

WAGE SYSTEMS OF PRESENT DOOMED, BRITISH BELIEVE

April Reviews Show Partnership Between Capital and Labor Is Looked Upon as Probable.

WARN AGAINST REVOLUTION Russia Can Stand It, but It Would Be Fatal to Insular England, Warns Sydenham.

By Edward Price Bell
Special Cable to The Journal, and The Chicago Daily News, by Chicago Daily News Co.
London, April 18.—British thought as disclosed in the reviews for April generally concludes that the serious economic situation preceding in this country probably never will reappear in this country. Already according to many students of the tendencies of the day the order is disintegrating and a new order is showing itself in diversified phases. Everywhere labor is seen pressing its case with vigor while capital as a rule gives indications of an earnest desire to fathom the causes of the industrial unrest and take steps to set them right.

It seems to be recognized that the wage system as known hitherto will give place to a partnership between capital and labor in which each will understand and trust the other because neither seeks to "win the game" by playing a lone hand.

REVOLUTION THREATENS

Lord Sydenham and a great number of other persons have formed what they call the National Unity League. "We are threatened with a revolution that would destroy the people," declares Sydenham in an appeal for funds to carry on a national campaign of education. "This revolutionary movement is well engineered and well financed. Capable alien agitators and organizers have a hand in it though they are gaining the support of a considerable number of our own people. Manual workers are bidden to seek salvation in the doctrines of Marx, ignoring the unparalleled miseries these doctrines have brought upon Russia. In this agitation there is an utter lack of appreciation of the special dangers of Marxism to this country."

"Russia can endure far more of this type of madness than can this island," says Sydenham. "She has vast resources and eventually will recover from the tyranny that now overwhelms her. Britain is dependent upon sea borne trade for both raw material and food and could not survive an experience such as that Russia is passing through. Grave financial difficulties are a heritage of the war for us. No rhetoric could exaggerate our need for unity, peace and productive labor. Given these essentials we can surmount every obstacle and do our full part in what Premier Lloyd George has called 'saving the civilization of Europe.' All classes devoted to our free institutions and the orderly social and political development for which we have shown an especial racial gift should close their ranks now against the forces of anarchy and destruction."

MARCONI SEES THREE-HOUR DAY

Guglielmo Marconi, in an interview in the new labor organ, the Daily Herald, takes a rosy view of what he thinks will do to lighten the labor of the world and make it prosperous and happy. He foresees a three-hour working day as

FORMER MAYOR OF B'HAM, ALA., INDORSES TANLAC

"You Will Hardly Know Me When We Meet Again; For I Am Getting Well," He Writes Friend.

One of the latest additions to the list of leaders of thought and action who have come forward with their unqualified indorsement of Tanlac is the name of Hon. Frank V. Evans, former Mayor of Birmingham, Ala., ex-state examiner of public accounts of Alabama, and at one time editor of one of the southern newspapers, the Birmingham Age-Herald. Writing to a personal friend in Atlanta, Mr. Evans says:

"By the way, you will hardly know me when we meet again, because I am getting so well and strong again. As I told you while in Atlanta last month, I have been suffering with indigestion, gastritis, as the doctors call it—really a disordered stomach with consequent constipation, pains in the shoulders, headache, belching, heartburn, loss of appetite, loss of sleep and fainting spells. For weeks I could not sleep on my back. "One week ago, upon recommendation of friends who had tried the medicine, I purchased one bottle of Tanlac and began taking it. Since my second dose I have suffered none of these troubles to which I refer, and really believe I am going to get perfectly well and strong again. Won't that be wonderful at my age? Well, certain it is that Tanlac is a wonderful medicine, and you know I am not given to 'puffing' mere experiments, and am rather orthodox as to materia medica. "I shall continue the treatment with perfect confidence in the final results." Signed "FRANK V. EVANS."

Commenting on this splendid indorsement of Tanlac, G. F. Willis, international distributor of Tanlac, said: "Although the list of indorsers is a long one, I recall a few leading names that lend both dignity and credit to the entire array. Some of them are:

"Hon. C. W. Mangum of Atlanta, Ga., for three terms sheriff of Fulton county; Hon. Moses R. Glenn, superintendent of printing for the state of Kentucky; Mr. C. C. Cooper, president of the Georgia Cotton Oil company; Mr. H. W. Hill, bank president of South Pittsburg, Tenn.; Mr. J. F. Carroll, cotton mill superintendent of Chattahoochee, Ga.; Hon. A. E. Anderson of Houston, Texas, for seven terms sheriff of Harris county; Hon. S. S. Shepard, ex-city councilman of Atlanta, and many other names have heretofore been given to the public.

sufficient to produce everything humanity needs. Leisure and not excessive labor he looks upon as of the greatest value to the human mind and spirit. "We can climb higher only by leisure," he says. "We must get our heat, light and motive power out of the sun. We cannot go on forever digging them out of the ground. More and more science must reach out to us its helping hand. Brain power after all and not hand power holds the keys that open the doors of progress. Even now the wireless should put us into communication with the moon if not the nearer stars. The wireless waves travel through the ether with the speed of light or at the rate of 93,000,000 miles in eight minutes. "Perhaps there is no one on the moon

Six Men Are Held Facing Charge of Importing Liquor

Discovery of a quantity of liquor stored in a locker in a Southern Pacific dining car which arrived from California Thursday night, led to the arrest and detention for the federal government of Patrick J. Washington, Turner Sloan, William Hartwell, William Cook and Albert Smith, colored porters. The men were arrested at Ninth and Hoyt streets as they were leaving the

Government Seeks To Cut Losses on Freight Damages

An active prevention campaign to minimize freight loss and damage has been developed through the efforts of R. H. Aishton, regional director. Shippers will be asked to cooperate by using containers that conform to tariff requirements and employees will be made individually responsible in helping solve claim prevention. Claim payments during the past year averaged close to 3 per cent of the
