ELEVATOR FACTS ARE TO BE AIRED

Large Attendance Expected Friday Noon at Chamber of Commerce Rooms.

A crowded audience of attentive business men has been predicted for Friday noon at the Chamber of Commerce when adverse critics of the Portland dock commission will be given a hearing.

A. Cohn, chairman of a special committee on investigation of the substandard elevator at the St. Johns terminal, is expected to speak, but the chief presentation will be made by Frank E. Kierman, Charles F. Berg, chairman of the members forum, will present.

Adverse critics of the dock commission assert that the chief reason for the substandard of the 1,000,000 bushel grain elevator at the St. Johns terminal is because the commission did not order adequate testing of the subsoil of the site.

The dock commission this morning decided to postpone the continuation of the forum meeting arranged by the Chamber of Commerce for Friday noon, the position of the commissioners being that they had received no invitation to attend.

Incidents Has Stopped. The commission took more radical measures in respect to the grain elevator, G. W. Boschke, one of the advisory members appointed by the commission, pledged his professional standing that subsidence of the ponderous structure has stopped, that the driving of "pinch piles" at the northeast corner has been successful and that no reason remains for not immediately completing the storage annex or grain bins.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., May 22.—"We swore when we heard that the war department had routed us through Sioux Falls for a parade and celebration, but certainly have changed our minds now."

This was the general sentiment expressed Wednesday evening by the members of two batteries of the 147th field artillery, who come from Oregon and who were royally banqueted and entertained here during the day, in company with other service men of South Dakota.

Approximately 75,000 people were in Sioux Falls from all over the state to help welcome the homecoming of the 147th and honor all service men. The feature of the day was a mammoth parade, in which 3500 soldiers, sailors and marines took part.

The 147th field artillery, including the Oregon batteries, left last night for Camp Dodge, Iowa, where they will be demobilized on Friday. Captain A. C. Dorrier is in charge of one battery and Captain C. E. Gay in charge of the other.

SHIPPING PROBLEMS OUTLINED

Chairman Hurley Makes Address Before Convention of Business Men at the National Capital.

Improved Mail and Wireless Service Vital to Growth of the Merchant Marine, Statement.

Washington, May 22.—(U. P.)—The new American merchant marine must fill three great national needs in addition to its primary function of carrying freight, Chairman Hurley of the shipping board today told delegates to a three-day shipping conference here.

The needs as outlined by Hurley are: Establishment of an American ocean mail service capable of covering the world. EXTEND WIRELESS SERVICE. A centrally controlled wireless telegraph service to promote safety of life and commerce at sea and to give American business and shipping the advantage of constant commercial communication.

Maintenance of a training school for officers so that American ships will always be in charge of Americans. Hurley declared that if the government ships were sold to private parties equitable distribution should be made so that all sections of the country would have their quota of ships.

WITNESS DIVIDE BUSINESS. "The ports of Wilmington, Savannah, Charleston, Brunswick, Jacksonville, Mobile, Pensacola, New Orleans, Galveston, Port Arthur, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, Ore., and Seattle have developed wonderfully during the past few years in the production of products for export and arrangements must be made whereby each section of the country will have every opportunity to establish through steamship lines in connection with its railroads so that every community may receive first class service."

Fifty per cent of our commerce should be carried in American bottoms and fifty in foreign, so that none of our ships will have to return in ballast, Hurley said.

SENATE OPONENTS READY FOR BATTLE. Sherman Will Demand Separation of League of Nations From Peace Treaty.

By J. Bart Campbell. Washington, May 22.—(I. N. S.)—Those Republican and Democratic senators who declare themselves to be unalterably opposed to the entry of the United States in the proposed League of Nations are not going to be deterred by the return of President Wilson from the peace conference before renewing their opposition on the senate floor to the ratification of the modified league covenant as inextricably interwoven with the peace treaty.

This was made plain this afternoon when Senator Reed (Democrat, Missouri) and Senators Johnson of California and Sherman of Illinois, Republicans, who are uncompromising anti-league, announced that they proposed to inaugurate a bitter attack in the senate tomorrow on the league plan.

SHERMAN OPENS ATTACK. Senator Sherman will seek to open the fight by introducing a resolution providing for the separation of the amended league covenant from the peace treaty so that it can be considered by the senate after that body has disposed of other provisions of the treaty. Senator Sherman's proposed resolution was intended as an opening wedge for the beginning of debate on the league which his opponents planned to have continued until after the president appeared before the senate, possibly about the middle of June, to explain the complete official text of the treaty, it was stated.

Senator Borah of Idaho, another bitter opponent of the league, expressed an anxiety that the senate should further delay in the "frost and fullest discussion" in the senate. While Borah was not prepared to deliver an address tomorrow, he said he would participate in any debate on it that is opened up as regarded as foregone.

BITTER DEBATE EXPECTED. Senator Hitchcock (D., Neb.), retiring chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, and other Democratic senators who are preparing strongly to support the president in his desire to have the senate ratify the treaty, with the league covenant as soon after his return as possible, today renewed their prediction that league opponents, especially Republican senators, would not have a sufficient majority in the senate by which to separate the league covenant from the treaty.

While Senator Hitchcock and his Democratic colleagues hoped to head off the league law.
