

HEROES OF BENTON COUNTY WELCOMED

Mayor of Corvallis and Committee Great Men Here and Will Take Them Home in Triumph.

"Do as you please, boys, you're Corvallis' guests tonight."

That was the tone of the greeting offered to 14 of Benton county's boys, former members of Company K of the old Third Oregon, when they stepped from a train at the Union station Thursday evening and were met by a delegation of the leading citizens of Corvallis, headed by Mayor Lowe.

A real reception it was. The men were put up at the Multnomah hotel, were dined by the committee, were taken for theatre parties and for automobile rides, and put in condition for the big reception that awaits them when they arrive in Corvallis at 4:35 this afternoon.

The men are all that are left of the 150 Corvallis and Benton county lads that once formed Company K, 162d infantry. The rest, through the replacement system, went to various organizations of the army.

Captain Murphy, who has headed Company K since it was first formed in 1908, is on duty in Paris. Lieutenant Ellenberg is gone to the army of occupation, and the rest of the boys are scattered. The 17, having remained together as the nucleus of a training organization, arrived in Camp Lewis a week ago, and were discharged as a body Thursday morning.

The reception here was only preliminary to the welcome that Corvallis is giving its boys. The entire party left at 1 o'clock this afternoon, to reach home about 4:30 o'clock.

Big Dolings in Corvallis
One of the streets of Corvallis has been roped off, waxed and made ready for dancing. The Oregon Agricultural college cadet band will be present, and the reception will be entirely informal. The men who returned are Percy Blackstone, Frank Fleischmann, George W. Hotchkiss, George R. Tripp, Eric Lindquist, R. B. Petty, H. J. Sprague, Fred Hubler, C. C. McBride, Gus Lindquist, L. R. Chipman, Ney Kiger, Walter Fletcher and Earl R. Graham. The reception committee consists of Mayor J. E. Lowe, L. P. Graham, C. E. Ingalls, S. C. Elliott, John F. Allen, S. K. Hartsock, F. C. Appleman, W. K. Taylor and W. M. Ball.

School Cafeterias Will Be Managed By Business Men

That school cafeterias will henceforth be run on a business rather than an educational basis, was ruled at the meeting of the school directors Thursday afternoon, upon the recommendation of Superintendent D. A. Grout. As the cafeterias have been handled they are not educational in any sense, according to Mr. Grout, but they take up the time of domestic science instructors who could be put to good use in their schools. Many concession persons have already expressed the desire to operate high school cafeterias, it is said, and the proposition will be turned over to the highest bidder. Cafeterias are now being conducted in the Jefferson and Lincoln high schools and the Girls' Polytechnic. The one at Benson Polytechnic has never been resumed since the war.

How Ohio Will Go Dry Is Big Issue

Columbus, Ohio, March 21.—(U. P.)—Ohio voters last fall voted to make the state dry May 27, but nobody knows how dry it will be on that date. This is because the Ohio house did not pass the emergency clause of the Crabbe prohibition enforcement bill. Since the senate is expected to take similar action, the law cannot take effect until November because there undoubtedly will be a referendum on it. The courts will have to say whether the state will be bone dry, dry, damp or wet after May 27.
