Public Schools Will Observe Holiday

Walnut Tree Planting to Be One of Interesting Features of the Program.

By Vella Winner

WITH song, story, historical sketch W and little playet supplemented by the planting of black wainuts directly descended from the historic trees sur rounding Washington's tomb at Mount Vernon, the birthday of George Washington will be celebrated Friday morning n the public schools throughout Oregon in a manner more fitting than ever be fore. The remainder of the day will be a legal holiday, incomuch as February 22 falls on Saturday.

After four long years of effort through the instrumentality of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Washington's birthday has, by an act of the legislature, been made a legal holiday and following immediately on the passage of this bill O. M. Plummer turned over to Multnomah chapter, 100 pounds of nuts grown on his tree, the seed for which was brought by him from Mount Vernon. With the gift went the suggestion from Mr. Plummer that the planting of the nuts be made a part of the Washington's birthday exercises. A. Keating, regent of the chapter, accepted the suggestion and made Mrs. Robert S. Farrell chairman of the committee. Letters have been sent to the regents of the 11 chapters of Daughters of the American Revolution throughou' the state, to the superiatendents of schools, and to the newspapers of the state in an effort to have the celebration uniform and general. Mrs. John Hall is chairman of the distribution of the nuts. At the suggestion of Mra Keating a child born of foreign parents will, whenever possible, turn the first spadeful of earth, emblematic of the new international Americanism. A member of the Daughters of the American Revolution will participats in the exercises wherever possible.

A patriotic and musical luncheon will be given in the crystal room of the Benson hotel Monday by the Portland Women's Research club. Miss Brenda Francklyn, who is touring this country in behalf of the fatherless children of France, will speak. Mrs. Sarah A. Evans, state Liberty loan chairman of Oregon, also will speak. Major J. J. Sellwood will relate some of his experiences on the western front during the past two years. Rev. W. W. Willard of Chicago will speak on the coming internationalism. Mrs. Dudley Clarke, so-prane: Miss Helen Harper, violinist, and Claire Milo Godfrey, tenor, will furnish musical numbers. Mrs. E. Charles Rich-ton is chairman.

held their first meeting after the lifting of the flu ban, at the home of Mrs. Appelman Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Decker, from the P. E. O. chapter at Woodburn, was a guest. Mrs. Hay conducted a quis on the P. E. O. constitution, after which Mrs. Kidder gave a resume of her experience in Camp Lewis

An interesting and well attended meeting of the Eugene Child Study club was held on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. L. Stetson, when the election of officers was held. Miss Harriet Thomson gave a talk on "Corrective Exercises for Children."

The Menday Book club of Eugene met last week at the home of Mrs. Alex T. Cockerline, at 1031 Mill street. Luncheen was served by the hostess and the afternoon was spent in the completion of a Belgian quilt. The work of the afternoon was accompanied by reading by Mrs. Hamilton Weir.

Bed Time Tales:

Cousin Bruin Goes Hunting

YOU would think that when Giant Bear went hunting he would hunt big animals, the biggest he could find. But here is something remarkable: Giant Bear is found of hunting tiny creatures, no bigger than the head of a pin! You would laugh to see great Giant Bear, weighing 400 pounds, trying to catch a tiny Ant, about the size of a

And yet Giant Bear spends much of his time hunting the tiny Ants. It is very comical to see how clever Giant Bear is in catching thousands of Ants for his Supper. Giant Bear is like a General of an Army. He understands cunning and strategy. You might call him "General Bear," for he conquers on some days a whole Army of Ants. The little Woodfolk, like Jimmy Coon, Teddy Possum, Bobby Skunk, and the others, just follow Giant Bear around to see his wonderful victories over great Armies of Ants!

Why, one day the little Woodfolk saw Giant Bear, single-handed, conquer an Army of over 10,000 Ant Soldiers. These little Woodfolk saw him attack a fortof pine needles, bits of wood, pieces of

> MRS. ISAAC LEE PATTERSON, formerly regent of the Oregon chapter, Daughters of American Revoluion and later regent of Multnomah chapter, was nominated for vice president general of the National D. A. R. at the closing session of the state con-ference held Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. George Thatcher Guernsey, president general, who has been attending the convention, made the suggestion that Oregon send a candidate for the vice presidency and Mrs. Patterson was the choice of the conference. There are seven vice president generals to be elected, and the election of Mrs. Patter-son to one of these offices would be a signal honor to the D. A. R. of Oregon. That she would make an admirable officer is generally admitted. Mrs. F. M. Wilkins of Eugene was

If you are planning to raise your own seedlings in the house, it is time they were started. If large quantities of abbage and tomato plants are to be used it will pay to raise them, but it is cheaper in the long run to buy them for a small garden, for they require care and skill in the raising.

For early potatoes, plant very small ones. Do not cut them. They will rot if a cut surface is exposed, and the The man who raises poultry has
