Concern Will Open Under New Directors After Being Closed for Several Months.

Carl Detering, formerly assistant cashier of the Northwestern National bank, and a group of associates, headed by F. S. Doornbecher of the Doornbecher Manufacturing company, have purchased the assets of the First Trust & Savings bank of St. Johns, and the concern will open for business Wednesday morning. The bank was closed some months ago by Will M. Bennett, state superintendent of banks. All liabilities of the old institution will be liquidated under personal guarantees of Mr. Doornbecher. The bank has been reorganized, with a capital of $50,000. Mr. Doornbecher is president and Mr. Detering cashier. New directors elected at a meeting of the stockholders Monday were John Becher, J. V. Burt, Fred W. Garman, Fred A. Balin and Mr. Detering. Temporary quarters will be maintained in the building at 1302 South Fessenden street, St. Johns, but as soon as arrangements can be completed a new building will be erected for the bank by Henry and J. W. Hickner on Jersey street near Philadelphia street, St. Johns. The new structure will be located adjacent to the moving picture theatre in the business center of the city. Prior to the consolidation of the Merchants National bank with the Northwestern National, Carl Detering was assistant cashier of that concern, being in charge of the collection department. He has been a resident of Portland for several years, and is well known in business and banking circles.

Indians of Klamath Reservation Petition For Government Aid

Klamath Falls, April 22.—The Indians of Klamath reservation, at their regular tribal council at the agency, presided over by Seldon Kirk, decided to request that a loan of $250,000, secured against the timber interests of the Indians on the reservation, be granted by the department at Washington for "industrial support and uplift work" of the tribe. If this amount is secured, the Indians propose to use $50,000 in the construction of new highways on the Klamath reservation.

The Indians also want a new hospital on the reservation, containing modern equipment and appliances. They took official action against the construction of the dam contemplated across the head of Link river, which they fear will back up the water in Upper Klamath lake to such an extent as to interfere with the proper drainage and reclamation of reservation lands near Modoc Point, about 20 miles north of here. The council indorsed to the fullest extent the policies of the new superintendent of the reservation, Walter G. West, who came here about six months ago to relieve J. M. Johnson. West is a great favorite with his wards already. Joe Ball, Charles S. Hood and Clayton Kirk, constituted the committee to make the annual trip to Washington, D. C., in company with Superintendent West to visit the Indian bureau and Oregon's congressional delegation in the interest of their needs and wishes.

HOW TO SAVE ON SHOES

"Out of curiosity I tried a pair of Neolin Soles," writes W. P. Macartney of St. Louis, "and today, after five months of hard service I fail to notice any real signs of wear on them." This statement points the way to real economy in shoes. What your shoes cost, by the year, depends largely on how the soles wear and Neolin Soles do wear a very long time. Moreover, they are exceedingly comfortable and waterproof—scientifically made to be exactly what soles should be and so worn now by millions. They are available everywhere on new shoes and for re-soles. They are made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels, guaranteed to outwear any other heels.

W. H. Holmes, Attorney in Chadwick Case, and Ralph E. Moody Join Attack.

Salem, April 22.—Two more briefs were filed Monday in the supreme court in opposition to Attorney General Brown's contention that Ben W. Olcott is governor in fact and may resign his office as secretary of state without forfeiting the office of governor. One was filed by Attorney W. H. Holmes and another by Attorney Ralph E. Moody, both of Portland. Holmes was attorney for Earlhart in the case of Chadwick vs. Earlhart, in which the Oregon supreme court held that Chadwick, who had succeeded to the governorship through a vacancy in that office, was entitled to draw a salary as governor after he ceased to be secretary of state. Holmes says that if the Chadwick case is correct, there is no question about Olcott being governor in fact, but he insists that the supreme court was wrong when it rendered its decision in the Chadwick case and it should now reverse that decision. "Chadwick was never governor of the state of Oregon except by judicial fiat,"

TWO NEW BRIEFS ARE FILED IN OPPOSITION TO STAND OF OLCOTT

he argued. "The constitution did not say so, until it was read into it." Attorney Moody takes the same position. He argues that Olcott is not governor in any sense of the word and is not entitled to the salary or governor, but is entitled only to the salary of secretary of state. "As a matter of fact," he says, "neither the circuit nor supreme court in the Chadwick case had any jurisdiction whatever of the subject matter and both courts acted wholly without jurisdiction."
