

STIRRING APPEALS MADE AT DINNER PRECEDING DRIVE

Altruism Dominant Note at Session of Workers Seeking to Raise $100,000 for Home.

NEED FOR INSTITUTION TOLD

Solicitors Coached on Ways and Means of Inducing Opening of Pocketbooks for Their Cause.

Altruism was the dominant note of addresses given at dinner marking the opening of the Jeanne d'Arc drive for $100,000, which was held Monday evening at the Hotel Portland...

PLEA FOR GIRLS MADE

"We are met here tonight to consider the welfare and happiness of young women who are not as well provided with the world's goods as we are, girls who early in life have been thrown on their own resources..."

Archbishop Alexander Christie made an impressive appeal, saying: "Our petition is for living monuments to the living by the living. What better use can your money be put to than that higher and holier cause can you dedicate your means than by taking a substantial part in this great constructive service of helping the girls of Portland who are the industrial and commercial world..."

"For the girls whom the Jeanne d'Arc is to house are not unfortunate or erring girls, they are girls of good character, who are earning their way in the industrial and commercial world. They are the future wives and mothers. Can we do better than help them in their struggles?"

I. N. Day, chairman of the flying squadron, paid a beautiful tribute to the influence of a home and a mother and referred to the proposed institution as the best thing the people of Portland can offer to the thousands of girls within her gates with such influences. He declared that there is no secrecy and no magic to be employed in securing the funds for this new home, but that untiring industry on the part of all solicitors is the only thing that will make for success.

SOLICITORS WARNED TO PREPARE

Charles F. Berg warned the solicitors against aiming too low and urged them to always get all possible information on their prospects before approaching them, so as to be able to meet all arguments and present their case in a convincing manner. Mayor George L. Baker assured the officers of his hearty endorsement of the movement.

FEELS LIKE A DIFFERENT MAN

Rev. George Thompson, pastor of the Church of the Madeline, was toastmaster. Before he introduced the first speaker, he outlined the general purpose of the new institution pointing out the great need for it, inasmuch as in Portland there are more than 5000 girls without homes, and at present there are accommodations for but 100. At the larger of the two there is now a waiting list of 150, showing that not only need such a residence hall, but that they actually want it.

FLYING SQUADRON PERSONNEL

One of the outstanding features of the drive organization is the flying squadron, which includes 40 representative citizens as follows: Chairman, I. N. Day; vice-chairman, D. J. Finn; J. C. English, O. E. Overbeck, Ben Selling, T. H. Edwards, James P. Cook, F. J. Longman, Charles F. Berg, A. C. Cammack, Frank E. Dooley, Herman Metzger, John F. Daly, Max S. Hirsch, M. F. Brady, A. J. Finley, Phil Metcalf, Jr., John H. Burgard, M. J. Chishessy, Patrick Bacon, David M. Dunne, C. A. Campbell, John B. Coffey, Ambrose M. Cronin, John E. Cronin, Joseph M. Healy, John P. McEntee, Daniel J. Misher, Arthur A. Murphy, W. T. O'Brien, Theodore Senn, Plowden Stott, Dom J. Zan, R. A. Stewart, Ira F. Powers, J. O. Elrod, E. L. Mayer, Richard W. Childs, A. R. Porter, John B. Hibberd.

Seated at the head table were: Archbishop Christie, Judge J. P. Kavanaugh, Rev. Edwin V. O'Hara, Rev. George Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Boyce, Mrs. F. L. Benedict, Mrs. J. C. Costello, Mrs. Patrick Bacon, Mrs. J. P. O'Brien, Charles F. Berg, I. N. Day and John N. Casey.

Tanlac Restores Him to Health After He Suffered Eight Years.

"It just looks like I can't get enough of this Tanlac," commenced talking this Tanlac, and it is the only medicine I have taken in ten years that has given me any relief from my suffering," said Joe Levy, who lives at 807 Kerney street, North Portland, the other day. "I have had very poor health for the past ten years," continued Mr. Levy, "but my condition grew very much worse during the past year. My appetite got so poor that I had gotten to the point where I finally ever wanted to eat anything, and my stomach was in such awful condition that what little I did manage to eat would cause me to suffer like blazes afterwards. My food always soured after meals and I would be badly bloated up with gas for two or three hours after meals. Sometimes I would be badly nauseated and would have dizzy spells soon after eating anything. My kidneys were in bad order all the time, too, and I just simply can't describe the awful pains I would have in the small of my back, and this trouble finally got so bad that I seldom ever got a good night's sleep, also suffered a lot from constipation and had to be taking a laxative of some kind every day. With all these troubles pulling me down all the time, I finally got so weak and run-down that I was hardly able to work and I just seemed to lose all my energy and felt tired and worn out from morning till night. "Well, I just kept on taking medicine and, instead of getting rid of my troubles, they gradually got worse all the time until I commenced taking Tanlac. When I had finished my first bottle of Tanlac I was convinced that I had struck the right medicine at last, and when I had finished by second bottle I felt like a different man in every way. I have taken five bottles of Tanlac, and can truthfully say that I was never in better health in my life and I just feel good all the time. I have a ravenous appetite and am not satisfied with three big hearty meals a day, but I have to eat something between meals. The best part of it is, I can eat anything I want and my stomach is in such fine condition that I never have the slightest sign of indigestion, and I am never bothered with gas or flatulence after meals and bloating me up. I don't have those dizzy spells any more and have gotten completely rid of constipation and, in fact, Tanlac has simply overcome all my troubles and I am as well and hearty as I ever was. To my mind, Tanlac is the greatest medicine on earth. Tanlac is sold in Portland by the Owl Drug Co.—Adv."

