PRESS CLUB RENDERS SERVICE TO ITS OUT OF TOWN MEMBERS

Manager Arranges Hotel Accommodations; Reserves Theatre Tickets on Request.

When "Bob" Smith, state manager of the Liberty loan committee, "passed the buck" to the club manager of the Portland Press club a week or so ago, he had no idea that he was about to launch the club upon a settled and definite program of "friendly service" for the convenience and benefit of its out of town members. But he did, and those of the membership who have had occasion to avail themselves of the friendly service are glad that Mr. Smith passed the buck.

The Liberty loan manager was flitting through an Eastern Oregon town when he met a friend in an awful stew. The friend had suddenly been called to San Francisco on business and was compelled to leave Portland the following night to connect with his California engagements. Before he could transact his California business it was necessary for him to meet and confer with four different Portland business men, which he swore was impossible in the time he had between trains in Portland.

"I can fix it," Bob said, and then he called up the manager of the Press club, gave him the time the Eastern Oregonian would reach Portland, the men he wanted to meet and the time he had to take his train for San Francisco, and told him to fix things up. The club manager got in touch with the Portland business men, arranged a definite schedule of interviews, reserved a berth on the San Francisco train, and still had sufficient time left for the Eastern Oregonian to eat a good dinner and go to the movies before his train left.

From that incident as a hunch the board of managers of the Press club has put its friendly service program into operation. Now if out of town members want to go to the theatre on a certain night the club manager will reserve their tickets for them. If you want business engagements arranged the manager does that, too. If you want hotel accommodations secured, that is attended to for them. If they want any "friendly service" performed the agency of the club can accomplish it get it for the asking.

Feeling that it can give a needed service combined with the conveniences and privileges of a home club in Portland, in which out of town men may spend their unoccupied time, meet their friends or entertain them, the board of managers is extending to the prominent men of the state in public and private business life invitations to join the club as out of town members. These invitations are being so generally accepted that the club is planning to stage one of its old time "gridiron" dinners during the Rose Festival, at which the new out of town members will be given the "once over" and welcomed into the organization with appropriate ceremonies.

Members of Coast Artillery Will Meet Wednesday Evening

The C. A. C. club of Portland will hold its monthly meeting in room 520 court-house, Wednesday evening. The purpose of the Veterans' league, which is holding a convention in St. Louis this week, will be explained at this meeting and other matters of importance will be discussed.

The C. A. C. club recently held a dance at Irvington club house and it is planned to give many such events during the summer and fall. All former coast artillery men who served in the German war are eligible for membership in the club and are invited to be present at the meeting Wednesday evening.

I. W. W. Holds Picnic At Canemah Park

Oregon City, May 6.—Seven hundred I. W. W. held a picnic at Canemah park Sunday. Bedecked with flags, the visitors sang I. W. W. songs and distributed their literature before their return to Portland Sunday evening. They arrived in Oregon City on seven P. H., L. & P. company cars.

Clemenceau Thinks Peace Treaty Is O. K.

Paris, May 6.—(I. N. S.)—"I did my best; I believe it is a good treaty," Premier Clemenceau declared Monday, following the consideration of the terms by the cabinet. The premier presided at the cabinet meeting.

The average uniform ration for the 7,600,000 inhabitants of the occupied areas of Germany will be 930 grams a day for each person, an increase of 80 grams a day.
