Informal Dance Draws Much Interest

Affair at Multnomah Hotel to Be in Honor of Returning Soldiers.

THE members of Portland's younger school set, together with the college folk, who will be home for the mid-sem-ester holidays, are evidencing a keen anticipation toward the informal dancing party to be held at the Multnomah hotel. on Tuesday evening, March 25. With the return of Portland's boys from the service, there has been a desire in the hearts of every one to renew old friendships in a social way and the college vacation offers an opportune time for such an affair. Members of the com-mittee in charge of arrangements for the dance are. Tracie Moyer, Alice Hawman, Florence Hemingway, Jennie Parelius, Dorothy Morrill, Marian Spoeri, Marian Stephenson, Theodora Stoppenback, Reba Macklin, Elsie Peterson, Gene Geisler, Marian Grebel, Helen Wheeler, Geraldine King, Virginia Cash, Oscar Driscoll, Stanley Anderson, Paul Campbell, Ted Peterson, Gobble Reed, George Beggs, S. Glennon, Ozbun Walker, Merle Margason, Herman Lind, Helmar Ed-lund, Hugh Thompson, John Hunt and Much interest is evidenced in the series of lectures on "Art and Architecture as Exemplified by the Cathedrals Both Pagan and Christian" which will open Friday evening at the Little Theatre, and will continue for five Friday evenings. The lectures which will be illustrated with tableaux, songs, instrumental numbers and dances, are in charge of Mrs. E. P. Mossman and Mrs. Jessie M. Honeyman. Mrs. Everett Babcock and Mr. Green are in general charge of the tableaux and in the draping Miss Shogren will assist. J. R. Hutchison and G. D. Ingram are in charge of the music and a group of dancers has been coached by Miss Jean Wold. The business woman's committee of the Young Women's Christian Association is sponsoring the lectures and tickets may be secured from them or at the Y. W. C. A.

Garden Hints Sheba Childs Hargreaves

Some plants are best kept out of lit-tle gardens. Their undergrowth is so rampant and their seeding so prolific that they are a menace to the more tender plants.

Do not let the parsnips in the garden go to seed. They are a poisonous weed the second year and a troublesome one to eradicate.

Beehives look well among the flowers in the garden. Bees help in the pollenation of the fruit tree, too.

Throw away the Dutch bulbs you forced this year, or plant them in an out-of-the-way place in the garden. They will take at least two years to recover from this season's forcing.

Try a few new vegetables in the garden this year, for instance: Peppergrass, Chinese mustard, fetticus or corn salad, Swiss chard, okra, Florence fennel, chervil, chicory. These are all good, standard vegetables, though little known in American gardens.

in American gardens.

Have you settled on the varieties of roses you are going to buy this year? Crowth has started very early this senson. They should be set as soon as possible now.

Give the cabbage and cauliflowers new, clean ground this year and avoid club root and a lot of other diseases. Keep a hen for each member of the family, but keep them shut up.
