

Germans Are Eager for United States to Make Separate Peace and Resume Relations

GOSPEL OF FORCE STILL STRONG WITH GERMAN LEADERS

They Eagerly Point Out That if United States and Germany Settle Differences Danger Past

POINT OF VIEW UNCHANGED

Cannot See Yet That America Has Not Taken Part in War for Merely Mercenary Motives.

By Gordon Stiles. Special Cable to The Journal and The Chicago Daily News.

Paris, April 29.—During the last two weeks of my stay in Berlin the reports from Paris which called forth the most enthusiasm were those which led to the drawing of the peace conference and making it separate from the war conference. The German newspapers played up to the limit any scrap of news which might be taken to indicate disension between President Wilson and his cabinet. Such an item brought down upon me at the Hotel Adlon a perfect swarm of business men and politicians, who always feel that an American correspondent must have an underground wire direct to Paris.

DESIRE SEPARATE PEACE

"Will America make a separate peace? If she does, can she go ahead with our business without waiting for France or England?" These and many other kindred questions were hurled at me by American correspondents. They felt upon the subject with the eagerness of school-boys on the slightest pretext, and more than once I was told that such a peace was Germany's only hope of commercial restoration. It was left that once peace was signed with America, the two nations would resume diplomatic and commercial intercourse at once. Also it was believed that such a treaty would permit German business men to go to America and develop trade. A certain chemical engineer told me that if he could get to America before September it meant that his future was assured; if not, he would be a pauper.

STILL APPEAL TO FORCE

What was amazing to me in view of what has happened in Germany was that with most of these people the gospel of force still clings as a mantle. "Why should we not have peace at once?" the head of a large electrical appliance factory asked me. "If only Mr. Wilson would say what terms suit him he can force France and England to sign. America now is the strongest nation in the world. None of the others dares to fight her. The others would have to fight in the end." My explanation that it was to rid the world of such doctrines that America went to war was received with a blank look. He simply could not understand why America should not use her man and money power for her economic gain. That sentiment, I feel sure, will be very hard to stamp out in Germany.

First Month Under Budapest Commune Has Passed Orderly

By A. R. Becker. Special Cable to The Journal and The Chicago Daily News.

Budapest, Hungary, April 25, via Courier to Paris, April 28.—One month of the communist regime has passed and must be said to have been without disorder, though the communist ax has hacked at each branch and root of the old institutions of property, banks, class, industry, religion, home, marriage and customs. But with the advance of the Roumanians the present dictators feel that their position is menaced. The elements which move Hungary today are political or economic. Social things are secondary. The Hungarians think first of the integrity of their state and then of something to eat or wear. Hence the use of the telephone has been stopped, machine guns have been placed in central positions and the walls have been plastered with new notices. One of these gives the "commandments" of the proletariat. It appeals for support of the red army and for calmness. One of the commandments is: "Do not take property, jewels or money from the bourgeoisie. We will take them." Despite the cries the preparations for an elaborate dem-

Dutch Red Guards Said to Be Ready To Join Hun Reds

By W. J. L. Kiehl. Special Cable to The Journal and The Chicago Daily News.

The Hague, Holland, April 29.—Despite the reassuring outcome of the elections the Bolshevik danger is not yet ended. At frontier places in Gelderland it is asserted that German Red Guards cross the border as soon as they receive a sign from David Wynkoop. Wynkoop already signs himself "First President of the Netherlands Soviet Republic." On passes issued by him to Russian and German Bolsheviks who have been arrested while trying to enter or leave Holland. Het Vaderland declares that Wynkoop has organized a small but active group of Dutch Red Guards and that the German Red guards cross the border the Dutch Red guards would come and meet them and make common cause. From the border it is reported that the reds are pressing forward and that the German government troops cannot prevent them from reaching Holland.

Newly Completed Astoria Reservoir Filled With Water

Astoria, April 29.—The first water to be turned into Astoria's new 20,000-gallon reservoir was allowed to enter the basin Tuesday. Chairman Fisher of the water commission, Engineer Berkeley and the members of the commission motored out to the new reservoir on Concombe Hill and witnessed the initial filling of the great basin, which will increase the water supply of the city more than ten fold. The project has been under construction for a year and the cost is slightly more than $150,000.

onstrastion on May 1 continue on a tremendous scale. All the red paint in town has been requisitioned. Banners and flags are being erected while on Broadway avenue huge red domes have been built around the statues. Many millions of crowns are to be spent. Hungaria hotel, the home of the government officials, is heavily guarded with special troops and armed automobiles, and no one is allowed to approach the permit. However, it is apparent that the government wishes calm and order.

Control of Vienna has been taken over by the soldiers' council. Quiet prevails, but communising of the property of those unable to resist has begun.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 40c and 50c per box. All druggists.

