Spring is no time for blood poverty

What makes this charming girl of seventeen so rosy and glowing, so apt at her studies and sports? It is because she is full-blooded, rich-blooded, red-blooded. For her, Spring is the season of new energy and keen living in the out-of-doors.

Fortunately, impoverished blood can be quickly righted. A few weeks' treatment with Gude's Pepto-Mangan, "The Red Blood Builder," will work such improvement that your daughter can return to her studies and pleasures, and be once more able to derive full benefit from spring-time air, exercise, and good food.

Press, which forwarded it by wireless to Tokio. It makes plain that a false report carried Saturday by another service was the result of ignorance of rules of procedure in the conference.

Uyeda sent the following wireless dispatch to Nippon-Dempo via the United Press:

"The full meeting of the League of Nations has been most satisfactorily and amicably conducted after lengthy discussions.

"The action was taken between 8 and 1 o'clock on the night of April 10.

"The text of the unfortunate amendment which Japan claimed for insertion in the preamble was to endorse the principle of equality of nations and just treatment of their nationals.

"This phrase was the last form upon which Japan could compromise after having been crumpled, along with many friendly British and American delegates, by the Japanese, who attempted to persuade the strongest opponents of the Japanese desires, who declared they would return home if the phrase were inserted by the vote.

"General Smuts and Premier Botha of the Union of South Africa also assiduously endeavored to save the interests of Japan, but our opponents, now facing a general election, continued in their obstinacy.

"The Japanese delegates, especially China, have been most assiduously and busily engaged in this matter during the past fortnight, doing almost everything possible.

"Despite a hard cold on the night of April 10 China pushed on until the last moment to secure the insertion of an amendment to the racial equality clause.

"On Saturday, April 12, the United Press carried a dispatch from its staff correspondent, Fred S. Ferguson, stating it was understood the Japanese amendment of equality has not been added to the covenant.

"Late Saturday afternoon the Associated Press circulated the statement that the League of Nations commission had adopted by 11 votes out of 17 the Japanese amendment on racial equality."

"This incorrect report was circulated in certain coast cities and caused a great deal of excitement at a time when California, particularly, is agitated over the Japanese equality question.

"Despite the revelation that the British colonial delegates led the fight against the Japanese amendment, the Matin today declared that "Japan's demand for racial equality was favored by a majority of the League of Nations members, but the peremptory attitude of the United States resulted in its defeat."

"The Matin prints a long article against the American attitude on the League of Nations. It states that the French amendments were defeated by the Americans' consent, and that the American position is continued by declaring that the Monroe Doctrine clause was inserted expressly to please the American senate. It was not a question of the rights of races," said the newspaper, but of the demands of a group of American politicians.

"The Japanese are known to be fearful of disturbances in Japan where feeling was said to be high in support of the amendment. They would make no statement. The Matin concluded by saying, 'Majorities do not exist when against America.'"

MRS. SMITH HAD SUFFERED FOR FIFTEEN YEARS

Got No Results From Medicines Until She Took Tanlac—Now Enjoys Life.

"Tanalac is the only thing that has ever helped me, and that's saying a good deal for I have been trying for 15 years to get relief from my trouble," declared Mrs. C. Fred Smith, who lives at E. 87 Ermina street, Spokane, a Tanlac representative for several years ago. Mrs. Smith has lived in Spokane for 25 years.

"In the three years that I suffered," continued Mrs. Smith, "I could not eat anything in the vegetable line; even baked potatoes and gravy would cause severe pains in my stomach, and appetite and other fruit would make me suffer so after I had eaten them that I got so I just avoided them, although I would just like fruit. No matter how little I ate, I would be bothered with gas on my stomach and I was restless and I couldn't sleep and was irritable. I am not nervous and would get very despondent and was always craving food but didn't dare eat what I wanted most.

"I tried several treatments and also took everything that anyone would suggest but got no results, and then a friend of mine in Portland told me about the good Tanlac was doing for people with my kind of trouble. So I tried it, although I didn't have much faith in it at first, because I had taken so many different medicines without benefit. But Tanlac helped me and I certainly believe in it now. My relief has been truly wonderful and I now eat anything I want, even cabbage and watercress, and surely relish fruit now; in fact, I never knew that fruit tasted so good before! I have taken five bottles of Tanlac and it has built up my system and improved my appetite so much that I just feel like a new person. I have a large house and I do all my own housecleaning. The soreness and pain in her side disappeared." (Signed) W. H. Brubaker, Salina, Pa.
