Coon, Teddy Possum, the Farmer Boy, and others are crazy to find a splendic big Honey Tree. And one day Giant Bear, Jimmy Coon, Teddy Possum and others of the Little People, found a lovely Bee Tree. My, I wish you could have seen Giant

Bear, Jimmy Coon and Teddy Possum scramble up that tree to find the hole, which was the front door into that store house of delicious wild honey! Jimmy Coon got Teddy Possum to help him find the front door into the treasury of sweets; and Teddy Possum wound his rope-like tail around a limb above the little hole, which was the front door for the honey bees. And then Teddy Possum held on tight to Jimmy Coon's left hand, while Jimmy Coon pulled out a handful of lovely honey.

Then something terrible happened! Those angry bees flew out in hundreds, as mad as Hornets, and they covered the face, nose and mouth of Jimmy Coon, and jabbed their terrible stings into that scamp! And Jimmy screamed, "Help! help! help. These awful bees are killing me!" And Jimmy was blinded by their awful stingers. Then the angry bees flew in a little

The angry bees got all over the Giant Bear's face, eyes, nose and mouth; but Giant Bear minded them no more than mosquitoes; and he ate the bees down in big mouthfuls with the honey. And Giant Bear said, "I'm glad I'm no coward. Why, I like those bees and their stingers just as much as I like their honey!" And once more the Little People said Giant Bear was not a coward—as they sometimes thought he was. For, they were always discovering that he was braver than they had believed him to be.
