

WHAT SOCIETY IS DOING

Social Quiet Marks Advent Of Holy Week

By Helen H. Hutchison

WITH the approach of the last days of the Lenten period social activities give way to the religious ceremonies of the season. Today begins first Holy week since the war. It has a deeper significance in the many homes throughout the country for that reason. Not only are many families once more reunited after a long period of anxiety but there are many homes whose vacant chairs sadly call to mind happy associations of other years.

No social functions of importance are now planned for the week preceding Easter and especially this year are the few that will occur confined to small, intimate, informal gatherings and quiet forms of recreation.

Waverley Country club was Saturday the scene of the first tournament in golf and a star studded the day at the club. More than 20 players came down from Tacoma for the tournament and all day little groups of women members of the club were seen about the clubhouse, enjoying a chat over their successes and making an interesting gallery for the many Waverley players who participated in yesterday's events were: Gordon Voorhes, Jr., Horace Meeklen, Carl Wernicke, A. C. U. Berry, W. A. Pettysgrove, D. W. L. U. Berry, A. S. Kerry, W. E. Pearson, A. E. W. Peterson, Dr. F. E. Moore, R. A. Leiter, Ned Ayer, Jordan Zan, Dr. Morrison, F. W. Ellis, Dr. Sam Forest Watson, Ritchie Wilder, Straight and A. E. White.

Portland has two exceptionally interesting and gifted visitors in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. John Young-Hunter of England, both distinguished portrait painters. Mr. Young-Hunter specializing in adult and Mrs. Young-Hunter doing children almost exclusively. These artists came to America four years ago especially to paint Indians and they have established two studios at 200 N. M. which they expect to maintain permanently, although they will spend a part of each year in England. They passed a part of the past winter at Coronado Beach, where they held an exhibit and secured many commissions, including Mrs. W. P. Vollmer of Lewiston, Idaho, whom they came to Portland to paint. Mrs. Vollmer has been detained in California. They will leave soon for the Middle West to hold an exhibit and will return to Portland later, and it is thought that they may at that time hold an exhibit. Wednesday evening they were dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Teal. While in the city they are guests at the White House.

Over the Top auxiliary. Veterans of Foreign Wars, is planning an unique "500" party for the entertainment of its members and friends next Monday evening at its club rooms, 525 courthouse. Another feature planned by Mrs. Reatha Fowler Miller and Miss Minnie Wolf will be a get-together party and sing. The young men are returning from overseas and affiliating with the veterans and in a short time the organization will have a chorus of trained voices that will carry music and its mission into the life of the work. Prizes will be awarded and dainty refreshments served. The hostesses for the evening are Mesdames H. P. Cloyes, Victor Brandt and James McCarrren.

gee children, many from Belgium, and during the air raids at Paris many children came to the children's bureau from there. The staff of the American hospital included 12 nurses or aides, three American nurses, two French nurses and a number of French nurses' aides. Mrs. Dymont had occasion during her service overseas to make a tour of all the reconstruction bases to study the work so that in case of need she might be able to assist with that work in Portland. She is now in service a part of each day at the Reed college reconstruction clinic and in which she has taken an active interest since it was established more than a year ago. It was only a fortnight ago that the marriage of Dr. Stuart and Colin V. Dymont, which was solemnized in Paris in August, was announced in Portland. Dean Dymont has returned to his work in the University of Washington school of journalism and Dr. Stuart will remain in Portland.

Complimenting Commander and Mrs. Rufus Zogbaum, who left Saturday for the Great Lakes naval training station near Lake Forest, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hawley Hoffman were dinner hosts on Thursday evening. A number of other informal social functions were planned this week in their honor.

The annual Easter ball of the Laurelhurst club will be given this year on Saturday at Muttomah hotel. Both ballrooms and the tea gardens have been engaged for the occasion, and a representative gathering will participate in the affair. The members of the Laurelhurst club include prominent people from all parts of the city, and this function, which is one of the largest social affairs, will be of wide interest throughout the city. The tea table was beautiful with its lovely centerpiece of spring flowers.

The annual Easter tea will be held at the Old Peoples' home, Thirty-second street and Sandy boulevard, on Monday, from 3 to 5 o'clock. The Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church will have charge of the tea room and candy table. A musical program will be given under the direction of Mrs. Fletcher Linn. All interested friends cordially invited to attend.