PRESS MEN PROTEST AGAINST EXCLUSION FROM NEGOTIATIONS

Committee Named to Secure Correspondents Access to Versailles Meet.

By Paul Scott Mowrer. Special Cable to The Journal and The Chicago Daily News.

Paris, April 29.—The American correspondents accredited to the peace conference held a meeting to protest against the arrangements being made to exclude the press from all negotiations with the Germans except the final session when the treaty will be actually signed. It is believed that this exclusion is unnecessary and the American delegates are said to favor full publicity.

The correspondents were informed that no journalists would be allowed to meet or confer with the enemy delegates. The correspondents themselves were divided in their opinion concerning this prohibition. The majority pointed out that British and American correspondents already in Germany were daily interviewing German leaders and faithfully reflecting German opinion and hence there would be no point in preventing statements of the German views on the ground instead of waiting for the news to come through Germany and neutral countries.

The minority felt that Germany's culpability in the war and the horror of German atrocities were such that no faithful allied citizen could desire to meet the German delegates until after peace was signed. One former Washington correspondent expressed the fear that if the press from the allied nations were to confer with the enemy the latter would simply use the press to spread German propaganda in favor of an easy peace.

"Did Count Von Bernstorff ever put anything over on you when he was in Washington?" somebody asked. "and in the suave and most convincing way imaginable."

A committee was appointed to ask the American delegates to secure for the American correspondents the right not to be present at the Versailles conference but the right to receive communications from the spokesmen of the German delegation directly.

The present authorities at Munich have liberated and armed Russian prisoners of war who have been confined in a camp on the outskirts of the city.

WILSON'S METHODS STARTLE THOSE USED TO OLD DIPLOMACY

"Momentous Innovation" Is the Phrase Applied by Daily Chronicle of London.

By Edward Price Bell. Special Cable to The Journal and The Chicago Daily News.

London, England, April 24.—(Delayed.)—"Momentous innovation" is the phrase applied by the Daily Chronicle to Mr. Wilson's Italian manifesto. Apparently the editor is not quite sure whether he likes it or not. He does hope that it will not cause an "irreparable break" at Paris. The Daily Mail and the Morning Post take refuge for the moment in silence. The Daily Mail appeals to the British nation to close its ranks in "blind" support of Prime Minister Lloyd George whatever happens, for "He is England."

Doubtless those editors who stogan has been "too much Wilson" will attack the president's latest performance with their wonted vigor, but my inquiries indicate that progressive thought of all shades will subscribe to the argument addressed Italy and will not lay too much stress on its departure from accepted ideas of diplomatic procedure. From an American lately in touch with Mr. Wilson's colleagues in Paris I have this statement:

"President Wilson did what he intended to do all along if necessary. When a deadlock came and he saw that it threatened to ruin the League of Nations he acted on his characteristic rule of appealing to the people over the heads of the politicians. He knew that an uproar would probably proceed from the ancient diplomatic quarters. He expected to be reminded that diplomats had been given their passports for attempting to influence domestic opinion against the government. But he felt that any risk would be justified in an attempt to smash the old system of international policy, sweep away the debris and build a world order guaranteeing peace. I think he is doubtful as to the immediate effect of his act on Italian public opinion, but is hopeful that the ultimate effect will be the maintenance of the 14 points."

CONTINUED DELAYS IN OCEAN FLIGHT LEADS HOPE TO U. S. FLYERS

Americans See Chance to Be in at Start of Race if Present Weather Continues.

By E. Percy Noel. Special Cable to The Journal and The Chicago Daily News.

St. Johns, N. F., April 30.—After seeing the transatlantic airplane expeditions kept ashore for 10 days by ocean meteorological conditions and remembering that the records show that these conditions are habitually unfavorable to airplanes in the month of May, one feels that the United States naval air service flying boats have an excellent chance to be among the first starters. Weather students and experts predict that unless the Sopwith and Martinsyde start within the next few days, they will not be able to do so for another 30 days. If this occurs, there will be a notable gathering of aircraft in New Foundland next month waiting for the starting gun of the weather officers.

The next machine due on the island is the Handley Page supergiant, a modification of the type built to bomb Berlin. It is not expected here until the second week in May. An aerodrome is being built for it at Harbor Grace, Coception bay, to which point the cases can be shipped by rail. The British air force flying boat expedition is due a little later. It will proceed to Iroquois harbor, about 60 miles south of St. Johns in the latter part of May or any time before when Commander John C. Towers finds the coastal weather favorable.

The United States naval air service Curtiss flying boats NC-2 and NC-3 or 4 will set out from Rockaway beach for their New Foundland base at Trampsey on Trepassy bay. This is the southernmost bay of the Avalon peninsula, and the terminus of the east coast branch of the New Foundland railway. It is 90 miles from St. Johns.
