

HISTORY OF 91ST TO BE PRESERVED BY ORGANIZATION

Association Formed of Members of American Force Which Included Many Oregon Men.

COMMANDER SINGS PRAISES

Oregon, Says Major General Johnston, May Be Proud of Record Made by Her Sons.

Salem, April 22.—"It has been a pleasure to command men such as composed this division," says Major General William H. Johnston, commander of the Ninety-first division, in a letter to Governor Olcott. "They have demonstrated that no better soldiers than can be made of young American citizens. They will return to their civil pursuits not only with the experience gained as soldiers, but will return better citizens because of their service during this war. They have learned how to command and to obey; how to bear with fortitude the unavoidable inconveniences and even sufferings of the campaign. They have not only seen their comrades die for the cause, but have themselves offered their lives for the same cause. Men who have acquired the virtues of obedience, fortitude and courage cannot fail, as citizens, to exhibit such virtues throughout their lives. I congratulate you on the return of such men to the citizenship of your state, and with equal sincerity I part with them with genuine regret."

MOVED ON SCHEDULE

"On November 30 I wrote you concerning the services of the Ninety-first division with the American Expeditionary Forces in France and Belgium, and on January 29 I informed you that the division had been scheduled for return to the United States in the month of March. "The movement of the division from the American embarkation center, Le Mans area, was commenced according to schedule after all men had been inspected and records had been prepared for embarkation, about March 18. The division was moved by rail to St. Nazaire, the port at which the first expedition landed late in June, 1917. The movement was slightly interrupted waiting for vessels. Some organizations sailed from St. Nazaire as early as March 19, 21, 23 and 25. Others, including division headquarters, were furnished vessels between April 1 and 7. According to embarkation instructions officers and men of the division were to proceed by rail from the Atlantic seaboard to certain areas in the United States where they could be most economically and most promptly sent to their homes after discharge. It is quite possible that many of this division, having been discharged and have reached their homes.

OREGON CAN BE PROUD

"Division headquarters, with some of the division units, will tomorrow reach Hoboken where it is presumed instructions will be received as to the destination of the remaining units, including division headquarters. I delayed the departure of division headquarters from France until vessels were furnished for all troops of the division, and in order to complete some administrative duties and make official reports to the general headquarters, American Expeditionary Forces. "The people of your state have reason to be proud of the record made by their representatives in the Ninety-first division. Officers and men have earnestly studied their duties and zealously discharged such duties under fire. It was the good fortune of this division to serve continuously at the front from the time it had completed training in France until the armistice interrupted hostilities. I have impressed upon officers and men, however, that other divisions and other troops, assigned to duty in the service of supply, deserve equal credit for the manner in which their duties were discharged. The Ninety-first division could not have established and maintained so fine a reputation as a combat division had it not been for the confidence felt by officers and men that not only all troops of the American Expeditionary Forces, as well as of the allies, were ready to support them, but that also other troops forming the United States and all loyal citizens of the United States were contributing in their way to the success of the campaign.

ASSOCIATION IS FORMED

"The history of the Ninety-first division has been written and has been approved by the general headquarters. A. E. F. A Ninety-first division association has been organized, composed of all officers and men who have served with the division, for the purpose of perpetuating its memory. It is our purpose to have a roster printed showing the home address of the members of the division for information of such members and, as soon as arrangements can be made, to publish the history of the division, with maps showing the areas in which it fought and possibly a few illustrations of the arrangements made for it. I shall take pleasure in requesting the publication committee to send you a copy of the roster of the Ninety-first division association and a copy of the history as soon as publication can be made. It is our purpose, also, to furnish a copy of the history to the nearest relative of each officer and man who lost his life during the campaign."

MISSOURI WELCOMES TROOPS FROM FRANCE

Boston, Mass., April 22.—(I. N. S.)—Bringing back to the United States the One Hundred Twenty-eighth field artillery (St. Louis' Own) 300 members of the Yankee division, bakery Company 304 and Illinois, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania and Connecticut casual companies, the transport Vedic came into Boston harbor today. Aboard the welcoming fleet that met the big ship down the harbor was a delegation from the Missouri legislature headed by Governor Gardner and General H. C. Clark of that state. The soldiers from the Middle West were given a big home coming greeting. The Twenty-sixth division units aboard were members of the One Hundred Third field artillery. There were 58 officers and 2180 enlisted men on the Vedic. The Missouri delegation intends to remain here until other units from that state, aboard transports diverted from New York to this port, also arrive.

How to Make a Toilet Cream

A face or toilet cream to alter roughness of the skin, prevent and cure chapped hands, and cracked lips, can be easily made at home, at little cost. It will improve the complexion, remove as well as prevent tan and sunburn in summer, and softens the skin. Men will find it excellent to apply to the face after shaving. To make it, merely get one ounce of glycerine, and 25c worth of powdered grexite at any drug store. Dissolve the grexite in the glycerine, add a pint of water, and pour into bottles. This makes more than a pint of thick antiseptic, greaseless cream or lotion, very healing and soothing, and perfectly harmless. It is enough to last you for months, and costs you only a few cents. The same amount of cream purchased in tubes or bottles would cost you several dollars.—Adv.