SAYS GERMANS HAVE SHORT MEAT SURPLUS

Sergeant George H. Hendee

Eugene, May 20.—How the Germans held out during the last periods of the war is a mystery, declares Sergeant H. Hendee, Lane county soldier now with the A. E. F. in Germany. Even now the people have only the bare necessities, Sergeant Hendee writes, the chief food being vegetables with little meat or fat in evidence. It is even worse in the interior, he says. Sergeant Hendee enlisted in July of 1916, going over on the second transport to leave the United States. He saw service at Chateau-Thierry and St. Mihiel and spent some time in the hospital suffering from gas burns. He is now at Bendorf, Germany.

Dairy Council to Select Additional Directors Monday

The proposal to enlarge the board of directors of the Oregon Dairy Council from 15 to 17 members, the other two to represent the producer-distributors, was postponed at the Monday meeting of the council held at the Hotel Portland. Work of the Portland-Damascus and Alma D. Kats of the Oregon Dairymen's league had been mentioned as candidates.

The dairymen expressed their willingness to subscribe to an advertising fund, and the suggestion was made that the council match dollar for dollar the amount furnished by the dairymen. William M. Ladd, W. K. Newell, Mrs. Sadie Orr-Dunbar, E. L. Sabin, Dr. D. W. Mack and J. E. Dunne were among the speakers.

British Officials Pass Through

A. James Ball, controller of purchases for the British lumber administration, and Montague Meyer, Canadian purchasing agent for the British government, passed through Portland Monday evening en route to California after inspecting lumber conditions in British Columbia.

Should Mrs. Vernon Castle Have Waited a Little Longer?

This is being discussed in English and American society—among the stage folk and aviation camps. Does her marriage after barely a year pay the highest compliment to her dead hero husband? Those who knew Vernon Castle best claim he would be the first to say, "Smash every old convention, Sweetheart, and be happy for my sake." Read of her latest romance in The Sunday Journal magazine.

Do Apes Make "Monkey-Chain" Bridges?

Professor Gudger explains how travelers and school books for three hundred years have told of the way how monkeys crossed alligator infested streams. Science has yet to prove this theory correct.—The facts in The Sunday Journal Magazine.

On the page devoted to health, beauty and the home are appetizing menus for the week. Also hints that busy housewives will find useful. "Lucile"—Lady Duff Gordon has a description of clever country club gowns. Lena Cavaleri, the most famous living beauty, discusses the perfect mouth. Mrs. Christine Frederick writes about strawberries. Mary Lee Swann gives tested biscuit recipes.

Accident Ends Girl's Hopes Show to Go on Without Her

Little Bessie Harvey, the prima donna of the Al G. Barnes circus, who fell beneath the wheels of the big circus van Monday at the beginning of the parade, lies at Good Samaritan hospital this morning minus the fingers on her left hand. Poor little Bessie will not appear with the circus again this year and her big, good looking husband, Charles Barry, who works with the lions in the big steel cage, will have to go on without her.

paper. It is reported that the big oil prospect well is down 1100 feet and the promoters of the trial bore are convinced that they will strike the oil strata soon. Wheeler, Tillamook county, in the center of the Nehalem Bay district, reports that in the Nehalem watershed there are 24,000,000 feet of yellow fir spruce, cedar and hemlock available for mill operation and sends word that present wood working mills are profiting well now and that others could be advantageously located now. "Our most pressing needs at present are a first class hotel and a live young lawyer," is the word that Dayton, Yamhill county, sends to the state organization. They are able to accommodate more manufacturing concerns, but desire this kind of aid first. Interesting reports are coming from all districts being covered by the survey. Almost all of the reports are in and work of compiling the assets, and needs of each district will be started soon.
