

ATTACK ON WILSON BY FOREIGNER HAS AROUSED FRIENDS

Mrs. James Christensen, Prominent Texas Club Woman Now of Portland, Answers Critics.

PLENTY OF ROOM OUTSIDE

No Place in This Country for Those Who Are Dissatisfied With American Government.

Much incensed over what she declares is an unseemly and untimely attack on President Wilson from one who should not be so deeply concerned with American politics as seems Dr. Arthur Watwyn Evans, nephew of the English premier. Mrs. James Christensen, prominent Texas club woman, who is making her home in Portland, scores Dr. Evans in a statement to The Journal.

"I have read many criticisms of Mr. Wilson from all sorts of people, disgruntled politicians, all-wise senators, camouflaged Americans, and even Bolshevik agitators, and have tried to possess my soul in patience," said Mrs. Christensen, "but when it comes to an educated Englishman having the effrontery to publicly disparage the efforts of Mr. Wilson and his great work for humanity over there patience ceases to be a virtue."

"I wonder who gave Dr. Evans the right to voice the opinion of the American people? I am not the nephew of any prominent man, only an American mother who gladly gave her only son to the service of his country, but I feel that perhaps my opinion might be worth as much as any young Englishman's opinion."

"I deny most emphatically the assertion that the American people as a whole are not standing by the president, and I have no reason to believe that he has lost the support of either England or France. If Mr. Wilson were the selfish individual that Dr. Evans describes, he would not at this time be on the other side facing the most gigantic task ever undertaken by any mortal man; trying to bring order out of chaos, making a supreme effort to establish the permanent peace of the entire world."

"The League of Nations as conceived by Mr. Wilson may be only a straw, as Dr. Evans claims, but the fiber from which it was constructed is so firm and resilient that it will stand up to the world's effort to uphold the peace of the world."

"Mr. Wilson has never professed perfection, but why go about discussing his mistakes at this critical moment? What shall be said of those who not only refuse to help, but insist on getting in the way and trying to hinder?"

"The great menace to the safety and peace of the world is the spirit of greed and selfishness, showing itself in every part of the globe. Our own country could not expect to entirely escape its sinister influence. There is just one remedy, and that is for every citizen of the United States to become so thoroughly Americanized that adverse criticism of our government will not be tolerated, either in public or private places. The war may be ended in a way, but the influence that brought it about is still working over time. There is no room in this country for those who are dissatisfied with this form of government, but the world is a big place and there is plenty of room on the outside for people who are looking for trouble."

Australia Prepares To Build Up Trade With Pacific Coast

"Australian firms are going to make a campaign for the establishment of commercial relations with the Pacific coast in a few months," said Albert Goldie, commercial representative from Sydney, Australia, who spoke at the Portland Chamber of Commerce at the members' forum Monday noon.

"Wars shifted the commerce of the world first from the Persian gulf to the Mediterranean and then to the Atlantic ocean and now the greatest war of all has shifted the trade of the world to the Pacific ocean," continued Mr. Goldie, "and now is the time for the countries on either side of the Pacific to capitalize on this circumstance."

"Wool is our greatest export and Oregon is best suited to take this raw material and use it in their plants," Mr. Goldie said that he had commissions from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and other parts of the Pacific coast and urged that Portland get ready to take part in this trade.
