Last year the care of the schools cost the city $266,900, according to Director Thomas. Investigation has shown that hydrants are left continually dripping, gas is allowed to leak, fine coal is wasted by using coarse-mesh grates. SCHOOL BUILDINGS Under the present system a head janitor is hired who employs necessary assistants, often underpaying them.

Under the new system, the successful bidder will be responsible for the purchase of light, heat and water, as well chase of light, heat and water, as well as janitof service. Furthermore, it is specified that the contractor shall not employ any person more than eight hours a day or 48 hours a week excep in case of emergency, with double wage for overtime. A minimum wage shall vailing rate for a day's work in the same trade or occupation.

This will cover the complaints mad y E. J. Stack, secretary of the Central Labor Council, at the last board meet-ing, that men were being underpaid and bids will be received on 72 schobuildings on which bidders may submit the condition is true only respecting common labor. Captain Conville states. Many more men are registering for work of the better class, it is pointed out than there are offers of positions. Great numbers of men are being sent to farms where $50 a month is offered as wages. Farmers who cling to the old scale of $45, however, have difficulty in securing men, the report maintains. The American Red Cross has lo $6906 to service men, according to Cap-tain Conville, and the Soldiers' and Sailors' committee has provided $200 for the same use, with more calls being received Captain Conville suggests that branch committees be appointed in every major town of the state to assist the main committee in its work.
